How to Make a Big Income From a Small Investment.

This booklet is published in the interest of not only the professional and semi-professional public exhibitor but also for the man who is ambitious and anxious to get on in the world, who desires to be independent, to throw off the day laborer's shackles, make a financial standing for himself, a position among business men and to earn a little of being a self-made man.

Our establishment is well known to the professional and semi-professional classes, and our entertainment outfits in part or in whole are in the possession of most of the more successful exhibitors throughout the United States and foreign lands.

To the young man who is just finishing school, and more especially to those whose responsibilities by duty to parent or home compels him to leave school; to the young man or the middle-aged man who is toiling on the farm, working on the railroad, in the factory, shop or office; to the clerk behind the counter or to the country school teacher; to the great mass of bright, active, enterprising, ambitious deserving and would-be wealthy and prominent men of the land, but who by force of circumstances can scarcely see a ray of hope or a chance of bettering their circumstances, a chance for earning more than two to five dollars per day, we address you with the greatest profit paying proposition, the firmest bottom round and surest immediate money-making and the most certain future-promising proposition ever known.

Thousands of men are looking for business opportunities, looking for an opening, a possible chance where they can through their own efforts acquire a fortune, but unfortunately there are so many unprincipled individuals and con-men who for personal gain would misguide the aspiring young man. The papers are full of offers of glowing opportunities to become rich. We see many advertisements offering to employ men at big salaries, offering to send them large outfits with which to do business, etc., and many a man has answered these advertisements and has sent his money only to be disappointed. Hence, we are not at all surprised that young men, middle-aged men, elderly men and fathers and mothers would look with a marked degree of suspicion upon even a "long-life offer" which promises to any man of average intelligence even without educational advantages and with but a small investment and no risk, an income which from the start should not be less than $5.00 per day, and almost certainly with the proper amount of energy and application would bring an income of $5,000.00 per year, and upwards of that amount in years immediately to follow.

Opportunities like this are indeed rare, and we are not surprised that on first thought one whose experience and opportunity for observation has been limited would be suspicious. Indeed, with all of our chances for observation we know of no other opportunity offered by any individual, firm or company in any town, city, or locality where there is a reasonable assurance, without previous experience, of at least $30.00 per week from the start, and a possible $100.00 per day or more as he becomes master of the situation.

It is easy to avoid deception, and if every one would first take the trouble before sending money to thoroughly investigate the party who promises so much for so little, such dishonesty could not exist and people would not be disappointed and become suspicious of every proposition which was placed before them, and thousands of men who are now working for a mere existence would not be afraid to make a change which would place them in a position of competence and independence. The merit of the opportunity which we offer, and so far as we know the only opportunity whereby a man with but little means can successfully start in a business with a promising future, the only opportunity left where a man without previous experience may immediately cease to be a member of the masses and take his position among the classes; the only way whereby any man can immediately place himself in a position of comfort and plenty; the only one easy and quick way to meet the mortgage-holder with his money.

It is our desire if you take up this work you should do it with a feeling of confidence and security, for our success does not depend upon the first sale we make, as the profit on this class of goods is necessarily small by reason of the low prices at which we sell our outfits, consequently it is only the success of the exhibitor, his continued patronage and his influence to start others, which makes it worth our while to so earnestly recommend this line of work.

A well-selected stereopticon or motion picture outfit furnishes a form of amusement that is patronized and enjoyed by all classes, including the very best class of people in the land, and when properly managed, is sure to pay big profits. The Motion Picture and Stereopticon business is divided into three classes as follows: The Traveling Exhibition, the Nickelodeon or Nickel Theatre as it is sometimes called, and Street Advertising.

Most generally the traveling exhibition consists of a combination of motion pictures and stereopticon views that are shown from one to several nights in a place, in theatres, lodge halls, churches, school-houses, vacant stores, or in black motion picture tents which are constructed especially for the purpose. Some exhibitors, who have been able to save several thousand dollars each year, have shown mostly within a radius of fifty to seventy-five miles of their own home, seldom going more than one hundred miles. They go over and over almost the same circuit from year to year with increased patronage for each return of their entertainment.

Others prefer to travel over considerable distances, stopping in each successive town, while some visit only the larger cities and towns, and then there is quite a large class of others that combine the exhibition business with traveling for either health or for pleasure.

Some of the most successful confine their efforts to showing in churches and lodge halls, for which they are usually able to make arrangements on a percentage basis, giving a percentage of the receipts, ranging from twenty-five to forty per cent, for the use of the church or hall. Fraternal Societies and churches, especially the latter, are usually glad to arrange for an entertainment of this kind, as it not only furnishes an enjoyable and high class form of amusement, but is a very important feature in what is even more necessary, viz., the replenishing of the usually depleted treasury. Very often it is possible to give from two to several exhibitions in the same town or city, depending upon the population. The fact is, some exhibitors have worked for many months and even some have shown continuously in some of the larger cities.

Some exhibitors prefer to carry with them a black canvas tent, which is made especially for motion picture exhibitions. It is constructed entirely of black canvas and lined throughout, so as to shut out all outside light. By so doing they have little or no ground rent to pay, hence nearly all is profit.

When it is considered that there are more than 10,000 towns of over 500 inhabitants and more than 200,000 churches in the United States, one begins to get some idea of the endless possibilities, and the vast field there is to cover in this line.

New York City alone has 534 churches, Philadelphia 604, St. Louis 283, Pittsburg 187, Buffalo 151, Minneapolis 126, Nashville 105, Indianapolis 96, Atlanta 81, New Haven 65 and Topeka 50.

In addition to opera houses, churches, and halls in the larger cities and towns, is the farming and mining districts outside of the towns and cities where the people see very little of up-to-date and high-class entertainment. They are always easy of interest, and patronize liberally anything in this line. They also invite and are ready to assist in anything which promises to contribute to their church or social organization in a financial way.

To Estimate the lesser possibilities we will take for example a country school house, church, or hall, which will hold but 150 people, the receipts for admission at only 15 cents each would amount to $22.50, and as the expenses would be very light a conservative estimate after allowing for the use of the hall, assistance, board, etc., would be about $15.00 net, and at such an average would amount to 90.00 per week, 360.00 per month and $4,320.00 per year net profit.

The receipts from larger Churches, Halls, and Theatres in small towns of from 500 to a few thousand inhabitants, which would come three or more exhibitions may be given in the same town, thus reducing traveling expenses, and as this class of churches and halls have a capacity of 500 to 1,000 or more the receipts may be from $40.00 to $100.00 or more per night.

These Estimates are based on the actual experience of hundreds of customers who have written from time to time and told of what they have done and from this we believe it reasonable to figure that any one with a little ambition and energy who will secure one of these outfits and follow our instructions, should be able to make clear of expenses from $1,500.00 to $5,000.00 per year.

Among the best known successes in this line of work is that of John L. Stoddard, who gained a wide reputation about 1880. At that time motion pictures were not known. He showed a series of well-chosen stereoscopic sets, and gave memorized descriptions of the same. He visited only the larger cities. In Chicago he showed for many years at the Central Music Hall, which stood on the present site of the new Marshall Field retail building. The little Theatre seated 500 people, and he was usually favored with a crowded house for each of his entire series of lectures. He continued in the work until 1885, after which he retired with a fortune of nearly $100,000.

About 1892 Mr. Burton Holmes, having accumulated a large number of views of different parts of the world while traveling for his health, decided to take up the stereoscopic exhibition work, and began by exhibiting over practically the same circuit as that shown to by Mr. Stoddard. About 1896 motion pictures were introduced for the first time, and Mr. Holmes wisely added this valuable feature to his stereoscopic exhibitions. Mr. Holmes enjoys the distinction of having shown his entire series of five sets of views covering five successful weeks at the Auditorium Theatre Building to 3,500 people every evening, nearly every entertainment being repeated from two to three times.

The appreciation shown by the public and the excellent merits of Mr. Holmes' series of entertainments has been amply endorsed by flattering "press comments" from all of the big newspapers of Chicago, New York and the other great cities of the country. Mr. Holmes' "Travelogue" as he calls them, have also become very popular during the past two years in England.

Mr. Eldemundorf has been for several years very popular in this line of work in and around New York, but last year he made his first appearance in Chicago and was favored with full houses for his entire series of five entertainments and the repetitions of the same.

The Outfit for The Traveling Exhibitor should consist of a combination of stereoscopic and motion picture views, together with a suitable apparatus for illumination. A good selection of both stereoscopic and motion picture views is imperative and should cover some subjects in which the public generally will be interested. The outfit should also include advertising posters, admission tickets, and a small printing outfit for filling in dates, name of subject of exhibition, etc. The "Instruction Book and Business Guide" also is a very important item, that is included with every one of our complete outfits.

Owing to the superior merit of motion pictures, some prospective exhibitors get the impression that the exhibition should consist of nothing else. Such a view is a mistaken impression, unless it should be the intention of operating a Nickelodeon or Five Cent Theatre in a tent or store room, giving thirty minute shows at intervals throughout the afternoon and evening, but in this case, it would not come under the heading of "Traveling Exhibitor's Outfit."

The traveling exhibitors who have been most successful in giving exhibitions in theatres, churches, lodge halls, etc., give a full evening's entertainment, covering a period of about an hour and a half, the principal part of which consists of stereoscopic views, which are interspersed throughout with a good selection of motion picture views. The only way to show views where the beauty of the scenery, etc. is the important feature, is with the stereoscopic, while on the other hand, where there is much action in the scene, the use of the motion picture is almost imperative. The stereoscopic views are restful to the eyes, while the motion pictures are somewhat tiring, hence an exhibition covering a period of an hour and a half and consisting of only motion pictures would become tiresome, while a mixed entertainment would be thoroughly enjoyed all the way through. This fact is amply evidenced by the practice of the acknowledged leaders in this line.

Many traveling exhibitors use illustrated songs in combination with stereoscopic song views and motion pictures. The songs may be sung by someone connected with the exhibition, by local talent or by a talking machine.

The Illumination best adapted to the requirements of the traveling exhibitor is by all means the calcium light. Electricity is a little stronger than calcium light and may be used to advantage where connections may be had, but the calcium light is more mellow, lacks the dazzling whiteness of electricity, gives a more natural appearance to the pictures, and may be depended upon under all conditions, and the Enterprise Portable Gas Outfit will be found to be the most satisfactory means of supplying the gases. The Sun Rival, Gasoline Vapor, Vapor Search Light and Acetylene are also extensively used by traveling exhibitors, but usually where only stereoscopic views are shown.

The Street Advertising Outfit is somewhat similar to that required for the Nickelodeon, but must be provided as a rule with longer range lenses as the views are usually projected across the street. Electric light is preferable for street advertising work, owing to the intensity of the illumination required; but where it is not practicable to get connections, the next choice would be the calcium light. The cost for electric light covering a period of only two or three hours will not, as a rule, exceed twenty-five cents.

The street advertising outfit should consist of a stereopticon, arc lamp, rheostat, wire, etc., a good quality long range objective lens, screen, a selection of advertising lantern slides, a few miscellaneous scenic and comic lantern slides, and a few well chosen motion picture views, while not imperative, will add very much to the value of the exhibition, and will bring better returns from the advertisers.

Advertisers are ready and glad to patronize the best means of getting their business card before the public, and this method is, we believe, as evidenced by experience, not surpassed by any, and good as it is, it has been worked comparatively little.

Arrangements can be made with from twenty to thirty merchants at a time to show their advertisements from four to six times during an evening (either single slides or a series). Advertising slides should be interspersed with a selection from our regular comic list, scenic views, etc., to keep up the interest, and an occasional motion picture view will add much to the value, but is not imperative. While the advertisements of the first set of merchants are being shown, arrangements may be made for another set, and so on.

The name and address of the advertiser may be written or printed on the outside of the slide with a pen and India ink. By so doing the name and address may be erased and the slides used again for some other thing, suitable for representing almost any kind of business.

For further particulars and estimates on outfits, see "Complete Outfits" listed in the back part of the book.

Choice of an Illuminant.

There are eight different forms of illumination which are to be considered in the selection of an exhibition outfit. We will name them in the order of their intensity, which is as follows: Electric arc, Calcium Electric, Welsbach Gas, Vapo Search Light, Acetylene, Incandescent Electric, Welsbach Gas, and Kerosene Oil.

The electric arc is the strongest of any of the illuminants and will develop about 1,500 candle power (candle power is measured by comparison of the illuminant in question with the standard sperm candle). Electric arc light by reason of its great strength is a little better for motion pictures, but is not so good for stereopticon views as calcium light. While most theatres, halls, churches, etc., where public exhibitions could be given are wired for electricity, there are some that are not.

Calcium light is, without question, more generally used by the most progressive exhibitors than any other form of illumination for the optical projection work. While for motion picture work there is a little advantage in favor of the electric arc light in that the illuminant is stronger, experts in stereopticon work prefer calcium light on account of its freedom from the dazzling whiteness of the electric arc light, and its being a softer and more mellow light, which gives a more natural appearance to the pictures. When used at its maximum efficiency within about 15 per cent of that given by electric light when used under average conditions.

The Sun Rival Gasoline Vapor Light, and the Vapo Search Light, may be considered in one class, being well adapted for stereopticon work, and have been very large sellers owing both to their portability and cheapness of operation. The cost of operating the Sun Rival is about 1 cent per hour, and of the Vapo Search Light about 5 cents per hour exclusive of mantles. They produce about 275 candle power, and will illuminate a stereopticon view up to ten or twelve feet in diameter. While we do not recommend the Sun Rival for motion picture work, it is sometimes used for such when showing small pictures of six or seven feet in diameter, and where the exhibitor has not able in the start to provide himself with a stronger illuminant. These illuminants are especially well adapted to the requirements of churches, Sunday schools, Secret Societies, Day Schools, etc. They are exceedingly simple and easy to handle, and there are no dirty chemicals of any kind to soil the hands and clothing.

Acetylene is a well-known, convenient and economical illuminant. The outfit is light and portable and is very simple in operation. The cost of operating it is about 15 cents per hour, and it produces about 250 candle power, which is only a little less than that produced by the Sun Rival or Vapo Search Light.

Incandescent Electric Light will produce from 50 to 100 candle power, depending upon the type of bulb used, and is especially suitable to the requirements of secret societies, churches, school houses, Sunday schools, etc., and also for home use.

Welsbach Gas Light produces about 100 candle power, which is a little less than the incandescent electric, and it is suitable for the same purposes.

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

Kerosene Oil light produces about 85 candle power. Many years ago it was used very extensively as an illuminant for stereopticon work, but since the introduction of so many stronger and more convenient forms of illumination, it has been but little used. For a traveling exhibitor, it has the added objection of being difficult to transport without the oil leaking out and saturating everything else that is packed with it.

The Subject to be Illustrated is one of great importance. It is necessary that the exhibitor illustrate something in which the people generally will be interested sufficiently to attend the entertainment after seeing the advertisement.

We Have Departed Radically from a custom established many years ago by dealers in this line, and by many of them still continued, viz., of listing thousands of slides of various subjects, nine-tenths of which would be of little interest to the public. We have confined our attention to only such subjects as will be of greatest interest to the public, and which we know to be of such nature that they will bring success to the exhibitor. There is quite a variety to choose from, and after studying descriptions of each, we would suggest that the prospective exhibitor select a subject which he thinks would harmonize best with his own ideas, and by so doing he can put forth his best efforts. We will be pleased to give further advice on this subject when desired.

Additional information covering details in the selection of the necessities will be found in the introductory headings which precede the different instruments and apparatus.

The Question Has Been Asked,

"Won't the people get tired of Motion Pictures?" The universal answer by those who know the business, is, "The public is learning every day to better appreciate the scope and merit of motion pictures." It seems, the more they patronize them the better they like them." It would be just as reasonable to believe that the public would tire of theatrical performances, or of reading books. One of the most prominent reasons for the continued success of motion pictures is that for amusement the public demands something new all the time. The motion picture show is probably successful to a greater extent than any other class of public amusement in affording variety.

Another reason for the success of the motion picture is because of the exact interpretation of things true to life. Scenes are reproduced with an accuracy that cannot be approached by any kind of stage setting. They are simply true to nature. Another, and very important reason, for the success is because of the low price at which entertainments of this class can be furnished. The expense of running a show of this kind being exceedingly small, the price of admission may be made correspondingly small and yet pay large profits to the promoter of the enterprise. Motion pictures place the most entertaining kind of amusement within reach of the masses, who have hitherto been unable to enjoy recreation in the way of public entertainment.

Some go so far as to say that the time is near at hand when through the medium of motion picture shows, the important events of the day will be depicted with a reality that cannot be approached by our papers and magazines. Such events as the San Francisco Disaster, the Coronation of King Edward, or the result of the races may be viewed with all the reality of the original within a few days after the event has taken place.

No Competition to Fear. While there is competition in this widely scattered and there's room for thousands more. The business has never been crowded probably for the reason that the field is so large and that people are slow to start into it. As a rule, these enterprising men who have been the most successful in this line possess sufficient self-confidence and determination to be willing to undertake without a teacher something which they had not done before.

Our Plan of making up outfits complete with everything required to conduct the business offers a very great advantage to any one that wishes to engage in this line. Only a short time ago when a party wished to engage in this business, he could secure of the dealer nothing but his instruments, lantern slides, films, unable to get anything more than the most meagre instructions for the operation of the instruments. In these matters we have worked a revolution. With great care and diligence we have worked a complete instruction book and business guide, a book that not only tells the dealer how to manage the instruments, but also tells all about how to start the business, how to make arrangements for the use of halls, and same, and how to get the advertising posters, circulars, etc., distributed to secure influence, and services, how to do newspaper advertising, and render much needed assistance to the inexperienced.

One of the Advantages to be gained through purchasing an outfit of us is, every complete outfit includes a quantity of Large Advertising Posters which to duplicate for individual use would alone, in some instances, cost twice the price of the complete exhibition outfit. By producing these posters in quantities, we are able to furnish not only posters sufficient to last for a considerable length of time, but also a quantity of admission tickets and other accessories that are included with the outfit without additional charge.

New Goods and New Catalogue. All of the instruments, apparatus and supplies listed in this catalogue are of the very latest design, a large number of them having made their first appearance on the market with this issue of our catalogue. If the exhibitor is to make the best of his chosen profession, he must be equipped with good instruments and apparatus. While the opportunity for profitable investment in this line is unusual, one who would start in handicapped with instruments of poor quality would undertake to swim a river with a stone tied to his neck. We do not handle second hand goods. While we are aware of the fact that occasionally a bargain may be had, in nine cases out of ten, or possibly original owner for reasons that are amply sufficient to warrant the rejection of them by the prospective purchaser. It is our aim to treat our patrons as we would like to be treated. If we were in their place, to furnish them with the best quality of goods obtainable at the smallest margin of profit. We endeavor to fill all orders with promptness and dispatch, and, as a rule, it is only on such slides or films that are made to order that there need be any delay.

The Business is Easy to Learn.

There is nothing mysterious or complicated about the operation of the instruments. On the contrary they are very easy to learn and any one of average intelligence can, with the assistance of our "Instruction Book," easily and quickly learn to operate them with perfect ease. We have done everything possible to simplify and make more practical our line of instruments and apparatus, and have endeavored to leave nothing undone in the line of printed instructions, which describes in plainest language all about how to operate and care for the instruments. These instructions have been supplemented by numerous diagrams and otherwise made so plain that any one of ordinary intelligence will have no difficulty in successfully following them.

Discounts. While it was at one time customary to issue catalogues with prices advanced for the purpose of giving discounts, that practice has been almost entirely dispensed with except with a few houses where for the purpose of getting more for their goods, they offer discounts believing that the purchaser gets a discount which may not be offered by the other fellow, that he will fail to compare prices and values. The discount is a delusion. The same discount is invariably offered to every applicant for prices, but after the discount is deducted it will be found by comparison that the prices are considerably in advance of ours. It's simply a way of fooling the people.

To us one man's money is as good as another's. We want no excessive profits. We have listed our goods at prices that will net us the smallest percentage of profit on which we can afford to do business.

Our Special Outfits for traveling exhibitors are offered at a little less than individual articles, first, because we can handle a big order proportionately cheaper than we can handle a small one, and, second, because it is to our interest to get people started and, in view of their future patronage, we can afford to sacrifice a little on the same principle that a wholesale house will spend more money to get a customer started than they could afford to continue to spend on the same customer.

A careful comparison of our catalogue and our prices and values with those of other houses, should convince you that our prices are right, that we are offering you greater values than you can get elsewhere, and that you will get fair and just treatment if your orders are placed with us.

To those who expect to start as well as those already engaged in the business, we earnestly solicit an opportunity to convince you that we can handle your orders in a way that will merit your future patronage. We are always willing and glad to answer questions, and whatever else you may wish to know, do not fail to write us.

Yours truly,

The Motion Picture Machine.

One of the greatest and most wonderful of recent achievements is that of producing pictures in motion. By the use of motion pictures it is possible to make a complete photographic record of every motion of any object that is before the camera, and with the aid of the motion picture machine and powerful condensed light, these same motions may be reproduced as many times as desired, the pictures being shown in large size and as natural as life. By this means records of events may be viewed by thousands of people, thus giving them a correct idea of the entire performance as it originally occurred.

To illustrate more clearly, we will describe an incident as it would be shown in a theatre, church or hall. The house is darkened and, as the lens of the motion picture machine is uncovered, there seems to open before the audience a huge window. Through this window they see a rollicking comedy of the Sunny South, full of laughter from start to finish. A typical Southern darkey is describing a section of fried chicken. The play opens with an interior view of a genuine chicken coop, in which over a hundred chickens are seen on their roosts at night. Two chicken thieves creep into the coop and gather in a bagful of the plumpiest fowls. When the theft is discovered, the farmer and his son set an immense bear trap outside of the coop, preparatory to another visit by the thieves. Next scene shown is a chicken dinner in a typical darkey cabin, faithful in every detail to Southern mannerism. The chicken thieves go back after another load, and the bear trap gets in its work. The succeeding scenes are fitted to give the effect of moonlight. There is a wild pursuit through the woods and country roads by a posse of farmers, and one of the chicken thieves is brought down by a charge of shot. The other with the bear trap still on his leg, arrives at his cabin while a dance is in progress and is concealed in the attic. The farmer bursts in and search the place, and are about to leave when there is a terrific crash, and the chicken thief comes down through the ceiling amidst a shower of lath and plaster head first, hanging by one leg fastened in the bear trap which is caught to the rafters.

The picture described above is entitled "The Chicken Thief," which will be found in our regular list of motion picture films.

The optical principle of the motion picture machine is the same as that of the stereopticon, only that the pictures for the motion picture machine appear on a transparent film, and pass before the lenses in rapid succession.

The film is a long transparent celluloid tape 1 1/2 inches wide, the length of the film being varying with the length of the scene that is being illustrated. On the film is a series of photographs about 3/4 inch, taken at the rate of from fifteen to twenty per second, and to produce the animated movements, the films are moved past the projecting lenses at the same rate of speed, with a fractional stop between each picture. On a film one hundred feet in length there is a series of about 1,500 separate and distinct photographs, each one slightly different from the other. From the beginning to the end of the film all the movements will be recorded that have been exhibited before the camera at the time the picture was taken. For each subject that is to be illustrated, a separate film is necessary.

For the production of motion pictures, the indispensable elements are, a source of illumination, "A," condensing lenses, "B B" for gathering and condensing the light rays, and passing them through the picture on the film "H" to the objective lenses, "E F" of the motion picture machine, where it is magnified and projected on the screen "G," where the pictures are displayed. The machine must be provided with a mechanism for intermittently moving the film so that each successive picture is in its turn appears before the objective lenses, and an automatic shutter to successively cut off the illumination while each picture is being moved to place. What is called "persistence of vision" is depended upon for the blending of one picture with each succeeding one. The motion picture machine must also have a means of framing the picture, by which is meant bringing the picture to a position that will accurately register its margin with the edge of the light opening in the machine.

It must also be provided with satisfactory reeling mechanism for unwinding and winding up the film as it passes through the machine. Objective lenses of the highest standard of quality are an indispensable element to high grade motion picture work. Owing to the small size of the picture on the film, which measures only about 3/4 inch, great magnifying power is required to produce a picture of the required size on the screen, and as the detail of the picture on the film is very small, nothing but a first-class lens will reproduce it accurately. All of this and many other requirements are necessary to the production of a satisfactory motion picture machine.

In the new Model Optigraph No. 4 Model 1907 we have endeavored to provide every possible requirement in the way of adjustments and conveniences that will contribute to the highest grade of motion picture work, and to the comfort and satisfaction of the operator. We invite your most careful investigation of the New Optigraph, as we believe it to be the best motion picture machine to be had, and are pleased to recommend it as the best to all those who are considering this line of work.

The Optigraph No. 3½ Motion Picture Mechanism

The Model No. 3½ Optigraph Motion Picture Mechanism is an improvement for 1906 on the Model No. 3 of which it is safe to say there have been more sold than of all other Motion Picture Machines combined. The improvements for 1906 consist of

1st. A Special Screw Reel Clamp and new type of reel. Its object is to clamp the reel firmly on the reel shaft, and let the belt slip when the reel is taking up the film instead of depending on the reel to slip on the shaft. The new arrangement is much better adapted to the handling of the longer films.

2nd. The Grooves in the reel spindle have been dispensed with.

3rd. Separable Reels in the larger sizes (8 and 10 inch) which enables the operator to get along with one reel instead of having a separate reel for each roll of film.

4th. A Longer Crank Handle, which measures 1½ inches from center of main shaft to center of handle while the handle for the Model No. 3 measured only 1½ inch and the large ball on the No. 3½ measures ¾ inches in diameter where the No. 3 measured only ½ inch.

5th. The Thumb Nut of the lens focusing pinion has diamond knurling same as on the reel thumb nut and instead of the diagonal knurling as on the No. 3.

6th. The Model No. 3½ is stamped on the lower corner of the front plate "MODEL NO. 3½ 1906."

The Optigraph No. 3½ will run the films backwards as well as forwards. This feature not only adds a very novel and amusing feature to the entertainment, but is an economical feature, as it enables the exhibitor to give a longer show with the same amount of films.

The No. 3½ has the limited framing device the same as the No. 3.

For Steady Pictures the Optigraph always has and still leads. The vital parts are constructed with the greatest accuracy and precision and are so arranged as to give the best possible results.

Absence of Noise is a feature of great advantage in the Optigraph over any other machine. There is absolutely no other machine that approaches the Optigraph in this regard, and it is a feature that is very greatly appreciated by the exhibitor of experience.

For Workmanship and Durability the Optigraph is not approached by any other machine. It is made of the finest materials; and throughout is constructed by the highest class of mechanics, and no pains or expense has been spared to make it as nearly perfect as possible.

Its Light Weight, Simplicity and Portability makes it especially adapted to the requirements of the travelling exhibitor who finds it a great advantage to make his outfit as light and compact as possible.

LENSES.

The Size of Picture that can be projected with the Optigraph is unlimited and depends entirely on the distance which the machine is set from the screen.

No. 1 Lens is called a medium angle or focus and will project a picture 10 feet in diameter when set at about 45 feet from the screen.

No. 2 Lens is called the wide angle or short focus, and will project a picture 10 feet in diameter at about 28 feet from the screen.

No. 3 Lens is called the narrow angle or long focus, and will project a picture 10 feet in diameter at about 90 feet from the screen.

Any other sizes of pictures may be projected with any of the above lenses by varying the distance between the machine and the screen.

Lower Rewind Attachment For the "Optigraph" Model No. 3 Motion Picture Machine

This attachment was designed to fill the requirements of those who prefer to have their films wound up as they pass through the machine instead of running them into a bag, box or basket. It is constructed on the same plan as the upper reel, except that it has a feeding sprocket wheel. It also has a sprocket wheel which is to be attached to the shaft of the upper feeding sprocket wheel, and a chain for connecting the two.

This attachment may be attached to any No. 3 and 3 1/2 Improved Optigraph by simply removing the bolt which clamps the Optigraph to the upright post.

machines. With the Optigraph it is not necessary to keep a piano, orchestra or other musical instruments going to cover the noise while showing the motion pictures.

No. 7 The Improved Automatic Take Up Attachment has action, may be quickly attached and detached at will, and has a sub-rials, is light in weight, yet durable and always dependable.

No. 8 A Detachable Spring Actuated Ball Crank Handle forms a part of no machine other than the Optigraph No. 4. By its use there is no danger of burning your film by reason of the handle accidentally coming off and allowing the machine to stop. The handle may be instantly detached for safety during transportation.

No. 9 The Framing Handle may be instantly folded to a place of entire safety without the use of screw driver or thumb screws, a feature which is a very great advantage when packing the machine for transportation. This feature is found in no other machine.

No. 10 The Compound Changeable Speed Rewind Reel Head belongs to the Optigraph and to no other machine. By its use films can be quickly rewound and without fatigue. It has two speeds; a fast speed to be used while the roll of film is small, and a slow speed when the roll becomes large.

No. 11 It Has High Grade Lenses, without which no machine can project good pictures. A high grade lens must have large glasses to prevent loss of light, but large glasses require the greatest care and accuracy of workmanship in order to get a sharp and uniform picture. The lenses of the Optigraph No. 4 give the maximum of illumination with perfect definition. They were designed and are ground and finished by an expert in optical projection lens work. We claim them to be far superior to other so-called high grade lenses.

No. 12 Choice of Lenses Without Extra Cost is an important advantage to be enjoyed by the purchaser of a No. 4 Optigraph. Other makers furnish only lenses of certain focus with machines at prices quoted. Our lens is included with every Optigraph No. 4 and the purchaser may have his choice of either No. 1, 2 or 3.

No. 13 Interchangeable Lens Cells is responsible for a Great Economy in lens purchases. By their use only one lens body is required and that is the best that can be made. Different sizes of pictures may be projected without changing distance between machine and screen by simply changing the cells in the lens. The cells are all marked with numbers to avoid the possibility of mistakes in selection.

No. 14 A Wide Range in size of Pictures may be accomplished by the use of the Optigraph Interchangeable Lens cells, which enables the operator to locate his machine in any part of the hall that is most convenient, and yet project a picture of suitable size. By simply re-another number a picture of a different size may be obtained.

An extension collar is required and is furnished with each complete lens or pair of lens cells (except the 3 inch which requires none) to locate the mounting the proper distance away from the film to bring of pictures that may be projected with the different lenses at given distances and a complete description of the New Optigraph Motion Picture lenses will be found under the heading "Motion Picture Lenses."

No. 15 The New Style Spiral Lens Body with triple bead knurled focusing band is absolutely unapproached for ease and accuracy in finished in a rich yellow Egyptian bronze lacquer. The casing is in lens tube are nickel plated and the cells are finished in black enamel. The different colors are thus combined to bring about the most artistic effect. This new style lens mount is a very marked improvement over the old style "rack and pinion" focus movement, furthermore it is not liable to injury in transportation. This style of lens can be had only with the Optigraph No. 4.

No. 16 Improved Film Pressure Springs make it possible to apply a uniform pressure to the film, to keep it at all points in perfect focus and perform its function in the production of steady pictures that cannot be done with the ordinary springs in general use.

No. 17 The Separable Reels make it unnecessary to carry a reel for each roll of film. The reels may be changed almost instantly, on and off a single reel, thus affording an advantage not alone in the way of economy but in making the outfit lighter and more compact for transportation. The reels are made of strong material and are lightened as much as is practicable by large perforations.

No. 18 Improved Reel Clamps which clamp the reels securely on the reel spindle are a means of imparting positive and steady movement to the film reels and at the same time of preventing them from accidentally tearing the film or of slipping off the spindle.

No. 19 Fire Proof Film Magazines that may be quickly attached to or detached from the reel heads, afford a means of protecting the films from accident in case of neglect on the part of the operator. The film passes through a roller trap which will instantly extinguish a flame.

No. 20 Solid Steel Reel Arms and Solid Brass Reel Heads mean no breakage, hence a great improvement over the brittle, cast iron parts used for the same purpose on other machines.

No. 21 The Reel Heads are Separable from the reel arms by simply turning a thumb set screw, which is considered a great convenience for packing.

No. 22 The Cylindrical Shutter is an Optigraph invention, and being entirely enclosed it is free from accidental breakage, a source of much annoyance to operators who use other machines. This shutter is double acting and is the only type of shutter that gives uniform exposure. It is quick in its action because it opens and closes from both top and bottom at the same time, dispenses with the flicker and makes the pictures delightfully smooth and pleasant to the eye.

No. 23 Two Pressure Rollers for holding the film against the sprocket wheel, insures good contact of the film with the sprocket teeth, hence a positive feed, and no tearing of film by reason of not enough teeth engaging.

No. 24 Adjustable Tension is provided for the pressure roller frames which enables the operator to use any amount of tension on frames necessary.

No. 25 The Eccentric Stops for the pressure roller frames prevent excessive pressure and wear on both the feeding sprockets and vents the film, as well as on other parts of the machine. It may be so adjusted that the rollers will barely touch the film, still the frame will be maintained by a strong tension against the eccentric stop, where it is wanted, either open or shut.

No. 26 The Spring Door Stop protects the film, door, springs, etc., from excessive heating while the machine is in operation.

No. 27 The Heat Arrestor Disc protects the film, door, springs, etc., from excessive heating while the machine is in operation.

No. 28 Absence of Friction on the picture prevents the disagreeable vertical streaks called rain; also the flashing of light spots, both of which are due to pictures coming in contact with the metal parts or rollers of the machine. In the Optigraph every possibility of that nature has been eliminated. In other machines it has not.

No. 29 The Improved "Vise-grip" Sliding Base is distinctly an Optigraph product and there is nothing like it that forms a part of any other machine. It holds the machine as firm and solid as it in a vise, and is one of the means of preventing unsteady pictures that are so disagreeable and tiresome to the eyes.

No. 30 Interchangeable Parts affords a great convenience to the operator for, in case of accidental breakage of any part, a new part may be had from stock to take its place.

No. 31 Simplicity is a very strong point in favor of any machine, for the more simple it is the easier it is to operate; the less liable it is to get out of order, and the easier it is to repair in case it does get out of

No. 37 Workmanship is only one of the many points that are prominently conspicuous to one who knows, and on this point we invite the most careful comparison with other machines. The Optigraph is made in a shop that is thoroughly equipped, not with the ordinary

.... No. 4 Take Up Attachment

For the New Optigraph No. 4,
Model 1907
Motion Picture Machine

This attachment was designed to fill the requirements of those who prefer to have their films rolled up on a reel, as they pass through the machine instead of running them into a bag, box or other receptacle. It is constructed on the same plan as the upper reel, except that it has the feed sprocket on the reel arm instead of being on the body of the machine.

The No. 4 Take Up Attachment has a geared connection with the main part of the machine and is held in place by a bolt and thumb nut which form a part of the device. The geared connection is positive in its action and will not catch or bind as in chain-driven mechanisms. A metal strap attached by a thumb screw to the upper part of the main frame of the Optigraph serves as a rigid support and relieves the bolt of any unnecessary strain.

The attachment may be instantly attached or detached by the manipulation of two thumb screws.

This attachment is intended for use only with the No. 4 Optigraph and cannot be used with the No. 3 1/2 Optigraph.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

The Compound Rewind Reel Head

For the OPTIGRAPH No. 4 Model 1907

The object of this attachment is to furnish a convenient means of rewinding the films after they have been run through the machine. This attachment is patented and possesses two very great advantages over anything ever devised for a similar purpose. First, it has two speeds, one which gives three revolutions of the reel to one of the handle and is used for winding short films and for the first half of long films of 800 to 1,000 feet or more. The other speed gives one revolution of the reel to one of the handle and is used for the last half of the long films.

The second improvement is, that instead of using a short handle as is customary on other rewinds that form a part of a motion picture machine, the main crank handle from the body of the machine is used which prevents fatigue even where the machine is in constant use as in "continuous show" motion picture work.

The handle may be quickly attached and detached by pressing a catch bolt.

Fireproof Magazines.

Another Important Optigraph Improvement for 1907

The object of these magazines is to provide protection to the film while in use in case, through carelessness of the operator, the film should become ignited. The magazines are made of strong sheet metal, are spun to shape, corrugated to give strength, are neat and artistic in both finish and design. Being circular in form, they conform to the shape of the reels, hence there is no waste space, or superfluous weight, and they are much more artistic, also more convenient than if made square.

Each magazine is equipped with a "Trap" consisting of a pair of rollers through which the film passes to and from the machine. As these rollers are held in contact by spring tension, the film cannot burn beyond the point where it passes between them. The cover of the magazine is provided with spring catches to hold it in place.

The magazine is mounted on a metal spider which fits on to the reel head and is held in position by screws. But a few moments are required to attach or detach the magazines from the reel heads. The magazines are interchangeable with both the upper and lower reel heads.

Complete Motion Picture Machine.

Directly adapted to any class of work where the use of lantern views is of secondary consequence, the Optigraph No. 4 is a complete motion picture machine in every way by a backward and forward adjustment of its base board. The base may be easily divided into two parts, each mounted on a separate oak base board. These boards may be joined together by ingenious screw clamps, which makes it as rigid as a solid base.

Complete Machine on Separable Oak Base. Includes: Optigraph No. 4 Mechanism, 3 inch lens, Sliding Base, Enterprise Lantern, extension legs for lantern, one pair condensing lenses, objective lens any focus from 6 to 12 inch inclusive, in 1/4 size mount, and slide carrier. Price $69.00.

Motion Picture Objective Lenses.

The Motion Picture Objective serves the same purpose for the motion picture machine as the stereopticon lens does for the stereopticon, and is constructed after the same general plan, but owing to the fact that the enlargement for motion pictures must be many times greater than for stereopticon pictures, the requirements are proportionately more exacting. The picture of a motion picture film measures a little less than 2 of an inch by 1 inch, while the picture portion of a lantern slide view is a little less than 2 1/2 by 3 inches. From this it will be seen that the magnifying power of the motion picture lens must be three times greater to produce the same size picture on the screen, and it naturally follows that in order to secure satisfactory results the lens must be made with the greatest possible degree of accuracy, in order to secure sharp detail, and depth of focus, both of which are absolutely necessary to the production of good pictures.

In our "Roco Special" Motion Picture Lens we have endeavored to leave nothing undone that would contribute to the best results. The lens has been designed by an expert in this line; one who has devoted himself to this line of work ever since the introduction of the motion pictures. Every stage of the manufacture is conducted by the most thorough mechanics who have had long experience in this line of work, and from the lens glasses to the mountings every piece and part represents the best in both material and workmanship.

In the planning of this new line of Motion Picture lenses, our action has been the same as on our new line of stereopticon lenses; viz., a radical departure from the old system of measurements, and the adoption of a new system that is suited to the requirements and in keeping with the rapid progress in this line of work. Instead of giving them numbers, or names which means nothing, we have designated each lens by its equivalent focus in inches, which means the distance between the motion picture film and a point between the two sets of lens glasses at which the light rays cross, this point being usually a little in front of the dividing line between the two lens cells. The following table gives the approximate size of picture projected by the different lenses at varying distances from the screen, while the figures represent the height of the picture on the screen, while the lower figures represent the width. The figures in the left hand column represent the focal length of the Motion Picture lenses, while the figures in the right hand column represent the focal length of the stereopticon lens best adapted to match the motion picture lenses in the respective horizontal columns:

Our Way of matching Motion Pictures with Stereopticon views is shown in the diagram herewith. The solid line represents the margin of the Motion Picture view, while the dotted line represents the margin of the Stereopticon view. These proportions result in a harmonious and pleasing effect that is entirely absent in any other arrangement. Some dealers and exhibitors match to the sides and disregard the top and bottom. Our table of comparative sizes have been calculated on the proportions shown in the diagram and unless otherwise instructed we will fill orders accordingly.

A Special Feature of the "Roco Special" motion picture lens, and one of very great convenience and economy, is the interchangeable lens cells, by the use of which it is unnecessary to have anything more than one mount. By purchasing additional pairs of lens cells for the various foci, they may be interchanged in the lens mount to produce the sized picture desired. When using lenses of longer focus the lens mount further from the body of the machine, and for this purpose we provide what we call extension collars, each of which is designated by the length of focus of the lens.

For the new "Roco Special" Motion Picture lens we have designed an entirely new mount, in which a knurled ring that encircles the mount, working in spiral grooves, is used for focusing instead of the old-fashioned rack and pinion, which is not only cumbersome and awkward, but constantly exposed to accidents in transportation. The spiral focusing device is in keeping with the progress demanded in this line. It is artistic in design, and provided with the finest adjustment for focusing. The lens barrel and focusing ring are nickel-plated; the lens cells are enameled in black; the lens body is finished in Egyptian bronze lacquer. The combination makes a very pretty and harmonious contrast.

Spun-Cone and Sub-Condenser.

The Spun-Cone is of much value for attaching to the rear of the Optigraph to prevent the side illumination from escaping between the Motion Picture Machine and the Stereopticon. When using electric or calcium light only the cone should be used, but when using Vapor Light both the Cone and Sub-Condenser are necessary, as the Sub-Condenser makes a much flatter field, and and more intense illumination.

Owing to the crossing of the light rays, the position of objects is always reversed, for which reason it is necessary to place the stereopticon view upside down so that it may be projected on the screen right side up.

Dissolving Views constitutes the highest art in the projection of stereoscopic or magic lantern views, and is accomplished by the use of two lamps and two projectors. Usually they are placed side by side, each projecting on its own screen. To accomplish the dissolving effect, the top instrument is first adjusted to project the desired image on its vertical screen, and the dissolving supports by which either a horizontal or vertical adjustment may be secured. To produce the dissolving effect, a slide is placed in the camera of each projector, and the result obtained is that one instrument is gradually dissolving out while the other grows to full brilliancy of the view gradually appearing. The dissolving effect is produced by the change from one to the other producing a gradual change in the intensity of the image. The dissolving effect is usually achieved by changing the light, the dissolving is reversed by changing the illumination. The dissolving effect is usually achieved by changing the light, the dissolving is reversed by changing the illumination. The dissolving effect is usually achieved by changing the light, the dissolving is reversed by changing the illumination.

A triple stereopticon and tinted slides are used for the purpose of accomplishing certain fancy results in the way of changing day scenes to evening or night, and for the showing of certain movable effects. The showing of evening, moonlight or night effects is usually accomplished by having the picture slides made in various tints, and using them in the double stereopticon.

The Value of a Stereopticon depends upon the quality of its lenses and upon its arrangement for convenience in accomplishing various adjustments with ease and speed, and retaining them after they are secured. Our stereopticons are built with a view of affording every modern convenience and of facilitating every adjustment desired with the greatest possible speed and ease, and of contributing in every possible way to the comfort and convenience of the operator.

The Peerless Stereopticon

THE BEST, MOST CONVENIENT and EFFICIENT
MAGIC LANTERN MADE FOR THE MONEY

This instrument has been designed to meet the demand for a low-priced, portable, light and convenient Magic Lantern for illustrating songs and for Church, School, Lodge, Scientific, Home and other work, where the purchaser feels that the purpose will not justify the purchase of a higher priced instrument.

The Peerless Stereopticon

Is strong and well made, has fine quality Condensing and Projection Lenses, rack and pinion for focusing, uses either short, medium, or long focus lenses, has nickel-plated slide rods and tubes, and black bellows, and while it is not so well finished as our Enterprise Lantern, it is well-proportioned, artistic in appearance, does good work, and is much better value than can be had elsewhere for the same or more money.

THE LAMP HOUSE

Is made of planished steel, and is of good size, which permits the use of either the Sun Rival, Acetylene Gas, Calcium or Electric Light. This universal feature is very desirable, as no change is necessary other than a burner if a change of light is desired.

THE PEERLESS STEREOPTICON is so arranged that two or more of them may be used in series, one on top of the other, for dissolving work, and as they are all of the same construction, any one of them may be used for either top or bottom.

When two or more Peerless Stereopticons are ordered at the same time the attachments for connecting them are included without cost, but when ordered one at a time the connections are not included, and cost extra.

A DOUBLE SLIDE CARRIER, Made of polished hard wood, and so arranged as to enable the operator to instantly change and center the views, will be included with each lantern without charge.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

The Enterprise Single Stereopticon

Is Used in our Special Exhibition Outfits and is the ACKNOWLEDGED LEADER IN OPTICAL LANTERNS.

MODEL 1906

Patented in the United States and Canada.

The above view shows the Objective Lens Door closed and in position to show Stereopticon Views.

THE "ENTERPRISE" has all the adjustments required for high class stereopticon work, is equipped with the latest improvements, possesses many important advantages over others, is the most artistic in design, the best finished and absolutely the best Stereopticon on the market, a fact that is amply evidenced by the sales, which we believe are greater than of all other stereopticons combined, and it is sold for less money than other instruments of far less value.

Foremost Among the Advantages to be found in this instrument and in no other, is the "Patented Objective Lens Door," which especially adapts the "Enterprise" lantern to use in combination with a Motion Picture Machine, and is of great additional advantage in that it affords a quick means of attaching or detaching the lens, and for examination of or cleaning the lenses.

system of clamps which insures the perfect working and adjustment of all the parts.

The New Vise Grip Clamps for the telescope tubes and rods are infallible in firmly securing the fixed and movable parts and constitute a valuable and important improvement for 1906. Operators who have experienced the perplexing difficulty of having the fixed parts slip out of place, or the adjustments slack fast when attempting to set up their instruments will appreciate the merit of our new

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

Both of these valuable features are illustrated in the cut on the preceding page which shows a partial view of the side of the Stereopticon. The clamp "A" shown in the rear of the cut shows the method of securing the main frame in place on the telescope tubes. The casting is slotted with a saw and drawn together round the tube by two screws which hold it as firmly as if in a vise and yet it does not in any way cramp or interfere with the easy and perfect working of the rods in the tubes which is the case with lanterns so constructed that the clamping screws press directly against the tubes.

The New Pin Button lens door latch illustrated herewith marks another important 1906 improvement.

The new latch is attached to the frame of the Stereopticon instead of to the door as in the last years model and is the means of furnishing a perfectly rigid and always dependable means of holding the door in a closed position.

When Motion Pictures are to be combined with Stereopticon views, the "Enterprise" will be found invaluable owing to its special adaptation to this class of work. The "Sliding Attachment" or "Sliding Base" for the Motion Picture Machine may be attached at any time by means of screws. By the addition of the Motion Picture Machine in this manner, the change from stereopticon views to motion pictures and vice versa may be made almost instantly.

The Universal Lamp House affords a great advantage to the travelling exhibitor in that it is large and roomy, and any form of illumination may be used by simply changing the burner. It is made of the best grade of planished steel and is well ventilated.

Dissolving Views, which constitute the highest art in Stereopticon Projection work, may be produced with the most perfect results by adding at any time the upper "Enterprise" Stereopticon as listed and further described on the following page.

Objective Lenses of any kind may be used on the "Enterprise" Stereopticon and the bellows are of sufficiently long draw to accommodate date them. Unless otherwise instructed we will furnish lens door with opening to accommodate the largest size lens ordered, in which case adapting or reducing rings as listed on another page will be required for the use of lenses of smaller barrel.

The Eccentric Collar at "B" is attached to the front end of the telescopic tubes and with the thumb screw "A" affords a rigid and dependable means of clamping the telescopic rods in the tubes to maintain the proper bellows extension.

The Condensing Lenses are of the best quality, are 4 1/2 inches in diameter and are mounted in nickel plated telescopic mounts of such construction as insures the maximum of utility and convenience.

Adjustments and Finish. The rough adjustment for focus is accomplished by the extension of the flexible bellows and the telescopic rods sliding within the frame tubes. The slide changer is held in place by two springs and two top adjusting screws which are secured in adjustment by check nuts. All parts are made interchangeable and duplicates may be had at any time. All metal parts except the lamp house are polished and nickel plated and the combination with the dark red bellows and the dark lamp house makes a pretty and harmonious contrast.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.

GENTLEMEN—Have been using your combination moving picture and calcium gas machine for the past year and must say that I am meeting with grand success. By adding to my outfit now and then I am now in a position to give a high class entertainment and find the secret of my success in using my advertising matter liberally. I know of no business where the profits are so large and the returns so quick, as this.

Yours for success,

Dissolving Stereopticon

The Highest Grade...
Stereopticon Made

The Enterprise is especially arranged for convenience in showing dissolving views, which is the highest art in stereopticon exhibition work. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with stereopticon work we will explain that dissolving effects are produced by having two different views, one in each stereopticon, and gradually turning the illumination from one stereopticon to the other, so that while one view gradually fades away, the other grows brighter, until the one picture is not visible on the screen, and the other has developed to full brilliancy. In this manner the screen on which the pictures are shown is never blank, but shows a picture throughout the entire exhibition.

For Carrying Cases, see the Index.
The Enterprise Double Stereopticon is composed of two single stereopticons, the same as described on the preceding page, except that the upper one is made somewhat different so as to be attached to the lower one and is not provided with a swinging objective lens door. The lower stereopticon is adapted for the attachment of the Optigraph Motion Picture Machine which may be added at any time.

Objective Lenses for the Stereopticon.

The Stereopticon Objective is composed of a series of glasses of proper refractive power and curvature, set in a brass tube mounting, and is located on the front of the Lantern or Stereopticon, for the purpose of projecting the picture to the screen by means of the light rays, which have been gathered and concentrated by the condensing lenses.

In principle the Stereopticon Objective is the same as the photographic lens, and the work it does is the same, only that in projection work, the conditions are reversed, the image originating in the stereopticon, and being projected out of it to the screen. The name objective, is derived from "Object Glass," a name applied to photographic lenses many years ago.

In a good stereopticon objective there are several indispensable requirements, namely, sharply defined detail in the pictures, called definition, and depth of focus, the result of which is sometimes called flatness of field. The definition depends—

First, on the correctness of the scientific formula (or plan) of the lenses, that is the relationship of the curves of the several elements of glass one to the other.

Second, the selection of glasses of the proper refractive power.

Third, on the degree of perfection to which the workmen have followed the formula. Fourth, on the perfection of the polishing, and fifth, on the care used in mounting them.

By depth of focus, is meant the arrangement necessary to overcome the tendency on the part of a lens, to focus sharply at a given point, which does not allow sufficient latitude to overcome the spherical plane of focus. A lens which has insufficient depth of focus, will project a picture which may possess sharp detail in the middle, while around the edges it will be indistinct, or vice versa, depending upon the adjustment. A lens with sufficient depth of focus, will project a picture possessing equally good detail both at the edges and the center. To have sufficient depth of focus, a lens must be made after the proper formula, and be well finished.

Stereopticon Objective lenses have always been styled as 4, 5, 6, and 4-4 sizes, and so listed in the catalogues, a practice which has been handed down from an old English application to the focus of photographic lenses, as related to the size of plate they were intended to cover. This application has, however, been very unsatisfactory, owing first, to the fact that they are terms which mean nothing definite as applied to Stereopticon work, and second, to the fact that the various dealers have adopted standards of their own, each of which, even though styled the same, is slightly different from the other, and most of which lack uniformity, even though of the same make.

As a remedy for this unsatisfactory condition, and for the convenience of those who are experienced, as well as those who are inexperienced, we have taken a radical departure from the old methods, and have arranged a series of lenses of uniform length of focus, designated in inches and known as equivalent focus. By equivalent focus is meant, the distance between the point within the lenses at which the light rays cross, and the point at which the stereopticon slide would be located when the lens is in focus. (The point at which the light rays cross is usually a little in front of a dividing line between the front and rear glasses).

We have also arranged for a regular ratio of increase in the length of focus from the short to the long. This feature is of inestimable advantage in matching the relative size of pictures for the Stereopticon and Motion Picture Machine, in which combination they are more generally used in public amusement work.

The object of having lenses of different length of focus, is to enable the operator to locate his instrument at the most convenient part of the hall, and yet project a picture, the size of which is best adapted to his requirements. For example, a 6-inch focus lens will project a 10 foot picture when located at a distance of 20 feet from the screen on which the pictures are to be projected, and a proportionately larger picture at a greater distance from the screen, while a 12 inch focus lens will project a 5-foot picture at 20 feet from the screen or a 10 foot picture at 40 feet from the screen. The size of picture in any case depends upon the relative distance from the instrument to the screen.

Usually the diameters increase in proportion to the length of the focus, the 6-inch focus lenses (called 4 size) being furnished in mounts of 1 1/2 inches in diameter by 3/4 inches long (without hood); the 10 inch focus (called 5 size) in mountings 2 1/2 inches in diameter by 3/4 inches in length; the 12 inch focus (called 6 size) in mountings 3 inches in diameter by 3/4 inches in length; and the 15 inch focus lens (called 4-4 size) in mountings 3 1/2 inches in diameter by 3/4 inches in length. While this diameter by 3/4 inches mount there has been a growing tendency with the ratio is theoretically correct, the diameter of the glass together with the diameter and length of the mounts for greater convenience in interchangeability, portability, economy, and because of the fact that the old practices, while correct from a photographic standpoint, have been found to be more theoretical than practical when applied to projection work. For example, many exhibitors use nothing but the smaller mount 1 1/2 inches in diameter (4 size), for all foci ranging from 4 inches to 12 inches inclusive. While we furnish them in that way, we are inclined to advise against the use of the smaller mounts for anything beyond the 8 or 10 inch focus. While it is our custom to furnish whatever the individual exhibitor prefers, we recommend the use of the 4, 6 and 8 inch focus lenses in 1/2 size mounts, and everything above that may be used with entirely satisfactory results and much greater convenience in the 1/2 size glasses and mounts. The results are not so satisfactory when using lenses above 8 inch focus in the small glasses, owing to loss of light, which is caused both through crowding, and transmission through greater space. This will be especially noticeable when using the weaker forms of illumination. We have made a special endeavor to eradicate all of the unnecessary complications, and to make the selection of lenses as simple and as easy to understand as possible, instead of following the usual practice of custom of enveloping and shrouding the business in mystery, as some do in the belief that there are mercenary advantages to be gained thereby.

The following table shows approximate sizes of pictures projected by each size of Stereopticon Lens at different distances from the screen, and will serve as a guide in the selection of lenses to meet any requirements. The figures in the first column indicate length of focus of Stereopticon Lenses in inches, while the figures in the last column indicate the focus of Motion Picture Lenses to match.

.....DESCRIPTION OF THE.....

Victor Acetylene Gas Apparatus

WHAT ACETYLENE IS.—Acetylene Gas is made from Calcic Carbide, a dark crystalline, semi-metallic substance, which is made from pure inslacked lime and high-grade coke, fused together by being submitted to the intense heat of an electric furnace.

The carbide is made to give off Acetylene Gas by simply immersing the material in water, and each pound of carbide will yield about five cubic feet of gas.

POWER OF ACETYLENE.—Acetylene burns with a small, pure white flame, and photometric tests show that a given area of Acetylene flame has about twelve and one-half times the brilliancy of ordinary gas, and five times the strength of the ordinary incandescent electric lamp, and will illuminate a view, giving good detail up to 12 feet in diameter, and will give a fair picture up to 16 feet.

SAFETY.—Acetylene is as safe to use as ordinary city gas, and is not dangerous except when stored in tanks under high pressure.

SIMPLICITY.—Acetylene is the most simple form of illumination for Stereopticon work, and the Outfit is so easy to operate that a child can handle it successfully and with perfect safety.

compact, makes cooler gas, consequently purer and dryer, burns steady, without noise, has the best form of burner, and is in every way far superior to other apparatus now on the market.

GARANTEE.—We guarantee our Acetylene Outfit to be made of the best material, after the latest approved plans, and to give entire satisfaction and better results than any other Acetylene Apparatus.

FOR CHURCH AND SCHOOL WORK Acetylene is the most convenient and simple method of illuminating Stereopticon Views, and fills a much felt want.

OUR BURNER.—We have arranged a special new form of three jet burner, which has been found to give the best possible results for Stereopticon Projection work. It gives approximately 250 available candle power with complete combustion, is noiseless, and without odor or smoke.

Our New Improved Three-Jet Burner is a great improvement over the old style four-jet burner, owing to the improved form and efficiency of the tips, and their arrangement in steps, which gives a much stronger, and perfectly even illumination.

A special advantage of Acetylene is that it produces less heat than ordinary gas, for which reason the lamp house is not heated to excess and the condensing lenses are better preserved. We furnish four-jet burners when desired without extra charge.

Other advantages. Our outfit is small and compact, makes cooler gas, consequently purer and dryer, burns steady, without noise, has the best form of burner, and is in every way far superior to other apparatus now on the market.

Here's What You Want!

Just What Every Stereopticon and Motion Picture Exhibitor Has

LONGED AND WISHED FOR
SEEMS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE,
BUT IT'S A FACT
That THE ILLUSTRATOR'S IDEAL Has Been Produced.

The "Model B" Enterprise Calcium Light Outfit

THE LATEST VICTORY OF SCIENCE

Makes Its Own Gas, but Requires No Forced Pressure, No Hot Retort, No Furnace, No Hot Water, No Heat of Any Kind. No Gases in Wrong Place. Causes No Disappointments, No Failures, No Delays, No Accidents. No Freight, Express, Cartage, or Excess Baggage Bills. No Disappointments Owing to Delays in Transit, or Illuminating Apparatus Going Astray as when Using Cylinders or Old Style Outfits.

A CHILD CAN USE IT WITH PERFECT SAFETY,
AND ITS WEIGHT IS BUT 35 POUNDS (Including the Case)

It Makes PURE Oxygen Gas (Others only 85 Per Cent). It is Positive. It is Automatic. It Makes Gas as Used. You may Charge It Five Minutes or Twenty Four Hours in Advance. Stop Using Gas, It Stops Making. No Waste of Chemicals, as It May be Charged for any Length of Entertainment Desired. Gives Over 700 Candle Power. Light as strong as from Compressed Gases in Cylinders, and Stronger than Produced by Other Portable Gas Making Outfits.

Calcium Light is produced by burning in combination, the proper proportion of Oxygen and Hydrogen gases, both of which are generated in the Enterprise outfit. The Oxygen Gas is generated from either one of the New Oxygen Chemical Compounds, called "Oxythine" and "Oxone" which are made by recently patented processes, and are put up in sealed tin boxes, weighing about 2½ pounds. These chemicals generate Oxygen Gas when brought into contact with water with which the tanks are partly filled. The Hydrogen Gas is produced by the vaporizing of Sulphuric Ether, or 88 grade refined Gasoline. Calcium Light, (sometimes called Oxy-Hydrogen) is the only all-around satisfactory, and no traveling exhibitor who desires to give a first-class show to large audiences, at good prices, can afford to be without it.

All who have examined the Enterprise agree that it is the only satisfactory outfit for producing Calcium Light, and that its use adds much to both the pleasure and the profit.

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

.....DIRECTIONS.....

Remove the cover from the Oxygen Tank, put a number of cakes of the Oxygen Compound in the holder, replace the cover, attach the stand pipe and upper tank, pour in water, charge the Saturator with a quantity of Ether or 88° grade Gasoline, connect the rubber tubes to the Calcium Jet (burner) and all is ready.

THE SATURATOR for generating hydrogen gas is of a new and improved design having a patented arrangement of saturating compartments, which are filled with a specially prepared absorbent and non-deteriorating material. A very important feature of this Saturator is a Condensing Jacket which serves a double purpose. It takes the moisture from the Oxygen Gas—dry gas being necessary for a steady light—and at the same time conducts the heat from the warm Oxygen Gas to the Ether or Gasoline contained in the Saturator, which stimulates vaporization.

A Screw Cap on the bottom makes it possible, in case the Saturator should become clogged with non-volatile residue, to very quickly and easily change the filling, and give the one that was in use ample exposure and time to dry.

Complete Instructions, that tell all about the operation and care of the outfit, attaching it to the Stereopticon or Magic Lantern, etc., accompanies each outfit.

Dissolving Views, which represent the highest attainment in the art of Stereopticon Projection, as further referred to on another page under the title of Single and Double Enterprise Stereopticons, may be shown with the most perfect results with the Model B Calcium Gas Outfit in combination with a Double Stereopticon, and the regular Low Pressure Dissolving Key as shown in the illustration herewith. When ordering for dissolving work two extra pieces of tubing should be ordered with the dissolving key, to make the additional connections required.

THE TANKS of the Model B Outfit are each drawn from a single piece of the very best sheet steel and are without seams, rivets or solder, which are frequently the causes of leakage. Both tanks are coated, inside and out, with porcelain, which renders them positively proof against the action of chemicals, easy to keep clean, free from rust or corrosion, and practically indestructible.

The entire outfit is constructed on scientific principles, is made of the very best materials, and by the most skilled workmen. The top of the oxygen tank is ornamented by a neat design of relief scroll work. The fittings including the Saturator, Stand Pipe, Oxygen Tank Top, Rand, Clamp Screws, Cocks, etc., ARE HEAVILY NICKEL PLATED, and the whole presents an unusually Rich and Artistic Appearance.

The Oxygen Tank is 6x15 inches, and the height of outfit complete, set up for use, is 45 inches. The dimensions of the carrying case is 10x10x24 inches, and the weight of the complete outfit in case is about 32 pounds.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

The Model B Calcium Gas Outfit possesses the very great advantage of being always at hand, and that the exhibitor can always depend on having a supply of pure gases on a few minutes' notice which cannot be said of the compressed gases, in steel tanks, owing to the unreliability of the railroads and other transportation companies who often fail to get goods to destination on time, or through mistake ship them to the wrong place, to say nothing of occasional disappointments from breakage or mistake in estimating quantity on hand. While an Electric Arc Lamp is a good thing to have, electric connections cannot always be had, because very often the hall or church in which the exhibition is to be given may not have been wired for electricity.

If you wish to know more about this outfit, or there's anything you don't understand, write us for further particulars, specify what you wish to know, and we'll be pleased to give the information desired.

WE POSITIVELY GUARANTEE every outfit to be exactly as represented, and should any outfit be found otherwise we will cheerfully refund the money.

WE CANNOT SAY ENOUGH

For the merits of this Outfit, as all who have used it say that it will revolutionize the business, and is everything that could be wished for.

Sulphuric Ether, of best quality for Calcium Light, in sealed cans, per pound..... .1.00

One box of oxygen compound and about 1/2 of a pound of Ether or Gasoline is sufficient for an entertainment of over one and one-half hours, with a jet of medium force.

IMPORTANT—Our Improved Perfect Combustion "Non-Pop" Calcium Jets will be found a great advantage and should be used with this outfit.

Ether is a little more expensive, but we recommend its use in preference to the gasoline, as the additional expense is a very small consideration. It gives better results, may be carried in small quantity, and it can be had of almost any druggist, while gasoline of the 88-proof grade can be had only from the large cities, and must be shipped by freight. STOVE GASOLINE MUST NOT BE USED. See 88 test gasoline listed on another page.

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

Oxone TWO VICTORIES OF SCIENCE Oxylithe

That are of inestimable value and furnish a much needed and long sought convenience to The Optical Projectionist.
By Simply Bringing Either one of these new chemicals into contact with water in the same manner as when producing acetylene gas from calcic carbide, they will generate almost which, when burned against the surface of a piece of lime in combination with the vapor of Ether or Gasoline will produce the most brilliant form of

... PURE OXYGEN GAS ...

Calcium or Lime Light

CALCIUM LIGHT has always been the favorite and main dependence of the optical projectionist even in the bygone days when it has been necessary to procure the gases ready made in high pressure steel tanks, or to make it with the old-fashioned, portable outfit in which chemicals, consisting of black oxide of manganese and potash, were converted to gas by placing the heavy iron retort into a stove or furnace and heating it red hot.

But How Different Now!

All that is required is to place Oxylithe or Oxone in the basket of the Enterprise Model B Calcium Gas Outfit, pour in water, put a few ounces of ether or 88 test gasoline into the saturator and

YOUR GASES ARE READY

OXYLITHE AND OXONE are both made from practically the same combination of chemicals, but Oxylithe is made in France and the chemicals are compressed into cakes, while Oxone is made in the United States and the chemicals are fused into cakes by the electrolytic process.

The Oxone cakes differ from the Oxylithe in that they are much harder, a little lighter and do not break or crumble in shipment. The Oxylithe cakes are completely consumed in the making of the gas while the Oxone leaves some residue. Both chemicals are put up in sealed tin boxes, the Oxylithe weighing about 2 1/2 pounds and the Oxone about 2 1/2 pounds per box. Either chemical will produce approximately six cubic feet of 98 per cent Pure Oxygen Gas which is equal in illuminating power to between seven and eight feet of tank or chlorate gas, owing to the 15 per cent of impurities in the latter which are non-combustible, and reduce the intensity of the illumination in greater proportion.

One Box of either Oxylithe or Oxone will produce gas enough for an exhibition of over one and one-half hours when using a jet of medium force.

NOTHING IS GAINED as some suppose by high pressure on the gases. While the maximum pressure of gases stored in steel tanks is 550 pounds, it is well known that the gas may be used to the last pound with equal results, as the pressure actually required at the tip of the jet does not exceed one pound. The Enterprise Model B Calcium Gas Outfit gives a uniform pressure of about 6 pounds to the square inch.

As to the Relative Merits of Oxylithe and Oxone, We Recommend Both

The Sun Rival

Hydro Carbon Vapor Gas Outfit

The Sun Rival Hydro Carbon Vapor Gas Outfit consists of a strong steel tank for containing gasoline and air, a gauge for indicating the air pressure, a powerful foot pump for supplying the air to the tank, a generator for converting the gasoline into vapor gas, a burner adapted to receive a mantle, a specially-prepared mantle and a long flexible metal tube for connecting the burner with the tank. For operation the tank is supplied with about two quarts of ordinary stove gasoline and the balance of the space is reserved for air pressure which should be pumped up to about 40 pounds pressure. With the filter bulb about a spoonful of gasoline is placed in the generator cup and lighted to start the generator. When the generator is sufficiently heated the burner is lighted by opening the generator needle valve. One pumping of air is usually sufficient for an entire exhibition.

The Generator of the Sun Rival Outfit is of special construction, the result of much investigation and experimental work and has been so perfected that it insures perfect vaporization of the gasoline, which in the form of vapor gas passes through the mixing chamber where it combines with the necessary quantity of air to insure perfect combination when burned on the mantle.

The Mantles are specially prepared for this class of work, being charged with several times the usual amount of the "Oxide of Thorium" which together with the forced pressure gives an illumination about three times the power of the ordinary incandescent Weisbach gas light, a little stronger than acetylene and about one-third the strength of Calcium light.

Ordinary mantles that may be purchased in almost any town, will serve the purpose in case of an emergency, but will not be found satisfactory for regular work as they will not give any where near so much illumination as the special-prepared mantles. The mantles may be transported with perfect safety before being burned, and will last for some time if carefully used, but after having been once used they are fragile.

The Sun Rival Outfit furnishes a steady and brilliant white light of about 300 candle power at a cost of about one cent per hour and will illuminate a stereopticon picture up to 12 feet in diameter or Motion Pictures up to 6 or 7 feet in diameter, but is not recommended for motion pictures.

Convenience. The tank measures but 5x13 inches and the entire outfit weighs only nine pounds. It is so simple that a child can operate it and is free from danger of any kind. The tank is tested to three times the amount of pressure that is required for use. Owing to the compactness and portability this outfit is especially adapted to the requirements of certain classes of public exhibitors, secret societies, churches, Sunday schools, day school teachers etc.

The Vapo Search Light Gas Outfit

OUTSHINES ALL OTHERS OF ITS CLASS IN Economy, Power and Quality of Illumination, Safety, Cleanliness and Portability.

AT A COST OF ABOUT EIGHT CENTS per hour the Vapo Search Light produces a beautiful white light, and in every way equals anything else that has ever been produced in this line.

The tank is filled about two-fifths full of wood alcohol and the balance of the space is reserved for air pressure, which is supplied by the rubber bulb air pump. The air pressure forces the alcohol through a generator which is located just back of and close to the mantle, where it is heated and converted to vapor gas. From the generator it escapes to the mixing chamber where it is mixed with air and is burned on the surface of the specially prepared and highly Thoriatized mantle. The generator is started by burning a little alcohol in the generator cup which is placed just below the generator. But little pumping is required to supply the necessary pressure and as there is ample space in the reservoir it needs but little attention after being started. No other illuminating outfit of any kind approaches this one for cleanliness. There is absolutely nothing to soil hands or clothing.

The Weak Features of other Hydrocarbon outfits have been taken full account of, and in the "VAPO SEARCH LIGHT" the inventor has succeeded in producing an improvement that insures perfect vaporizing, an adjustment for securing the proper proportion of gas and air, hence perfect combustion with an unbroken incandescent surface all over the mantle, and a steady and intensely brilliant white light which is indispensable to good results in Optical Projection Work.

A Screw Adjustment for the air mixer, and a quick screw feed Cleaning Needle for the vapor outlet orifice, are improvements that are entirely new with the appearance of this outfit and constitute a very great convenience to the operator.

A Special "Vapo Search Light" Mantle marked the "VAPO SEARCH LIGHT" and very rich in Mineral Salts, is responsible to a considerable degree for the intense and even illumination. From the results thus obtained, we make a GREAT IMPROVEMENT by the use of a Plano Convex Lens of good quality and finish, which is set into the burner hood, where it does much in collecting the rays of light and distributing them evenly on the surface of the condensers.

A Large Picture up to ten feet, with good detail, may be projected with the "VAPO SEARCH LIGHT" and while not recommended for such it may be used for motion pictures in small halls, or for home amusement. THE EFFICIENCY of the illumination is considered equal to Acetylene or any of the other Hydrocarbon illuminants and it has more than three times the power of the best multiple wick kerosene lamp.

In Every Way the "VAPO SEARCH LIGHT" stands unapproached by any other alcohol light. It weighs only 32 ounces, and is so small that it may be packed in the lamp-house of an ordinary Optical Lantern, or in a box 5x8x8 1/2 inches. This, together with the fact that it can be charged and started in about five minutes, commends it to the use of all who do not find it necessary to use calcium or electric light.

In Simplicity the "Vapo Search Light" is a novel and ingenious arrangement, it having no delicate valves or other complicated parts to clog up and get out of order, and being made of the best of material throughout, it will, with proper care last a lifetime.

Economy is an important consideration to many, and in this respect the "VAPO SEARCH LIGHT" is in the front rank. By using wood alcohol, it may be operated at a cost of about eight cents per hour for fuel; mantles extra.

A mantle may be used for a considerable time if handled carefully. Before the protecting coating is burned off they may be handled with perfect safety. After being burned they are fragile.

It Meets the Requirements of Traveling Lantern Exhibitors, Ministers, Sunday schools, Missionaries, Secret Societies, Educational Workers and for home amusement. THE VAPO SEARCH LIGHT is guaranteed to be exactly as represented, and we agree to make good any instrument that should fail through defective material or workmanship, to properly perform its duty, or to refund the purchase price.

To those who use gases from cylinders, a Pressure Gauge is a very necessary instrument. The operator should always know before beginning an entertainment, that his cylinders contain sufficient gas to see him safely through, otherwise he might be subjected to the humiliate of having to dismiss his audience abruptly, owing to a deficiency of gas. The pressure gauge is also valuable for measuring the amount of gas received from the calcium light companies, to see that full measure is received.

Improved Calcium Light Jets.

While calcium light, by reason of its great efficiency, reliability, portability, and convenience, has in the past, been the leader in illuminants and a most faithful servant to the optical projectionist, recent developments in the line of patented improved calcium jets promise to expand its field of usefulness to a wonderful and unexpected degree.

In this catalogue is listed, for the first time in the history of the optical projection business, a line of improved calcium light jets, which for efficiency, reliability, convenience and artistic merit, is nothing short of a revelation in several ways. There is probably not another instrument in the optical projection line where it has been possible to bring about greater results in the way of better pictures than by improvements in the calcium jets. The opportunity for improvement has been taken, full advantage of, and radical departures have been made from the stereotyped, awkward jets to which the public have been accustomed in the past, and our new line is equipped with improvements that are absolutely original and new, as must be plainly recognized by any one who will take the pains to compare our line with the jets of other makers.

Foremost among the improvements embodied in our new line of calcium jets, is the patented "Non-Pop" nozzle, which is furnished in two forms, either of which, besides securing better combustion, hence greater efficiency, positively prevents popping at the jet, which is especially annoying and happens more frequently when using gas making outfits. With the "Non-Pop" nozzle large quantities of gas may be used, thus obtaining the maximum illumination without the possibility of popping or other unsatisfactory results. While either of our "Non-Pop" nozzles is a phenomenal improvement over the other types of jets, the Cone type of "Non-Pop" nozzle is to be preferred, by reason of the advantages gained in its form of construction. Both of these "Non-Pop" nozzles are fully protected by U. S. patents applied for, and infringers on these rights will be vigorously prosecuted.

OPPOSITE

The Right Angle Arc Lamp possesses both advantages and disadvantages. The advantage is that the horizontal carbon is in line with and fed directly toward the optical axis of the lenses, which make it easier to keep it centered. The disadvantage is, that it requires more careful and more frequent adjustment than the forms fed directly toward each other. We offer,

To admit this form of arc lamp the distance between the center of the condensing lenses and the bottom of the lamp house should be at least 5½ inches. If the space is less than this, an opening should be made in the bottom of the lamphouse. Price.....$8.00

Automatic Electric Arc Lamps are little used. They are not only very expensive, but have proven unsatisfactory for projection work, are hard to control; very bulky, and we neither list nor recommend them. Prices, however, will be quoted on application.

What Our Customers Say

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.
 GENTLEMEN—If you remember I started out a short time ago with one of your combination outfits and am now successfully working the street fairs, and opera house circuit. At first I was a bit skeptical as to the success of my venture but am now thoroughly convinced there is no other business I know of that pays such quick and large returns as this. Wishing you the success that I am now enjoying, I remain,

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.
 GENTLEMEN—I have used one of your combination stereopticon and moving picture machines for the past two years and have succeeded beyond my fondest hopes. I have confined my work to the school houses and churches and have averaged from $30 to $100 per night. To anyone wishing to enter a nice clean and easy business, on a small investment I would certainly advise them to get a combination outfit at once.
 Yours for business,

Electric Switches.

Exhibitors using Electric Arc Lamps should provide themselves with a Knife Switch. A fuse block is also desirable, for if in any way a short circuit is formed, no damage would be done other than to melt the fuse on your block, which could be instantly replaced. We recommend the Nos. 5 or 6 Combined Switch and Fuse Block to use enclosed fuses. In many cities the insurance companies prohibit the use of any but enclosed, or cartridge fuses. We also advise the use of a 50 ampere switch and fuse block, because when using alternating current it is necessary to use 30 to 40 amperes of current to get good results on motion pictures.

The "Roc" Incandescent Electric Lamp.

The Incandescent Electric Lamp will be found a very great convenience where electric connections can be had, for such as lodge, school and church work and may be used to advantage by certain classes of traveling exhibitors. It may be used on either the alternating or direct current. When using the 50 candle power lamp the connection may be made direct with the lamp socket without the use of a rheostat, but when using the 100 candle power lamp, a small switch should be used for turning the current on and off. Instead of making and breaking the connection at the lamp socket. This form of illumination is a little stronger than the Weisbach gas burner, but has not the efficiency of an Acetylene or Vapor gas light.

The design of the "Roc" Incandescent Electric Lamp is highly artistic and for general merit is far superior to anything heretofore introduced. It is beautifully polished, and with the exception of the lamp socket, is nickel plated.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

The "Roco" Welsbach Gas Burner.

The "Roco" Burner is an improvement over anything heretofore made in this line. Its form of construction is such as to afford the greatest efficiency together with convenience and artistic design. The Burner part is of the form best adapted to the requirements of the gas and air. In efficiency it is considered better than the best oil lamps, but it is not equal to the Alcohol or Gasoline Vapor Burners. It is made of brass throughout, beautifully polished, nickel plated, and from an artistic standpoint as well as efficiency, it is far ahead of anything in its class.

PRICE
Hose, complete with 10 feet of rubber hose..... $4.00
With Stop Cock, extra..... .50
Extra Manifold with support, best quality, each..... .20
Extra Chimneys, 5 inches, each..... .15

NOTE—When ordering, do not fail to state whether for the 52 or 104 volts alternating, or 110 or 220 volts direct current, and also whether for Edison, or Thompson-Houston socket.

The "Orton" Four-Jet Self-Cleaning Burner is much appreciated by those who have used it.

The jets are so placed that the centers of the flames all come in a line with the axis of the lenses and being placed nearer together than in the old type of burners, they all come more nearly within the focus point of the condensers, hence greater efficiency. Each tip is provided with a coarse-threaded screw, the point of which passes through the orifice of the tip and cleanses it of any soot or carbon deposit with which it may have become choked. Each jet is provided with a nickel-plated and polished reflector. Full polished finish, nickel-plated.

Price, each..... $5.50

Condensing Chamber or Drip Cup, for Acetylene Outlets. Owing to the presence of a considerable amount of heat in the generation of acetylene, steam is formed, a certain amount of which is carried to the jet with the gas, especially with some forms of generators that are different from our own. To remedy this condition which is detrimental to good results we have devised this little attachment which is placed in the path of the gas from the generator to the jet. As the gas gets away from the heated generator it cools and the vapor condenses to water which lodges in the condenser. It is about 5 1/2 inches long, is made of brass and nickel plated. The "No. 50" Magic Lantern with Oil Light.

ing public exhibitor. PRICE, complete with lenses, carrying case, etc..... $12.00

For secret societies, Sunday schools, public schools, teachers, home amusement, etc. While the oil light lantern has seen its day, there are still a few, who probably from motives of economy desire an instrument of this kind. The body is made of the best Russia iron, has a good achromatic objective lens, two 4 1/2 inch condensers, the best three wick oil lamp, double slide carrier and a carrying case. When using a standard slide, it projects a picture of about 7 1/2 feet in diameter at 15 feet from the screen, and the illumination gives an efficiency of about 100 candle power, which is a little more than one-third the power of acetylene, gasoline, or alcohol vapor light. While this instrument is not a toy, and is designed for professional use only, and is as good as any kerosene oil lantern made but cannot be expected to give satisfactory results for a traveling

Oil Lamp for Stereopticon.

While Oil lamps are now but little used for stereopticon work, there are still a few people, who, from motives of economy, are prompted to buy them. While the lamp we list is the best that can be had for the purpose, having three wicks, we do not recommend them. They are rated at about 100 candle power and give about one-third the efficiency of Acetylene, Gasoline or the Alcohol Vapor Light. This lamp may be used in our $15.00 Magic Lantern or Stereopticon. Price, complete with wicks and telescope chimney..... $4.00

Motion Pictures are Taking Top Money is the almost universal report that comes from amusement places such as Summer Carnivals, Street Fairs, County Fairs and Amusement Parks.

People do not Tire of Motion Pictures. On the contrary they get into the habit when near enough, of going once a week or more.

Eureka Dissolver.

The Eureka Dissolver is intended as a substitute for a double dissolving lantern. Its mechanical arrangement is such that in changing from one slide to another it is possible to produce effects somewhat resembling those of a double lantern. It is attached by thumb clamps to the front of the objective lenses and is operated by a lever at the side. The shutters contain tinters by the use of which, scenes may be changed to produce sunset or night effects. Price.....$10.00

Chromatropes, Geometrical.

Chromatrope slides are suitable and very desirable for the closing of a Stereopticon or Motion Picture Entertainment. The Chromatrope effect is produced by two circular discs of glass, each one having painted upon them curious geometrical designs in a variety of brilliant colors. By turning the crank the two wheels are rotated in opposite directions and by turning sometimes slowly, then quickly, backwards and forwards, a great variety of beautiful changes may be produced. These effects must be seen to be appreciated. Geometrical.....$3.00

Price with Poles 2 inches in diameter, per section..... .75

The Portable Extension Screen Frame can be adapted to all sizes of screens and will be found a great convenience to the traveling exhibitor. It is composed of the required number of sections depending on size of screen, each section being three feet in length, made of tough, thoroughly seasoned white wood and jointed together with metal ferrules. Two of the end sections have a sharp pointed brad that sticks into the floor so that it cannot slip or get out of position. The other two end sections have a pulley let into the body of the section through which is carried the screen rope which is to be attached to a small screw-eye in the floor in the line with the face of the screen and at the proper distance from the screen. Then two guy ropes at each side of the screen, one extending forward and one backward, serve to hold the screen immovably in place. This arrangement answers admirably for screens up to 20 feet square. Larger screens than this require a heavier frame. We recommend 1 1/2 inch poles for screens 12 feet square and under, and 2 inch poles for screens over 12 feet square. The frame for a screen 12 feet square or 10x12 consists of six sections, three for each side.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., MOVING PICTURE FILMS.

We are greatly pleased to be able to furnish a complete list of moving pictures, and in this list can be found films to illustrate almost any subject. Moving pictures, being the most important part of an entertainment, and knowing it is rather difficult for the exhibitor to choose films by the name only, we have endeavored to select, giving the description of each, covering films of different classifications from both Foreign and Domestic film makers, so as to fulfill the requirements of the different exhibitors.

You will find that each film maker issues his own lists of trade, but from this complete general film list, the purchaser may receive every satisfaction in making his selection.

Exhibitors know from experience that it is the audience who must be suited, and his taste like. This must be remembered in order to give a successful entertainment.

We are always willing to suggest, and help the purchasers give them the benefit of our state what class of entertainment they are giving. Such films should be chosen as would be suited to the rest of the programme.

Where you find films under the same or similar name, they are generally made by different manufacturers, and in such cases, we are in a position to suggest which we consider the best suited for your particular entertainment.

Inasmuch as the copying of films makes the selection uncertain, it is important that the moving pictures should be purchased of a reliable dealer. Every exhibitor, both professional and beginner, should the subject "Moving picture machine and its application," which will be found in the front part of our catalogue.

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

The length of each film and the subjects required, depends largely upon your entertainment. The travelling exhibitor who entertains in small churches, halls, schools, etc., as a rule has one set of stereoscopic views interspersed with from five to one dozen short films. If the exhibitor can afford it, more can be used to advantage.

The standard moving picture film is 1 1/2 inches wide, and about four minutes is required to run 100 feet, but even though the picture is 1 1/2 inches wide, they can be reproduced on the curtain to any size up to 30 feet, and larger, according to the strength of the light, and the lens used. Short films can be cemented together using a small piece of blank film between each subject. This does away with the delay in framing each separate picture, for when cemented together, they are only threaded once.

For five cent theatres, summer parks, etc., 500 to 1,000 feet of film is required.

Some films can be produced with but little cost, while others require more expense, therefore the price of films ranges from eleven to fifteen cents per foot. The lengths of films as given are not intended to be exact, and the price quoted is for the subject, but the variations do not amount to much. In buying films, as with everything else, quality is more important than economy.

We carry in stock at all times, some of the best selling subjects, but as a rule we require from two to three days to make the films to order.

Color, is seldom used, but it adds much to the value of the moving pictures and in as much as each picture must be done by hand and by the same artist, it requires from two to four days' time for 100 feet of film.

In compiling a catalogue of this kind, it is unreasonable to expect errors to be entirely eliminated, and in case of errors, we reserve the right to correct them.

TERMS—Upon receipt of a deposit of 20 per cent of the amount of order, we will ship films C. O. D. when desired, but it must be remembered that with few exceptions, films have to be made to order which requires from two to three days.

If the full amount is sent with order, we will send films by mail, the postage being one cent per ounce, and registry eight cents extra, and unless the package is registered, all goods are sent at owner's risk. One hundred feet of film would weigh about thirteen ounces.

Remember that we are reliable, and can furnish any films desired even though they are not listed in our catalogue. Write for further information.

Yours very truly,

AN INTELLIGENT ELEPHANT. (M) Elephants are, as a rule, intelligent animals, but this one is particularly so. He picks up logs of wood, and carries them to a certain spot, where he deposits them at the dictation of his master, seated on his back. Exceedingly good. Code word, INTELLIGENT. Length, 150 feet. Price.....$16.50

TRAINED ELEPHANTS AND DOGS. (CU,L-C) Code, BOET. 125 feet. Price.....$14.76

TRAINED BABY ELEPHANT. (CU,L-C) Code, BOEL. 175 feet. Price.....$21.00

THE WRESTLING ELEPHANT. (GHC,h-D) Code, BIHA. 21 feet. Price.....$2.52

ELEPHANT'S BATH. (GHC,h-D) Code, BIYA. 35 feet. Price 4.20

BATH OF ELEPHANTS. (C) Length 98 feet. Price.....$11.76

ELEPHANT'S SHOOTING THIRCHIES AT LUNA PARK. (F) One of the greatest attractions at the famous summer resort, Coney Island, N. Y. A huge elephant stands at the top of the chutes while at his back is another elephant whose duty it is to start his companion. The huge animal assumes a sitting position as he leaves the top and strikes the water. He throws high in the air and for a short time the animal remains under water, evidently enjoying his cool bath. It takes considerable coaxing on the part of his Arabian keeper to get him out of the water for his next trip. Code word, VALIENFO. Length, 80 feet. Class A. Price.....$12.00

CAPT. PAUL ROYTON FEEDING HIS PETS—Coney Island, N. Y. (C) The Captain walks out on a plank over the water with a basket of fish. The sea lions clamor about him struggling for their food. One of them becomes very insistent, and succeeds in pushing Captain Royton into the water. Code, GALERUCA. 70 feet. Price.....$8.40

"KING" AND "QUEEN," THE GREAT HIGH DIVING HORSES—Coney Island. (D) It is one of the popular "hits." Taken at Paul Royton's trained horses diving into the water from a platform 35 feet high. Their action is purely voluntary. Code, FUTTEBANK. 55 feet. Price.....$6.50

WRESTLING DONKEY. (R) Length, 114 feet. Price.....$13.68

TRICK DONKEY. (N) No. 2 A clown brings on his donkey, an apparently docile animal. A fresh con tries to mount him when he is thrown in the air as if by electricity. Several other "smokes" jump on the donkey's back, but are flung in the air in a similar manner. Three donkeys clamber on the back of our docile friend and at the command of his master he remains perfectly quiet until they are firmly seated, when he throws the bunch of "dark clouds" in all directions. One wraps his legs and arms around him but is finally thrown. The donkey is victorious and appears to smile at his crestfallen colored friends. Rich and exciting. Code, CAPON. Length, 75 feet. Price.....$8.25

EDUCATED CHIMPANZEE. (G) This Chimpazee was brought here from Western Africa, and is the most man-like animal of the family. In disposition it is lively and intelligent, and has been considered as the missing link. The picture starts in with the Chimpazee ringing a call bell for something to eat, and then in the act of eating, next changing to an Irishman smoking a pipe, then taking a drink from a bottle, after which Carrie Nation and her little hatchet is portrayed to perfection; he then represents an Irish sport, and is without doubt one of the most expert typewriters in the country. He then takes a turn at reading, and takes the part of a judge, with a wise look that would do credit to a person who has held that position for a quarter of a century, and ends his little exhibition by representing Paderewski to perfection. A gem of photography and action. Code word, UNGUINAL. Length, 115 feet. Price.....$13.80

THE EDUCATED CHIMPANZEE. (M) Use this picture, together with that of the old darkey, described, and call it "The Evolution of Man." The monk smokes a pipe, reads a newspaper, eats his lunch like an old man, and does other funny tricks, all of which appear to prove the great Darwin theory, that man sprang from the monkey. Join the chimpanzee picture to that of the old darkey, and you have a decided novelty. Rich. Code, CALUMNY. Length 50 feet. Price.....$5.50

FEEDING THE SEA LIONS. (N) A decided novelty. Sea lions are not to be seen every day, and it is your privilege to show about 12 in number being fed by their trainer, Capt. Paul Boynton. After feeding them on shore, they follow him about, and crowd him so that he ing them on the water and continues to feed them. One more venture—some of the rest steals some of the food out of the basket. Their backs sparkle and shine like glass. Code, KEYSTONE. Length 75 feet. Price.....$8.25

BOXING DOGS. (D) An act by Prof. Leonidas' troupe. Two little dogs sit in their chairs having boxing gloves fastened to their forepaws. They rise on their hind legs, and box, while the professor urges them on. Code, FUSIVILITE. 25 feet. Price.....$3.00

ORLA AND HIS DOGS. (R) Length, 147 feet. Price.....$17.64

ADOG FIGHT. (C) An impromptu, but exciting scrap between two prize-winning Dachshunds from the Venio Farm Kennels. Code, GALEROLIM. 45 feet. Price.....$5.40

"SPIKE" THE BAG-PUNCHING DOG. (C) A large bag is suspended by a cord, so that it is just out of reach of his nose. The dog jumps for it, and having once set it in motion, pursues it with the utmost vigor, bumping it with his snout whenever it comes within reach. Code, TONIGHT FA. 35 feet. Price.....$3.12

BURDLE JUMPING BY TRAINED DOGS. (D) An exhibition by Prof. Leonidas' trained animals. A cat is stretched across two chairs, and a number of dogs of different breeds jump over her. Code, FUSIBILE. 50 feet. Price.....$6.00

STEALING A DINNER. (D) Conversation to above; another exhibition by Prof. Leonidas' cats and dogs. One of the dogs is stealing his dinner from the table in his master's absence. To cover his own crime, the dog places a cat on the table, where she is found when the master comes in. The master shoots the cat, and is promptly arrested by a large dog dressed in policeman's clothes. Code, FURGOYES. 50 feet. Price.....$6.00

DOGS AND CAT. (R) Two little dogs are seen playing with a kitten. The scene is very natural and should be very attractive to animal lovers. Length 65 feet. Price.....$7.80

DOG AND RATS. (R) A terrier is put in a wire enclosure, and at least fifty full grown rats are thrown in with him. A lively fight ensues in which the dog comes out victorious. The rats are quickly dispatched; they fight hard and many of them bite the dog. Length 50 feet. Price.....$11.76

WILD DUMB ANIMALS CAN BE TAUGHT. (D) A very clever exhibition by Prof. Leonidas, with a troop of trained cats and dogs. Code, FURGOYES. 45 feet. Price.....$5.28

NO PLACE LIKE HOME. (U) Even the small fox terrier puppies, shown in the picture in a lively scramble for their mother, prove that home with a mother is at best dreary. A cute subject. Code word, BARCLAY. Length, 50 feet. Price.....$6.00

Circus—(See also Animals.)

RINGLING BROS. CIRCUS PARADE. (U) The parade is seen coming down a broad avenue with crowds of people on both sides of the avenue. Even the windows of the buildings are crowded, showing how popular this great circus has become. The parade is headed by Mr. Ringling followed by the first band wagon in the world drawn by 12 magnificent horses. Following in rapid succession are open cages of Lions, Tigers, Hyenas, Bears, etc., so plainly that you can see them walking to and fro in their cages (something that is very hard to obtain in a moving picture). This is followed by the grand tabriders on their prancing steeds are followed by the clowns, tableaux sending the different nations of the world, the mounted band and last elephants making in all probably the greatest circus parade ever seen on a motion picture film. We make this film in three lengths.

DAY AT THE CIRCUS. (P) We present here a series of interesting pictures and show a number of scenes just as witnessed by a visitor to the Great Forepaugh and Sells Bros' combined four-ring circus. We begin by showing the complete circus parade coming down a busy asphalt avenue with park in the background. Entire parade shows elephants, camels, land wagons, chariots, cages of animals, and full circus paraphernalia, making a most interesting subject. The next picture shows the assembly of grand entry, and includes the en-

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., MOTION PICTURE FILMS.

FIRE RUN. (T) A good ele film, and is one of the best subject other than the war films. A fire scene is shown, and there is a good clearing of the way for the fire paratus. First comes the hose car closely followed by the fire engine and other apparatus. Bicycle ride are racing with the engines and there are many narrow escapes. One of our most popular subjects. Code word, FIRE. Length, 25 feet. Price, $3.25. 50 feet. Price, $6.50.

LIFE OF A FIREMAN. (TT) In placing this wonderful picture series of pictures before the public it was our aim to illustrate the entire workings of a model fire department. This picture, in its complete form, shows the fireman sitting in front of a fire house, who suddenly an alarm is sounded. You see the rush and break forth inside of the fire house, to get to their respective places on the apparatus before going to the fire. The next picture shows them leaving the engine house; the mad dash out of doors, and the most wonderful fire run ever shown on canvas. Twenty-eight pieces of fire fighting machines madly rushing and plunging down a thoroughfare on their way to the fire; exciting races between rival companies; the putting on their coats and fire hats; the drivers lashing their horses. It is indeed a great and inspiring scene. Code word, FIRE. Entire series complete. Length, 450 feet. Price, $54.00.

THE ALARM AND HITCH. (T) This is a rare picture, showing as it does an actual hitch inside the fire station and always elicits bursts of enthusiasm. Code word, HITCH. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00.

START FROM THE HOUSE AND THE RUN. (T) Code word, HITCH. Length, 150 feet. Price, $18.00.

THE FIRE, THE LEAP FOR LIFE AND THE RESCUE. (T) A grand scene, beyond description, showing flames, smoke, people in the air, shows the pompier ladders being operated in the endeavor to save the lives of the people in the upper story of this great tenement building. In this picture is seen the awful leap for life, showing a woman jumping from the third-story window into the life net held by the firemen; the engines puffing and steaming; the playing of the hose; the great volumes of smoke and sheets of flame which envelop the building; the fire tug pulls in and gets into action. Space will not permit of further description; this great picture. Then comes the return fire from under the engine and back the apparatus into the fire house. This closes one of the most complete sets of fire pictures ever shown. Code word, RESCUE. Length, 300 feet. Price, $24.00.

THE RETURN TO QUARTERS. (T) Code word, RETURN. Length, 30 feet. Price, $4.00.

Fire Tug in Action. (T) 125 feet. Price, $15.00.

wagons, chemical wagons, and the water tower to which six engines are usually attached. They follow the car up the street and finally pass in thrilling procession. The firemen take off their street clothes and don their heavy service garments. The crowds gather and there are many narrow escapes. Altogether the film is most thrilling and exciting. Code word, ROBERTS. Length, 200 feet. Price, $24.00.

A WATER DUEL. (Gutenburg, N. J.) (D) Two rival volunteer hose companies in a unique contest with their engines and hose. Both sides are completely drenched with water. Code, GALERINE. 27 feet. Price, $12.00.

Parades.

SCENES AT NEW ORLEANS MARDI GRAS. (TU) For many years the Mardi Gras held annually at New Orleans has formed articles for numerous magazines and newspapers. The celebration is unknown to any other state—and has made the city of New Orleans famous throughout the world, as it is attended annually by thousands of spectators from all over the country and the demand for moving picture films which would fittingly portray this celebration has been large. Special permits were obtained last year from the Mayor of New Orleans, which enabled the artist to reproduce the principal scenes for the benefit of our customers. Subjects, length, and prices are as follows: ARRIVAL OF REX. Code word, REX. Length, 125 feet. Price, $15.00.

MARDI GRAS PARADE. Code word, MARDI. Length, 200 feet (very fine.) Price, $24.00.

Buffalo Bill Parade (very fine.) (T) 200 feet. Price, $24.00.

DEWEY PARADE. (T) Taken at the time Admiral Dewey visited Chicago. The parade shows first a mounted squad of Chicago's "finest" followed by cavalry, infantry and marines, an escort of honor and finally the carriage, showing the famous Admiral. A full face view is obtained as the carriage turns the corner and Dewey is seen in the act of bowing his acknowledgments to the applause which greets him from both sides of the street. An excellent picture of the "fighting Admiral." Code word, DEWEY. Length, 150 feet. Price, $18.00.

GOVERNORS' DAY, ST. LOUIS DEDICATION EXERCISES. (U) The Dedication of the St. Louis Exposition by Pres. Roosevelt was followed by governors' Day. The different industries were represented by grand floats, rivaling those of the New Orleans Mardi Gras.

SCALING A FORT AT MANILA. (N) Here we see our soldiers, assisted by the marines of Dewey's fleet, scaling a wall of the fort at Manila. We cannot but admire these brave men who, at the risk of their lives, scale the wall, not knowing at what minute they will be shot by those at the top of the fort. It is a most inspiring picture, and one that will enthrall your audience. Code, NAME. Length 75 feet. Price.....$8.25

AN HISTORIC FEAT—Philippine Islands. (D) Gen. Franklin Bell's famous mule pack train swimming the Agno River in Northern Luzon. This is one of the most notable incidents of the Philippine War. Code, GARNSEWEIN. Length 54 feet. Price.....$6.48

CAPTURE OF THE TRENCHES, CANDABAT. (G) The Filipinos execute a flank movement and re-occupy the trenches, cutting off the advance guard of Americans. The rebel flag waves over the ditch and they defend their position bravely. A fierce charge by our soldiers make them give way and they scatter in all directions. The officer in command pays dearly for his desperate sortie. Just as his horse clears the embankment the officer throws up his hands and falls backward with a crash, while the riderless horse dashes off tail. Code word, UNRUUSEI. Length, 75 feet. Price.....$11.25

ADVANCE OF KANSAS VOLUNTEERS, CALOOCAN. (P) From the thick underbrush where the Filipinos are massed comes volley after volley. Suddenly, with impetuous rush, Finston's men appear. They pass but a moment to fire, reload and fire. The color bearer falls, but the standard is caught up by brave Sergeant Squire and waves undaunted in the smoke and din of the raging battle. This is one of the best battle pictures ever made. The first firing is done directly toward the front of the picture, and the advance of the U. S. troops apparently through the screen is very exciting; the gradual disappearance of the fighters sustaining the interest to the end. Code word, UNBROACHED. Length, 60 feet. Price.....$0.00

WHAT OUR BOYS DID AT MANILA. (D) This picture makes a quick appeal to popular patriotism. ELECTRO DOORBELL. (G) Willie and Freddie think they will try a little bell-pulling for fun. They say a bell-handle at the door of Smith & Sons, the electricians, and forthwith Willie goes up and tugs hard, and then is round the corner. Smith comes out, and looks annoyed. He returns inside, when those wicked urchins again appear and with grins on their faces again ring the bell and rush off. Smith again comes out, and gets savage. He sees them, shakes his fist at them. Suddenly an idea strikes him, he rushes off to his workshop, and comes back bringing a powerful electric battery and some wire. He connects the battery to the bell chain and then, laughing heartily, goes off. The postman approaches the door and catches hold of the bell-handle. With a yell, he drops his letters, ties himself into a knot, unties himself, folds himself up, wriggles and squirms as never man did before. A young lady passing attempts to rescue him, but she too, is caught. They both twist and turn in a most extraordinary fashion, and as a gentleman comes along beckon to him to help them. He goes to their rescue, but only becomes another victim. More yells, shrieks, and squirming. A tramp comes up and gets caught like the rest. Things are beginning to look serious, when a Jolly Jack Tar appears puts his arms around the whole crew and hauls in with might and main the bell-pull gives away, and with a crash the wayfarers fall to the ground. The picture finishes showing Smith bolting for the door, while a passing messenger boy stands grinning at the wriggling mass on the ground. Code word, VARIABLES. Length, 150 feet. Class B. HIS MASTERS VOICE. (M) It is hardly necessary to describe the film, as the subject is known all over the world. Our picture shows a Talking Machine, through which the Master's voice calls a little dog. We see the dog puzzled, jumping up to the machine and rearing and breaking up the whole machine. Length 50 feet. Price.....$8.50

HIS MASTERS BREATH. (N) This film is the counterpart of the film "His Master's Voice." We first see the master indulging in a lot of the fumes of the drink. He then leaves the room while the dog enters. The dog, jumping upon the table, smells what he thinks is his master's breath, coming out of the whiskey bottle. He tries to jump into the bottle. The breath, however, is too strong, and we see the dog lying dead upon the table. A very funny film, which in connection with the film "His Master's Voice" will make a big hit wherever exhibited. Length 80 feet. Price.....$8.50

EVERYBODY WORKS BUT FATHER. (P) The picture opens with a laughable "trouble" announcement. Mother and all of the children are hurridly eating breakfast and rushing off to work. Mother calls Father repeatedly, but gets no reply. The next scene shows Father in bed. His slumbers are disturbed by a horrible dream. In his dream, which appears as a vision, he is seen carrying the hod up off the scaffold and pelted with a bricklayer, who throws his cup of coffee. He gets into an argument with a bricklayer, who throws him down by the fire to smoke. Mother sends him out for wood. He is next seen by the wood-pile, hiring a man to chop the wood, while he sits down and puts on a pair of slippers, so he cannot see the man work. Mother comes along and the man shows her the big pile of wood into the house. The next scene shows her the big pile of wood instead of heating it, crawls into it. Mother and daughter now start in to beat the carpet, and Father gets covered with dust and a good beating before they discover him. The final scene shows Father seated in a chair in the kitchen. Mother and daughter are washing. Father's chair gets caught in some clothes in the wringer, and he is thrown to the floor and the entire contents of the wash tub

THE SERENADE. (T) In twelve scenes of cyclonic activity and bewilderment. The picture is as full of action as a Japanese torpedo boat. It is not a case of one or two laughs, but a roar at the start with spasms at the finish. Read the synopsis, and then place your order as once, and be the first in the field with the most excruciating subject ever accomplished in animated photography. SCENES:

- 1—Freddie "Romero" serenades his Fannie "Juliet" in balcony. "Old Man" turns loose deluge of water—and the dog. Chase begins.
- 2—Freddie, with dog hanging to his basement terrace, takes to the "tail timber." Old man and Fannie roll down hill in attempting to follow.
- 3—Freddie with Nellie as a half-Nelson attachment, gains street, and evades old man by doubling trucks around telegraph pole.
- 4—In a mad scramble through the bushes "Dad" and Fannie fall into a deep hole.
- 5—Freddie attempts to scale 13-foot stone wall, but Miss Bull-Terrier is a heavy weight. An amusing struggle.
- 6—The modern Romeo manages to elude canine leech long enough to get ladder and climb wall.
- 7—Foxy Nellie skirts the wall and Freddie drops into her waiting jaws. "Dad" and Fannie scale the wall and "hit the trail."
- 8—With every ray of hope and 99 per cent of his trousers gone, Freddie makes for the lake. A high parapet halts him long enough for the old man and the girl to catch up and the whole bunch roll down the sandy hill.
- 9—Excitement increases. Freddie hurdles parapet and takes a flying leap into the waters that brought Capt. Streeter to Chicago.
- 10—Dad neck and neck in race. Leaps into lake and fierce struggle takes place.
- 11—With the dog still clinging to him, Freddie escapes the old man and a watery grave, with Fannie's aid and a fish pole, and the chase is resumed up the street. Hatch arrives in the scene in an "auto" and picks up Fannie.
- 12—Final scene shows the tenacious old man pursuing his would-be son-in-law up the middle of the street. Hatch and Fannie race by him. Freddie is lifted into the "auto." The old man falls exhausted while the youngsters reach the wharf in time to embark for St. Joe.

A DOG LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN. (N) Copyright 1905. Mrs. Brown soon misses her dog. She goes to the advertising department of the Daily News and inserts an advertisement: "A dog is strayed or stolen. $25.00 reward. Apply to Mrs. Brown." The afternoon paper is out, a big crowd begins to call at Mrs. Brown's. Frightened at so many dogs, starts to run away. Now begins funny chase, going up hill and down, over fences, through the streets and the country lanes, Mrs. Brown in the lead, over 100 people with so many dogs following. Finally Mrs. Brown reaches the back door of her residence, enters quickly and closes the two large gates just before the crowd with the dogs are upon the spot. Disappointed people leave one by one. THE LOST CHILD. (C) An exceedingly humorous comedy chase following a story of actual occurrence in Brooklyn and with but few changes. A fond mother comes out and leaves her little boy on the lawn to play. She goes back into the house, and the youngster, after playing about a bit, climbs into a dog kennel and goes to sleep. The mother comes out, misses the little boy, and starts a frantic search. She is unable to find the child, but as she sees a man passing the house carrying on his arm a large basket, it occurs to her that it is a kidnapper, and she violently assaults him. The astonished man breaks away from her and starts to run; the woman follows him, did close at her heels comes her colored cook and an old vestryman. The group of pursuers is increased from time to time by various comely characters—among them a fat old gentleman in an invalid chair pushed by a colored boy, a "dago" with his junk cart, a nurse with a baby carriage, a one-legged boy hopping on crutches, a farmer's family who have been out shucking corn, several girls who have been gathering wild flowers, policeman, etc., until the man, pursued by a regular mob; in one instance the flight goes over a big embankment and many funny falls result. The innocent man, frightened out of his wits, is finally captured and taken back to the house, followed by the crowd of people, where the little boy is seen coming out of the dog kennel and joyfully playing with a pup, while the basket of the supposed kidnapper is found to contain nothing more alarming than a pet guinea pig. The photographic quality of this subject is perfect and the action very exciting and dramatic throughout. Code, RETEADORA, 536 feet. Price.....$643

THE ESCAPED LUNATIC. (CD) This is one of the most exciting and at the same time one of the most laughable subjects ever made. A lunatic confined in a barred cell, labors under the delusion that it is the Emperor Napoleon. In the first scene we see him in an altercation with his keepers over the quality of food furnished him. The keepers set upon him and beat him unmercifully and leave him conscious. He comes to and determines to escape. Wrenching a leg from a table he bursts the bar of a window, smashes the glass and crawls out. The next scene shows him dropping a distance of 30 feet to the ground below. He picks himself up and starts off at a run. The faces of the keepers appear at the cell window for an instant, but quickly they come running out of the main entrance to the asylum and start in pursuit of the escaped lunatic. Then follows a series of thrilling and ludicrous chases, through the most picturesque scenery. The lunatic is cornered on a bridge over a waterfall, but manages to overcome the keeper and hurries him into the rapids below. In another scene he crosses a torrent on a slender wire cable swinging loose above it. Time after time the lunatic succeeds in circumventing his keepers. Finally, however, he tires of the chase and is seen running back to the asylum. He leaps the 30 feet back to the window and when the keepers, all blown and covered with mud, rush into the cell, Napoleon I is calmly reading a newspaper. Code, GAUNACA. Length 617 feet. PERSONAL. (D) The original comedy production founded on an advertisement in the New York "Herald," in which a Frenchman states that he would like to meet a handsome American girl with the object of matrimony. The rendezvous is at Grant's tomb. When the hour for the appointment approaches, and he sees the great crowd of young girls waiting for him, he fires in dismay across the country, being followed, however, by the levy of girls, and is finally captured at the point of a revolver, and carried triumphantly to the nearest clergyman. This is in all respects probably the funniest chase picture that has ever been made. Code, METALAVOR, 571 feet. Price.....$4.62

SUBSTANTIAL GHOST. (F) Three tramps assemble in a graveyard, and using one of the graves as a card board, play cards for the money they managed to beg. They also have a bottle with them, from which they indulge at intervals. The keeper enlists the services of a policeman. A shovel is placed over the bluecoat, and he crawls along the ground toward the tramps. The cop stands up behind the grave stone in front of the intruders, and they, thinking it a real ghost, run for their lives, leaving money, cards, bottle, etc. The ghost removes his ghostly garments, and splashes the bottle. He makes a quick grab for it, but finds it empty. He then

ECCENTRIC BURGLARY. (F) Two rough looking characters are shown climbing over a wall, approach a house, and look up at the second story windows. They then leap from the ground to the window without apparent effort, and enter the house. Two policemen then come over the wall and place a ladder up to the window through which the burglars entered. Then both "cops" slide up the ladder, each other's arms rolling up the roof. Then they are shown coming down a water pipe head first. Then is shown a laughable and eccentric chase, part of the time all running backwards. Then the burglars seize a horse and cab and drive off. Next scene shows horse and cab going backwards up a road at a fast trot with "cops" chasing them, also running backwards, winding up with a comic chase ending in the capture of the burglars. A very laughable and unusual subject. Length 35 feet. Class B. Price. $43.80
FAT AND LEAN WRESTLING MATCH. (F) This film is a winner. An extremely lean man and an extremely fat man are engaged in a wrestling match. The lean man attacks the fat one violently but cannot judge him from the floor. After wrestling furiously for awhile, the fat man falls upon the lean one and crushes him as flat as a pancake. The fat man then rolls him up in a package about the size of a carpet bag and lays him on the floor, and winds up by tossing him high in the air. The lean man in coming down falls on the fat man's head, knocking him to the floor and causing him to explode in a great cloud of smoke, his body being distributed all over the stage. The portions of the fat man's body then begin slowly drawing together, when suddenly they assume their proper place and come to life, the fat man jumping to his feet and making a hasty exit, seeming glad to get out of the way of this terrible opponent. Code word. UNHEILBAR. Length, 75 feet. Price. $11.25
BARNUM'S TRUNK. (R) Professor Barnum appears on the stage with his famous trunk, and after securing the services of a small clown proceeds to put posters on it. THE FOUR TROUBLESOME HEADS. (U) This film introduces some very ingenious tricks. The magician approaches, and after the usual bow, proceeds with the trick of taking off his own head, placing same on a table at his side. He is immediately supplied with another head, and in order to show the audience that there is no illusion about the trick, he crawls under the table upon which is supported his first head. A second head is also removed from his shoulders, and finally a third, all being exact likenesses of the first. He is supplied with a fourth head, and converses with the three severed heads on the table. Being musically inclined, he takes up a banjo and commences to play. The three severed heads are seen bobbing much to the discomfort of the magician, who smashes the banjo over two of them, causing them to disappear. The third head is treated likewise, whereupon he throws his fourth head into the air, which again descends onto his shoulders. The magician then makes his bow and retreats from the scene. A surprising and marvelous illusion. Code word, BELT. Length 15 feet. Price.....$9.00

LOVE WILL FIND A WAY. (G) A young man calls on his best girl and upon seeing the young man's mother appears. Here the girl appears, and exchanges glances with her lover. The mother commands her daughter to go to her room. Upon hearing this the lover decides to wait while outside. Soon his girl appears at a window on the top floor of the house, and they arrange a method of meeting. A telegraph pole which is located in front of the house is used as a means of gaining this point. The scene now changes to a view of the top of the house, and the girl is seen at her window. Soon the young man is seen climbing the pole. As he reaches the top and is directly opposite the window, the girl secures a broom girl's strength, the lover, in his anxiety to reach her, catches hold of the broom and swings free of the pole. His weight is too much for his sweetheart, and she lets go of the broom, precipitating the young man to the sidewalk many feet below. As he strikes the ground his body is knocked to pieces. The ambulance is called and the remains carefully laid on a stretcher, but as the orderlies are about to place them in a wagon, they suddenly become jointed attendants, and the young man sits up. This frightens the ambulance directions. Upon looking around the lover sees his sweetheart, and hastily jumps to her side, embracing and kissing her rapturously. Code word, VAIGULIAN. DOG FACTORY. (F) On the walls of the factory different varieties of frankfurters are hung. Each is marked with the breed of dog it is made from. A combined dog and bologna making machine is seen in the foreground of the picture, and two Germans are working industriously over it. A tramp enters with about a dozen dogs of various types, and sells them to the Germans. They are soon transformed into sausage and the tramp departs with the cash. Next one to enter is a customer, a dude, and he wants a spaniel. The dogs made and sold, and chappie disappears. A number of customers follow and are supplied with dogs that suit their fancies. Finally a tough enters and wants a bull dog. A Boston bull is produced, but this does not suit him. He wants a fighting bull. The fighting bull is made, and as it jumps from the machine, it grabs the tough by the pants, and dog and man mix up in a rolling match all over the floor. The tough finally releases himself and disappears, leaving the fighting bull dog to be again turned into bologna. Code word, VALETANT. Length, 240 feet. Class A. Price.....$36.00

LA CHIMERA. (D) Our friend, the magician, first steps forward and produces an ivory billiard ball from space. With the wave of his hand he changes it into a full sized bowling ball, and in order to show that there is no limit, there ability makes and we change and holds in his hand a large cloth, known in magician circles as a "cloud." From this he produces a sleek and prosperous-looking rabbit, and then, apparently from nowhere, the stage is graced by the appearance of a charming lady in fancy costume, holding the foiled in front of the lady, but allowing her head and shoulders to appear, he gradually raises the lower part of the cloth, when it is seen that her "visible means of support" have entirely disappeared, leaving only the head and shoulders pendant in the atmosphere. WEARY HUNTERS AND THE MAGICIAN. (G) Two hunters who have procured no game are seen to be lamenting their misfortune in a forest. A magician appears and advises them that for a remunerative consideration he will produce a quantity of game for them. They immediately accept his proposition and hand him the money. The magician then takes off his silk hat and produces a large number of rabbits therefrom, and as they scamper through the forest, the hunters bring them down with their shotguns. They are profuse in their thanks to the magician, and stringing their rabbits on a pole, start for home in a victorious manner. Code word, UNXINLUCH. Length, 60 feet. Price, $7.20.

"THE PRINCE OF DARKNESS" OR THE DRUNKARD'S DELUSION. (D) Some very remarkable effects are obtained by the reversal of the motion of the negative. A man comes home, somewhat under the influence of liquor, and starts to remove his outer clothes. As fast as he removes each article and throws it from him, it immediately flies back, and when he is completely bewildered by this weird proceeding, His Satanic Majesty himself suddenly appears, and the man collapses. Code, GADENTHUEL. 10 feet. Price, $2.25.

METAMORPHOSIS OF THE KING OF SPADES. (Q) The conjurer appears and produces a pack of cards. After performing various sleight-of-hand tricks, he picks up the king of spades, and by a few passes, enlarges it until the body of the picture is full life size. He places the card end up on a chair. Next he commands the picture to come to life. A game of cards is introduced, but from the king's speculations it is evident that the conjurer is trying to cheat. Before the king has a chance to rise from his seat to remonstrate, however, the magician commands him to return to his inanimate form. This done, the card is gradually reduced to its original size. After shuffling the pack of cards, the conjurer tosses them on the table, where they are mysteriously built up in the form of a house. Length, 38 feet. Price, $11.75.

ANIMATED CARTOON. (M) An artist appears and proceeds to draw the face of a boy on the canvas. He no sooner draws the outline, than the face assumes life and makes grimaces to everybody. Our artist proceeds to draw a bottle of wine, a glass and a cigar, which he takes from the canvas and makes use of in the "good old way." The face on the canvas takes exception to the treatment received at the hands of the artist and shows his displeasure by performing somersaults on the canvas; each time he turns he presents a different face. Length, 100 feet. Price, $11.00.

TEMPTATION OF ST. ANTHONY. (U) Poor old St. Anthony is seen meditating in his hermit's cave, but suddenly appears before him a vision of a beautiful young lady. He endeavors to ward off her charms and temptation, but does not succeed until most extraordinary incidents occur, in which four or five young ladies combine in torturing him. Code word, THIPSTONY. A MYSTERIOUS PORTRAIT. (T) The interior of an artist's studio a large frame on an easel. The illusionist steps behind and through the frame, showing that there is no connection with the back or the floor. For effect he places a black cloth in the frame, and while standing in front of the same causes it to evolve from an indistinct cloud an absolute likeness of himself, full figure, in frame, which apparition begins a very animated discussion with the original, after which it dissolves into nothingness in as mysterious a manner. THE FRAUDULENT BEGGAR. (T) An apparently legless beggar, one of the many specimens of professional alms-seekers who infest large cities, exhorting those who pass to contribute in the name of charity. He has lost his legs (temporarily) in a sidewalk coal hole, which serves him well in his ingenious optical illusion, which makes him appear as a legless unfortunate. A policeman appears who is "next" to the scheme, when the fakir suddenly recovers his legs and starts down the street on a run, pursued by a large dog. Code word, BEGGAR. Length, 50 feet. TRAGEDY IN MID AIR. (F) Two aeronauts are shown in the basket of their balloon preparatory to making an ascent, and the huge ball let go. It sails up in the air, and as it goes out of sight the scene changes and shows it sailing through space at a rapid pace. The aeronauts enjoy the scenery through their telescopes, and each view is shown the audience. Suddenly a storm breaks and the rain pours down in torrents. The wind blows the balloon through space at a terrific pace, and as it covers the sea a flash of lightning strikes it, setting the gas afire and demolishing the entire sheet. The basket with its contents are precipitated to the water and are rescued by a boatman after a hard struggle to keep them from drowning until help arrives. Code, VAPULCO. Length, 180 feet. Class B. Code word, UNINCENSED. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

THE BEGGAR'S DREAM. (T) A poor ragged beggar is seen stretched upon his straw bed in a dilapidated attic. The scene which follows illustrates the dream of a poor hungry man. A fairy suddenly makes her appearance, and with her magic wand causes the attic to change into the interior of a palatial drawing room, in the center of which she introduces a table laden with a sumptuous dinner. The beggar still in his rags is transformed into a club swell, of fashion, edly a charming young lady, attired in the height of fashion, whom he greets and invites to partake of the dinner before him. As they seat themselves the chairs disappear from under them, and the entire scene changes to that of the original scene—the attic—with the poor beggar kicking and rolling on the straw mattress, evidently disturbed by the thoughts of the dinner, and so forth, which was only a dream. Code word, BELMAR. Length, 75 feet. Price, $9.00

DOWN IN THE COAL MINE. (X) Scene 1—The picture opens showing the coal miner's family at home. Father and son leave for their work. They kiss their dear ones good-bye, not knowing if they ever may return. Scene 2—Men and horses are carried down to the mines, and we see them as soon bringing the coal to the air-shafts, from where they are hoisted to the surface. Scene 3—A terrible explosion is heard. The lights are extinguished. Darkness is throughout. Water rushes into the mines before the other willing hands come to save themselves. Soldiers, firemen and other willing hands come to the rescue, risking their own lives. Scene 4—Among the victims of the mine explosion is the son whom we have seen parting in the morning. The mother rushes frantically to the side of her dead son, and the most dramatic incident closes this beautiful film. Code word, WACOMINE. 650 feet. Price, $71.50

VICTIMS OF THE STORM. (Q) A long standing feud between two neighboring families makes the association of the respective son and daughter most loathable. The scene opens showing the careless of the two families divided by a wall. The parents are seen scolding their children. The young lovers, seeing that they cannot meet and are turned in their paternal homes, go walking in the woods, and are surprised by a terrible thunder-storm. Seeking refuge under a huge tree the young man is struck by lightning, and the unhappy girl has seen him for help, and with the aid of some friends she carries him to her father's home. She nurses him back to life, and his father, seeing his son is dead and saved by the brave girl, consents to their marriage. 210 feet. Price, $29.52

A KENTUCKY FEUD. (D) The great Hatfield-McCoy duels shown in moving pictures. The story is based on the historic feud of the Hatfield-McCoy clans, both of which are now about exterminated by years of duels and assassinations. Nowhere in the world, except possibly in Corsica, has warfare between two families been carried to such bitter extremes. Throughout our production runs the romantic love story of Jim Hatfield and Sally McCoy, and the culminating scene of the tragedy is a duel to the death with bowie knives between the girl's brother and her lover, witnessed by the girl herself. In this case a small boy of the McCoy clan is caught by Jim Hatfield, the youngest shoots at Jim, but kills the elder Mrs. Hatfield instead. The Hatfields take their mother home, and threaten vengeance. The carriage arrives at the Hatfield home. Sally McCoy comes and orders her home; a bullet from a Hatfield rifle strikes him, and he rolls off his horse. The Hatfields, not satisfied, start out to storm the McCoy house. Jim Hatfield coaxes Sally McCoy, his sweetheart, to go with him. The fight is discovered, and another McCoy is killed. The McCoy's start in pursuit. They meet on a mountain road, and a kin. The Hatfields pursue. The fight continues until only Sally McCoy survives. The last three scenes will be furnished in moonlight effect if desired. Length, 655 feet. Price, $81.00

THE TRAIN WRECKERS. (G) The opening picture shows a neat little cottage, where an elderly man, who is a switchman in a nearby rail on the porch. girl has arrived with her father's dinner. He is setting the switches for a train approaching in the distance. When he has finished his dinner she takes the pail, and starts for home, but on entering some woods, suddenly comes upon a gang of roughly dressed men sitting on the ground and talking with great earnestness. Quickly stepping behind a nearby tree, she learns they are planning to wreck the next express train. One of the gang, coming up from behind, discovers the girl, rushes up and seizes her. The men then all gather around, gag her, and bind her to a tree. They then hurry away to a wild spot in a bend of the road. Cross ties are placed on the track and the gang hide among the trees close by and wait for the train. The engine changes to the woods where the girl was left. She is vainly struggling free herself, when her pet dog appears. He succeeds in self, and sends the dog off to warn her father. He soon returns, closely followed by the girl's father. In the meantime the girl has picked up her dinner pail, and reached the track before the arrival of the train. She quickly removes her red petticoat and hurries up the track to flag the express, and the engineer brings the train to a stop within a few feet of the cross ties. The crew remove the ties from the track, and with the passengers gather round the girl, and board the train, which starts off with all the passengers waving their hands and shouting farewells to the little heroine. She starts for home, and one of the train wreckers snatches up behind and knocks her senseless. The whole gang appear, and maddened by their fruitless attempt to wreck the train, place her body across the track with her head over the rail. The next scene shows the gang arriving at a railroad tool house. With a heavy timber they batter in the door, steal the hand car, place it on the track, and make their escape. We now return to where the wreckers left the girl on the track. A train is rapidly approaching, but the engineer, who is the girl's lover, hurries along the running board and climbs down on the pilot, and just as she appears doomed, he reaches down and lifts the unconscious girl from the track, while the train rushes on. The train is stopped at a stop and the passengers rush out pell mell, and aid in restoring the girl to consciousness. Her father now appears, and she gives him and the train crew the details. Uncoupling the engine, the train crew, with a number of volunteers, start off in pursuit of the desperadoes, while some of the passengers carry the girl into the car. The engine is fast gaining on them. One of the crew is in a crouching position on the locomotive pilot, keeping up a steady rain of shots at the fleeing men. One by one the desperadoes fall, either killed or mortally wounded, until only one is left on the hand car. Jumping from the car he is brought down by a shot from one of the crew, but raising himself on his elbow, his last shot kills the man who bravely stuck to his post on the engine pilot, while a volley from the remnant of the train crew ends his life. LIFE OF AN AMERICAN POLICEMAN. (F) Copyrighted Dec. 1905. These pictures were taken with the sanction and co-operation of the Police Commissioners of New York City, and all the policemen who took part in the pictures were members of the Metropolitan Police Department. The pictures are perfect as to detail, action and life and happenings. The pictures were first shown at the benefit entertainment for the Police Relief Fund, at the Grand Central Palace, New York City, December 5, 1905, and at a similar entertainment at Schwaen Hall, Brooklyn, N. Y., December 12, 1905, and subsequently at Proctor's Twenty-third Street, New York City, and they caused a tremendous sensation everywhere. The "River Tragedy" and the "Desperate Encounter between Birdie and Po" are undoubtedly the most thrilling and realistic scenes. In order to give a selection between these two scenes, as well as to keep the production within a reasonable length, we will furnish this picture complete with either of the above scenes, as the customer may select, the length in each case for the entire production being 1,000 feet. how gladly it is received by the childless wife of the rich man. While she has been away, all of her goods are thrown into the street, her two-year-old child placed on top of the heap, and left at the mercy of the storm. A policeman takes the child to a place of safety, but when the mother comes back, she finds her second child gone and her little home in ruins. In desperation she rushes back to the home of the rich man where she has left the baby, and, exhausted with cold and hunger, she faints on the doorstep. She is there discovered by the benevolent millionaire, and is taken into the house, revived by the millionaire and his wife, and her baby restored to her. The millionaire and his wife accompany her back to her home, and there the picture comes to a happy ending when the second child is restored to her by the policeman, and her rent is paid and she is left with sufficient means to take care of her two youngsters. This picture has made a hit wherever it has been shown. It has excellent photographic quality. Code, REBEL. Length 610 feet. Price.....$16.80

THE "WHITE CAPS." (F) During the Westward March of civilization in America during the past fifty years, certain social conditions developed which had to be regulated and controlled by unusual methods. A lawless and criminal element almost invariably accompanied the advance guard of civilization, and to keep this element in check, the law-abiding citizens were compelled to organize for their own self protection. The "Vigilantes" during the gold excitement in Ohio, Indiana and other Western States, are well known organizations which dealt summarily with outlaws and the criminal classes in general. In a most realistic manner, the methods employed by the "White Caps" to rid the community of undesirable citizens is shown in a case where a drunkard and wife beater is given a good out of tar and feathers. THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY. (G) This sensational and highly tragic subject has made a decided "hit" wherever shown. It was posed and acted in faithful duplication of the genuine "holdups" and was when taken perfect from a photographic standpoint, and is true to life, the negative has done such heavy service, hence we would recommend in its place "THE TRAIN WRECKERS." Code, YACUN. Length, about 750 feet. Price, $111.00.

WHO SAID CHICKEN? (M) All crows like chicken. This fellow is no exception to the rule, and to see the expression on his face when somebody mentioned the toothsome bird to him proves the fact conclusively. The subject is that of a darkey of immense proportions exclusively. The head occupies the entire screen. Incidentally the subject was that of a southern darkey, said to be 38 years of age. He has about three teeth left and they look like old fashioned tomtatoes. A perfect picture of facial expression. Code, CALOMEL. Length 50 feet. Price.....$5.50

THE CHICKEN THIEF. (D) Copyrighted 1904 as a Dramatic Production. A rollicking comedy of the Sunny South, full of laughter from start to finish. A typical Southern darkey is devouring a section of fried chicken. The play opens with an interior view of a gentleman's chicken coop in which over a hundred chickens are seen on their roosts at night. Two chicken thieves creep into the coop and gather in a bagful of the plumpiest fowls. When the theft is discovered, the farmer and his son set an immense bear trap outside of the coop, preparatory to another visit by the thieves. Next scene is shown a chicken dinner in a typical darkey cabin, faithful in every detail to Southern manners. The chicken thieves go back after another load, and the bear trap gets in its work. The succeeding scenes are united to give the effect of moonlight. There is a wild pursuit through the woods and country roads by a posse of farmers, and one of the chicken thieves is brought down by a charge of bird shot. The other with the bear trap still on his leg, arrives at his cabin while a dance is in progress and is conveyed in the attic. The farmers burst in and search the place, and are about to leave when there is a terrific crash, and the chicken thief comes down through the ceiling amidst a shower of fat and plaster head first, hanging by one leg fastened in the bear trap which is caught to the rafters. It is magnificent in photography throughout. Code, RETELIX. 258 feet. Price.....$00.06

THE GREAT JEWEL MYSTERY. (C) A Pinkerton Detective story in motion pictures—Sherlock Holmes Outlines—One of the greatest detective mysteries in the annals of the Pinkerton service relates to the disappearance of a jewel casket containing over $100,000 worth of gems, necklaces, tiaras, bracelets, brooches, rings, etc., belonging to a prominent New York society woman. This casket was shipped by one of the great express companies from New York to Newport at the opening of the society season, and although every precaution was taken to guard the treasure, it vanished from the sealed express car enroute, and no trace of it has ever been found. Many theories have been advanced as to the probable manner of the theft, and in this remarkable moving picture production, we illustrate the most plausible of these theories. This explanation of the mystery has it

SHOOTING THE CHUTES—Coney Island. (C) A stunning picture of this popular summer sport. Three boats are propelled from top of chutes to the end of the tank, inside of half a minute. A very exciting scene. Code, MULINERETTE. Length 25 feet. Price, $3.12

A FATAL ATTEMPT TO LOOP-THE-LOOP ON A BICYCLE. (C) Showing the entire catastrophe resulting from the attempt of William Gotham to ride around a loop-the-loop on a bicycle at Luna Park. While the enormous crowd watches him, he comes down the slide with the speed of the wind, eludes the loop, but as he sees the bottom his wheel swerves from the path and the rider crashes into the framework of the structure. Attendants rush up and carry away the injured man. Code, GASLEYPING. Length 30 feet. Price, $6.85

MEET ME DOWN AT LUNA, LENA. (M) Copyright 1905. This film shows how John spends money on his best girl. He certainly gets all that's coming to him and a little more. We see Coney Island from one end to the other, and thoroughly enjoy the trip. Just as well as John with his Lena. Code, LUNA. 325 feet. Price, $35.75

SHOOTING THE CHUTES (C) A great picture of the famous Chutes; full of life and activity; a good picture and sure to please. Code word, CHUTES. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

FIGHTING THE FLAMES—DREAMLAND. (D) A condensed view of the big fire show at Dreamland, Coney Island's mammoth new resort. Several snapshots are first shown of the comedy scenes in the street, and then comes the parade of the fighters, and finally a complete view of the conflagration, of the arrival of the firemen and their work with the scaling ladders, nets, etc., in rescuing people from the burning building. A close view is given of people jumping into the net. Code, RETARDATIF. 45 feet. Price, $51.00

THE LEAP FROG RAILWAY. (C) A striking picture of Coney Island's latest and most hair-raising novelty. "The Leap Frog Railway," in which two trains meet in head on collision, one passing over the other. Code, RETARDATIF. 121 feet. Price, $14.53

Travel United States—Niagara Falls.

So much has been said of Niagara Falls and its surrounding beautiful scenery that it is unnecessary to enlarge on it. The following films are taken from the best portions of the Falls and shows them to an advantage. The panorama of the Gorge Route is beautiful beyond description.

the golden west. The Arkansas river rushes like a mill race between two walls of rock 2,000 feet high. Nearly or quite four miles of track are displayed in this picture and that includes not only the best portion of the Royal Gorge but the wonderful hanging bridge as well. Code word GIFFIN. Length, 150 feet. Price.....$18.00

PIKE'S PEAK TOBOGGAN SLIDE. (T) One of the sights of the Cog Road is the little toboggan the workmen use for coming down the road after the trains have all departed for the day. This toboggan is simply a board with a tin tile, runs between the two rack rails. A piece of pipe extending across the outer rails act as a sort of guide or outrigger. A friction brake rubs between the racks. When a man is seated on the this funny affair he can drop down the slide three miles a minute if he so desires. A trail of fire shoots out behind him, and instant death with horrible hawking would follow a single hitch. The run was made by the general manager of the road in person. A fine film photographically and artistically. Code word, TOBOGGAN. Length, 100 feet. Price.....$12.00

ARRIVAL ON SUMMIT OF PIKE'S PEAK. (C) No more wonderful road exists in the world. The engines push the cars up the mountain and proceed them coming down. The rails serve only as a guide. Two rack bars into which cogs fit give a grasp for applying the power. The camera was placed on the summit, and shows the train slowly climbing over the edge of the mountain. When the train stops the people rush out and walk toward the camera. Very interesting. Code word, ARRIVAL. Length, 50 ft. Price.....$6.00

PANORAMA OF COG RAILWAY. (T) A very clever picture made from the front end of a cog train and showing the remarkable scenery between the half-way house and Hell Gate. One of the best of the Cog Road series and a good picture to have if you can't afford to get out. Code word, UPWARD. Length, 100 feet. Price, $12.00

LAVA SLIDES IN RED ROCK CANYON (U) Taken from a car placed ahead of the two engines on a regular express train which was pushed around the sharp curves at sixty miles an hour. The scenery seems to spring right at the audience and causes everybody to hold their breath. On the left of the scene are the lava slides, great masses of broken rock piled down the side of the mountain. The Flying Pan river with millions of trout rushes by on the right. The track twists and curves and seems to run directly into the mountain, but turns just in time and the camera catches a new and even more beautiful view.

Code word, RED. Length, 200 feet. Price.....$24.00

FUN IN THE GLENWOOD SPRINGS. The largest hot water pool in the world. Men and women are swimming, jumping, diving and walking on the banks. A toboggan slide and spring board furnished quite lively bits of stirring motion. Some of the girls slide down the chute and cut up queer antics as they strike the water. Nothing objectional to any audience. Code word, GLENWOOD. Length, 100 feet. Price.....$12.00

PANORAMA OF UTE PASS. (T) Five miles of the most sublime of Rocky Mountain scenery taken under exceptionally favorable circumstances. The Pass extends from Manitou through the mountains at the base of Pike's Peak. The narrow gorge was the pathway down which the Indians sought their sick and infirm out to the healing springs at the base of the peak and legend declares that no hunter how fiercely the tribes fought and struggled elsewhere there was never any trouble when the pilgrims were in the pass. The picture was taken from the pilot of a special train running nearly fifty miles an hour down a grade of 25 feet to the mile, around sharp curves of sixteen degrees, curvature and through nine tunnels. The track winds around the precipitous sides of the gulch over a roadbed blasted out of solid rock. Below, hundreds of feet are the little stream and the wagon road over which millions of dollars of treasure were brought from Leadville in the early days. This was the famous route of stage robbers. Code word, DOLOMITE. Length, 125 feet. Price.....$23.20

HYDRAULIC GIANTS AT WORK. (C) Hydraulic placer mining is an attractive subject for people who have read of the early days of California. FELLING AND SHIPPING HUGE TREES. (G) It shows the wood choppers felling enormous trees. As each tree falls, it is seen to carry with it all the small trees and many branches of the latter ones. After the trees are cut down they are hauled to the river by dunnies. A chute of heavy logs is built from a point high up on the banks of the river to a distance of about thirty feet out in the water, down the chutes into the water, where they are coupled together and floated down stream to a landing place near the saw mill s. As the logs strike the water when leaving the chutes, they throw the spray high in the air, presenting a beautiful effect in the picture. The landing place above referred to is next shown. Here is another chute up which the logs are hauled and loaded on cars specially constructed for this work. The next and last scene shows a train loaded of logs being hauled to the saw mill. An excellent piece of photography. Code word UPCLIMBING. Length, 35 feet. Class. B. Price.....$45.00

LAPLANDERS AND REINDEER. (U) Shows first a family of Laps outside their hut, then a life-sized picture of two men holding antlers; afterwards two women (one of whom is smoking) with a pretty little Lap child. The picture shows the facial expression of this marvelous race of people, who smear their bodies with oil, dress in skins, and live on the flesh of the reindeer, which they shepherd. After many objections had been overcome, they were persuaded to collect their reindeer from the hills, and bring them down to be kindred, when a picture was obtained of a herd of over 200 deer. A unique picture and one of much interest. Code word, VANTWEIK. Length, 120 feet. Class B. Price.....$16.60

FROM CHRISTIANIA TO NORTH CAPE. (R) After admiring the most beautiful streets of Christiania and its magnificent port, the excursionists board motor boats and are taken to the whinders anchored in Ramsdale Harbor. They are now in the open sea, surrounded by sea gulls of every variety, and at a distance is seen the beautiful panorama of the town Ploevick and the Waterfalls of Stalheafes. This picturesque excursion terminates with a visit to the Laplanders. The women and children collect the cod dried in the sun and pile them up one upon another. They then drive in a herd of reindeer, while others are seen at their huts attending their daily duties. We now arrive at the Cape North, and the midnight sun is seen above the horizon casting its rays of light in the beautiful still waters. Length 125 feet. Price.....$11.12

SAMOA DANCE. (U) A party of fifteen or twenty young men and women go through a lively "Siva Siva", or native dance. With a background of tropical shrubbery, such as can only be seen in Samoa, comparatively young Samoan women, make this a film of unusual interest. Code word ABRE. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

FIJIAN FIRE WALK OR FIRE DANCE. (T) Taken on island of Viti Levu, the Fijian islander knows how to do this. Following the fire walking, the almost naked attendants run wildly about, plucking leaves on top of the hot stones, from which great clouds of smoke curl skyward, and around which the curious mob of spectators surge and crowd. Code word ABLE. Length, 40 feet. Price, $4.80

CEREMONIAL PROCESSION AND FOOD OFFERING. (T) Ceremonial procession attending a "food offering" at Mullinu, near Apia, Samoa. A Talolo, or food offering, is one of the most interesting of native customs, and is given only when high honor is to be shown some distinguished guest. The procession is headed by four young men, bearing on their shoulders the roset pig, which is the joint gift of the men following, who also bear individual gifts of food. Following the roset pig, the chief's daughter and son dance forward, back and forth in the front of the approaching procession, swinging battle clubs and indulging in movements and war whoops which are almost barbarous. Finally, at the feet of the guest of honor, each in turn deposits his gifts of food, consisting largely of coconuts, bananas and breadfruit. The roadway along which the procession passes is arched with cocoanuts palms, and is most beautiful. Code word ABERRANT. Length, 115 feet. Price, $13.80

FIJIAN WAR DANCE OR MEKE. (T) About two hundred warriors, armed with ponderous war clubs and dressed in the traditional costumes of their forefathers, go through a swift drill or dance, executing some intricate and elaborate foot movements and bringing fans and war clubs into surprising climaxes. Such functions as this always accompanied the cannibal feasts of the old days, when humans were roasted and eaten. Many of these dancers are sons of men who have eaten human flesh many times. Code word ABLAZE. Length, 55 feet. Price, $6.00

SOLOMON ISLAND DANCE. (T) In the Solomon Islands, which lie off the north coast of Australia, is a race of one-time cannibals, who were as depraved as the Fijians. Only eight or ten years ago a party of missionaries were murdered and eaten by them. This shows about fifty men carrying idols and crude ornaments as they execute a wild and jerky dance which has the cannibalistic touch in every step. Code word ABLOKATE. Length, 40 feet. Price, $4.80

DIVING SCENE BY 33 SAMOAN BOYS AT APIA. (T) The Samoan is very fond of the water, and he is a bold and expert swimmer and diver. From a high spring-board the leader dives into the pool, and then the air is filled with a steady line of his fellows, who dive, leap or turn somersaults as they go down; and once in the water they splash and churn the water, while their bright faces express the fun they are having. Code word ABLOC. Length, 55 feet. Price, $6.00

SURF SCENE, FIJI. (U) This picture opens with the great waves dashed against the huge black rocks, beating itself into a white foam at the bottom, producing a soul-inspiring effect, and also giving a grand idea of the rocky coast of these islands. Code word ABLING. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

WATERFALL, SAMOA. (U) The scene shows one of the many pretty falls in the small streams of Samoa, giving a fair idea of the scenery in that country. Code word ABOIDER. Length, 45 feet. Price, $4.30

BUCKING BRONCHO CONTEST. (U) Nobody who has not actually seen a real bucking broncho on the western plains can have any idea of what it means to undertake to ride one of them. The real bucking broncho has no eastern cousins. The mannikiller and terror of the cowboy is a toy and household pet compared with the real thing. The picture shows a cowboy who tries to get astride this article of terror from the West. The cowboy maintains a supreme contempt for a man who can't ride anything but examples of vicious horse-tamers. Periodically at Sheridan, Wyo., Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver, Colo., the cow-boys get together the worst examples of the world's flesh holds tournaments—and then the champion of the world is selected. The picture shows every buck and twist of a horse who tried to throw his rider and kick him to death in an instant. Once he almost succeeded—but the plucky rider finally won the horse into submission and won the day. Code word BRENNAN. Length, 55 feet. Price.....$15.00

JEFFRIES EXERCISING IN HIS GYMNASIUM. (G) This is considered the best picture of the world's heavy weight champion James J. Jeffries, ever exhibited. Jeffries walks into the gymnasium at his quarters in Oakland, Cal., accompanied by Billy Delaney, and stepping to the wall begins exercising with the heavy weights. He begins the weight lifting, facing the camera, and during the exercises his back is turned to the audience, when his great muscles stand out in bold relief, and as he strains and tugs at the weights, they give one the impression of huge bands of knotted cords. GANS-MCGOVERN FIGHT. (U) With the exception of this film there are absolutely no genuine moving picture films representing genuine prize fights on the market. The prize fight films, so called, are either taken by the fight promoters and retained by them for exhibition, or else they are made up the day following the fight by imitators, who endeavor to the best of their ability, to reproduce that which occurred during the evening before between the genuine principals. This is a genuine picture taken while the fight was in actual progress, and represents the Brooklyn Terror, Terrence McGovern, actually engaged in one of his most famous fights. The Gans-McGovern fight took place in Chicago in the month of November, 1900. The enormous arena was brilliantly lighted by over 800 electric arcs, making the scene as bright as day and every detail from figures to the remotest corner of the auditorium, as well as the prize ring itself, is accurately and truthfully depicted in this wonderful film. The complete act embraces 900 feet of film, shows all the preliminaries of the fight, the care of the principals by their seconds and two rounds of as fast and furious fighting as was ever seen in the prize ring. McGovern pursues his usual tactics, went in to knock out his opponent without delay, and as Gans was clever on his part, one of the most brilliant and wonderful exhibitions of sparring ever witnessed was caught by the camera and is here reproduced for the benefit of our patrons. Code word, MCGOVERN. Length, 900 feet. Price.....$72.00

Bull Fights.

BULL FIGHT. (F) Grand entrance of bull fighters, including matadors, picadors and banderilleros. Picador is seen teasing a bull. Suddenly the enraged animal charges at the horse, and drives his long sharp horns into him. The picador dismounts, removes his lide and saddle, and shortly the horse staggers from loss of blood and drops dead. The matador is next seen. The bull charges at him, but he quickly steps aside and plunges his sword into the unfortunate animal between the shoulder blades. It reaches the heart and the bull drops over dead. He is then dragged from the ring by the funnies. Very realistic. Code EPSENDENG. Length, 175 feet. Class B. Price.....$51.00

BULL FIGHT WITH THE MATADORES SENOR DON LUIS A MAZZANTINI AND BOMAITA. (Q10) This bull fight, which leaves far behind all those represented up to the present date, is the most complete that exists. The spectator sees in turn all the incidents of the fight. Entrance of the cuadrilla, picadors on horseback, setting of banderillas, estocada, death and removal of the bull. The particularly emotional character of this scene justifies our recommending it most especially, as we are confident that all amateurs of strong emotions will be satisfied. Length, 57 feet. MOQUI INDIAN RAIN DANCE. (C) A most valuable record of the wild and unique ceremonies of the Moqui, Zuni, Navajo and Crow Indians. Many of these dances take place at very rare intervals; then for the most part they are guarded very jealously from the eyes of the curious white man. In the Rain Dance of the Moquis over a hundred Indians take part. They are arrayed in the most gorgeous trappings of their tribe. On their heads are enormous grotesque masks heavily decorated with eagle feathers. The chief warriors and medicine men of the tribe lead the dance. In the shadow of the adobe houses sit the old men of the tribe beating time with their tom-toms and rattles. This picture, with appropriate music and effect, is most impressive. Code word GAFFRE. Length, 118 feet. Class A. Price.....$17.70

RAIN DANCE AT OKAH. (C) A sacred dance by the Zuni Indians, in full festival attire. Several hundred of the Indians take part, dancing in unison in a long line at the foot of a terrace of characteristic Zuni mud houses, from the tops of which the squares wrapt in gaudy blankets watch the mysterious ceremony. Code word GAUGAMBELLA. Length, 216 feet. Class A. Price.....$33.40

INDIAN HIDEOUT DANCE. (U) Large body of Indians dressed in most hideous costumes imaginable hold dance in the middle of Main Street in Sheridan. Government officers prohibited this dance on prairie and insisted that it be held where enough people would be on hand to quell any disturbance. An amusing feature is the fact that the usual crop of Indian dogs is present and some cautions—half coyote—got very prominently into the picture. One of the most strange and weird Indian religious rites ever seen and its full significance is plainly shown in the picture. The Indians say this dance is their idea of the kind of fun the Great Spirit enjoys and they imagine he is sitting on his throne of gold laughing very heartily at the antics of the red children down below. Code word HIDEOUTS. Length, 50 feet. Price.....$4.00

CROW INDIAN WAR DANCE. (C) This is an exceedingly picturesque scene taken in the midst of a Crow encampment with typical Indian teepees in the background. Four old Indians sitting cross legged upon the ground beat upon their tom-toms, while the warriors, gay in their war paint and eagle feathers, dance around them. Code word GAUKELFUHR. Length, 51 feet. Class A. Price.....$7.65

CROW INDIAN FESTIVAL DANCE. (D) Taken amid the same surroundings as the previous picture and showing the same lot of Indians in a different dance. Code word GAUKELMANN. Length, 57 feet. Class A. Price.....$8.55

SHOSHONE INDIANS IN SCALP DANCE. (T) Uncle Sam has forbidden any more of these fierce ceremonies that stir up all latent bad blood in the Red men. The squaws are not permitted around while the dance is going on. The dancers did not like to have the photographer around and one—the most evil looking of the band—tried several times to shoot an arrow into the lens. He was pulled away by the agent who stopped the dance and compelled the Indians to disperse. Code word SHOSHONE. Length, 80 feet. Price.....$9.00

UTRI INDIAN SNAKE DANCE. (U) Never before have the Utes permitted the photographing of their snake dance. This weird rite is performed every fall after the harvest has been good and is a tribute to the snakes who are supposed to bring plenty of rain next season. After dancing around once or twice the chief puts his snake in his mouth. Some of the Indians drop their reptiles on the ground and tease them with feathers to get them to dance. The film is clear and bright and is not only fine photographically but is a most interesting subject. Code word SNAKES. Length, 60 feet. Price.....$7.50

THE PIONEERS. (C) This frontier picture taken in the wilderness shows the massacre of a settler and his family by the Indians, the burning of his cabin, the captivity of a little girl and her final rescue by Kit Carson and his scouts.

1. THE HOME IN THE WILDERNESS—Here we see the settler with his wife and babies in his rude log cabin in the wilderness. A pretty scene of domestic felicity.

2. BURNING OF THE CABIN AND MURDER OF THE SETTLERS—A little girl runs in with alarm. The door is quickly locked and barred and the long rifle appears at the loop-hole and is frequently fired. The Indians gradually close in on the ill-fated home, and finally have it ablaze from a fire of brushwood. The door is then battered down and the entire family, with the exception of the little girl, cruelly murdered.

3. DISCOVERY OF THE BODIES. THE OATH—Kit Carson and his scouts come upon the scene, find the ruins of the cabin and the mutilated bodies, and vow an oath of vengeance. A very impressive scene.

4. CROSSING THE MOUNTAINS—The Indians, with the captive girl, are seen crossing a mountain trail.

5. THE TRAPPERS ON THE TRAIL—The same scene as No. 4, showing Kit Carson and his men following the trail. The scenery is very wild and picturesque.

6. RESCUE OF THE CHILD FROM THE INDIANS—This is the last picture of the series, and shows Kit Carson and his scouts in a fierce fight with the Indians, and the rescue of the little girl. Code, GAT-TECHIE. 60 feet. Price.....$7.20

EGGS HATCHING—Ridgefield Park, N. J. (U) A remarkable picture, taken at the Red Dovecote Henneries, showing a number of eggs in the actual process of hatching. The chickens are seen bursting through their shells and tumbling out. Code, FUSURIS. Length, 34 feet. Price.....$6.48

TWO HOURS AFTER HATCHING—Ridgefield Park, N. J. (D) This is a companion picture to the above and shows the same lot of chickens two hours after they have emerged from the shell. Very lively and cunning. Code, FUSURORUM. Length, 27 feet. Price.....$3.24

THE GIRLS IN OVERALLS. (T) The story briefly told. Regis Vidal settled on a 25-acre ranch near Gunnison, Colorado. Eight daughters and one son were born. As the family grew up times became hard and the father was compelled to borrow $10.00 on the ranch. He fell into the clutches of a money-lending shark and the worry caused his death. A year later the mother died, leaving the children even more deeply in debt. With true spirit the girls decided to work the ranch themselves. The girls donned overalls and took up the heavy drudgery in the field. Like true French maidens they lost none of their graces or charms. Neither could they forego the habit of wearing high-heeled shoes while at work. The film shows the girls at work and at play. Code word, GIRLS. Length, 350 feet. Price.....$42.00

FUN ON THE FARM. (M) On a large farm, the farmers are seen at their work, plowing, sowing and harrowing. A fine picture. Coming home from their work, they find the dairy maids at the wash tub. One of the farmers tries to kiss a pretty maiden. There seems to be no objection on her part, and the fun begins. The farmers are seen stacking corn of immense size. While the farmers are in the field, a darling visits the chicken coop. Seeing some pumpkins, he also takes a few of these, and quickly escapes. The farmers pursue the fleeing chicken thief. After a long and lively chase, they catch him, tie up and feather him, and carry him riding on a rail down to the water, where he gets a good ducking. The dairy maids are seen milking the cows. One of the farmers tries to kiss the prettiest of the maidens, but is punished, to the great delight of the audience. After work is over, boys and girls go for a straw ride to a husking bee. They have lots of fun. Having arrived at their destination, they sing, play games, and enjoy all kinds of merrymaking. One of the farmers tries to kiss the dairy maid, but she laughingly runs away. While husking corn, one of the men finds the red ear, which gives him the privilege of kissing the girls. He tries to kiss the dairy maid, but she again runs away. The last scene shows the farmer sitting by his sweetheart. In his hand he holds the red ear which he shows her, asking for the kiss due him. First she acts somewhat shy, but she soon seems to enjoy the kissing game, and one of the liveliest kissing scenes ends the picture. Length 55 feet. Price.....$7.75

Children.

THE PUPPIES AND THE LITTLE TEASER. (T) This picture shows what a tease a healthy, lively child can be. She has taken six little puppies away from their mother and lets them play a few minutes in a can of milk, so as to see what they would do. She takes them away from them; then there is trouble and lots of it. Code word, BECK. Length, 50 feet. Price.....$6.00

CHILDREN FEEDING DICKLINGS. Wrentham, Mass. (D) Taken on a duck farm, and shows a series of feeding pens, in which are ducks of various ages. The children walk from one pen to another, feeding the ducks with corn, a very pretty and interesting sight. Code, FISCHINARUM. 50 feet. Price.....$5.12

HEY DING DIDDLE. (M) This picture is made after the old rhyme: Hey ding-diddle, the cat and the fiddle,
The cow jumped over the moon;
The little dog laughed to see such sport,
And the dish hopped away with the spoon.
All this and more is seen in this interesting picture, and it is very funny. Code, CATCHUP. 50 feet. Price.....$5.50

Last night I lay a sleeping,
There came a dream so fair;
I stood in old Jerusalem
Beside the Temple there;
I heard the children singing,
And ever as they sang
Methought the voice of Angels
From Heav'n in answer rang;
Methought the voice of Angels
From Heav'n in answer rang!

Jerusalem, Jerusalem,
Lift up your gates and sing,
Hosanna in the highest,
Hosanna to your King!

And then methought my dream
was changed,
The streets no longer rang
Hush'd were the glad Hosannas
The little children sang.
The sun grew dark with mystery,
The morn was cold and chill,
As the shadow of a cross arose,
Upon a lonely hill,
As the shadow of a cross arose,
Upon a lonely hill,

Jerusalem, Jerusalem,
Hark! how the Angels sing,
Hosanna in the highest,
Hosanna to your King!

Religious. Films of the Passion Play, or Life of Christ.

Moving Pictures of the Scenes and Incidents in the Life of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

The Passion Play has become so well known as a reproduction of the life of Christ, and has taken such a prominent place for the education and entertainment of the public, that its value from that standpoint cannot be compared with any other motion picture film that has ever been produced. Several attempts have been made to render a satisfactory reproduction of this sacred drama, but with most of them numerous inaccuracies and lack of dignity subjects them to more or less criticism which detracts much from their value, and is a source of considerable annoyance, both to the audience and the lecturer.

We have selected the only set that we believe to be entirely satisfactory, and are able to submit a complete list covering the entire series of Passion Play films. This reproduction is based on strictly authentic sources, showing the birth, life, sufferings and death of the "savior." The parts taken by the disciples, the soldiers, and the multitudes, are exceedingly well portrayed.

Without doubt these films represent the highest point of art in photography and the finest ever placed on the market. To those who are not prepared to purchase the complete set of films, we can furnish as many as they want, as all subjects are sold separately.

Any of the Passion Play Films can be had in 50-foot lengths.

- 17-CARRYING THE CROSS. (U) This scene shows the infuriated mob on the way to the place of Crucifixion. Jesus is assisted by Simon of Cyrene, but weary and suffering from the loss of blood by the Jews. Code word ABSTERY. Length, 50 feet. Price, $7.50
- 18-MIRACLE OF ST. VERONIQUE. (T) Loaded down with the cross woman, St. Veronique comes forward and offers the Lord her handkerchief. She places it upon His face, and, on removing same, the features of our Lord are seen imprinted upon it. Code word ABSTERED. Length, 50 feet. Price, $1.50

- 19-CRUCIFIXION (T) This scene shows Christ on the Cross, between the other two crosses upon which are hanging the two thieves ABSTERGE. Length, 55 feet. Price, $6.00
- 20-THE DEATH OF CHRIST. (T) This is a very effective scene. Jesus is seen in agony as the cruel soldiers pierce His side with the spears and place the sponge with vinegar to His mouth. In the end the revilers were startled with the cry: "My God, my God, why has Thou forsaken me?" Then, with a look of forgiveness, He said: "It is finished," and the end came. Code word ABSTERED. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00
- 21-TAKING CHRIST FROM THE CROSS. (U) Showing Jesus as He hangs to the Cross in death. Mary, the mother of Jesus, and Mary Magdalene are weeping at the foot of the Cross. Joseph and Nicodemus are seen taking down the body of Jesus and carefully wrapping up in a white sheet for burial. The two women kneel and weep as the cortege prepares to depart. Code word ABSTERY. Length, 50 feet. Price, $7.50

2-PLACING JESUS IN THE TOMB. (T) This scene shows the tomb. Nicodemus and Joseph are seen to enter, carefully carrying the body of our Saviour. Mary, the mother of Jesus, faints and falls into the arms of Mary Magdalene. The body of Jesus is placed in the tomb and the great stone is placed before it. They then depart, leaving Him therein. Code word ABSTERON. Length, 75 feet. Price, $8.00

3-RESURRECTION. (T) Outside of the tomb the soldiers are seen sleeping. They have been guarding the body of Jesus; an angel is seen standing on the side of the great stone. Suddenly the great stone is seen falling and Jesus is seen coming out and walking away. Mary Magdalene approaches the tomb and discovers that the body of Jesus is carried away. Code word ABSTINE. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

4-ASCENSION. (U) Jesus is leading His disciples to Mount Olivet. There He stops; His disciples gather around Him. Every eye is on Him. Stretching forth His hand He blesses those whom He has loved unto the end, and while He is blessing them He disappears from the earth and a cloud receives Him and carries Him out of their sight. Code word ABSINET. Length, 50 feet. Price, $12.00

5-THE END. (U) A beautiful and fitting climax. Jesus is seen sitting on a throne in Heaven surrounded by His disciples. Angels are hovering around, singing praises to our Lord. Code word ABSINT. Length, 50 feet. Price, $6.00

WONDERFUL DRAUGHT OF FISHES. (Q) The scene is laid upon the lake of Galilee with Jesus instructing Peter to cast his net yet another time, in spite of previous discouraging results. The last cast succeeds beyond his expectations, for Peter draws up so many fish that the nets are strained almost to breaking. 111 feet. Price $15.72.

THE TRANSFIGURATION OF JESUS CHRIST. (Q) Jesus is seen praying on the mountain, while his disciples, Peter, James and John sleep. As they awaken, they see Jesus transfigured. His face as the shining sun, and his raiment white as snow. A luminous cloud appears upon the mountain, and the voice of God says: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Follow Him." 65 feet. Price $13.40.

ROCK OF AGES. (E) A sublime religious subject, illustrating the well-known hymn. A beautiful girl is seen clinging to a rock, over which huge billows are dashing, sending great volumes of spray and surf high into the air. As the maiden appears to be exhausted, and about to give up in despair, a cross appears on the rock, showing at first dimly, but gradually growing clear until it stands out in bold relief. The maiden then takes courage, and throwing her arms about the cross, clings to it in safety, while the waves continue to rage. Code word, UNRESTFULLY. Length, 50 ft. Price $7.60.

CHRISTIAN MARTYRS. (T.R) Slaves are seen cleaning up the arena from debris of a carriage race. This done, an imposing parade of warriors, gladiators, soldiers and slaves enter the arena, and approach before the throne of the dictator, the gladiators salute group of soldiers leading Christian captives before the throne are ordered to bind the victims to the post, and the multitude is wading the helpless Christians and tear them to pieces, while the gladiators are ready to encourage the lions in their cruel work. 115 feet. Price $13.80.

JOSEPH SOLD BY HIS BROTHERS. (N) This film depicts the Biblical scene when Joseph is sold by his brothers and taken to Egypt, where he finally landed in jail. He explains to his fellow-prisoners their dreams saying one will go free while the other will hang. His predictions come true. The King has some dreams which he wanted to have explained, and he had Joseph brought before him. Joseph explained his dreams and was made Governor. We see Joseph is tempted by Pharaoh's wife, and how he is crowned Governor. This picture makes an exceedingly fine show for church fairs. Code word, JOSEPH. Length, 625 feet. Price $66.53.

THE LIFE OF MOSES. (T.Q) In six pictures. 1—Moses drawn out of the water. 2—The burning bush. 3—Passing through the Red Sea. 4—The Hebrews in the wilderness. 5—Upon Mount Sinai. 6—Worship of the golden calf. This very beautiful film shows us the whole life of Moses from his very infancy to the moment when he delivers the ten commandments to his people. The story of Moses is too well known to be repeated and we assure our customers that this film is the truest reproduction possible, its photography being superb. We feel convinced that this subject will soon reach the same high standard as our world-known "Life and Passion of Christ." Length, 524 feet. Price $62.88.

BELTHAZAR'S FESTIVAL. (T.Q) Belthaza, the king of Babylon, and all his courts are seen enjoying themselves with wine and food. After having indulged all day and night men and women fall asleep. The king awakes and to his horror sees the unknown hand write the famous words: "Mene, Tekel, Phares." He falls back to sleep, but soon after the walls of Babylon are taken by Cyrus and his brave Persians. Belthaza and his entire court are slain by the conquerors, who demolish the castle and plunder the burning city. Length, 110 feet. Price $13.50.

JOSEPH SOLD BY HIS BROTHERS. (R) Scene in five pictures. 1—Sold by his brothers. 2—In prison. 3—Tempted by Potiphar's wife. 4—Explaining the king's dream. 5—Joseph's triumph. Apothecists. Length, 625 feet. Price $74.76.

DANIEL IN THE LIONS' DEN. (T.Q) The story of the prophet is too well known to be repeated. We witness the scene where Daniel is bound to a post by Cyrus' soldiers. The lions, instead of devouring the prophet, lie down quietly and even lick his hands. Cyrus, who from the outside has been watching the scene, is so surprised that he orders Daniel to leave the den, and slowly and unmolested the prophet walks out of the den of lions. 100 feet. Price $12.00.

opening a huge demon's head arises therefrom and floats through the air. As the battle on the table changes into a little black dog, which springs to the floor as he reaches to take a drink; he rings for the chambermaid, but immediately kicks her out. She returns reinforced with the landlord and the butler. All four now engage in a most furious fight, in which bedclothes, chairs, were, pitcher, etc., take an active part. The drummer wraps a towel around his head, and pouring the contents of the ice water pitcher upon it, woeily laments the title, "Such a Headache." Code word, UNDERSCORE, for

CARRIE NATION, SALOON SMASHER. (D) The interior of a bar-room with customers is shown. Mrs. Nation and her crusaders come in with their hatchets and proceed to demolish everything in sight. Mrs. Nation knocks out the spigot from a beer barrel and is deluged by its contents. Code, GALOPPASSI. 26 feet. Price, $3.12.

The Shadows of a Great City

--OR--

The Slums of New York.

This Entertainment Set is a departure from the customary style used for temperance or reform work, being more on the descriptive order. Intensely interesting to all classes but at the same time it has a strong moral influence and is adapted to the requirements of Ministers, Temperance Lecturers and General Missionary Work as well as to the Exhibitor who is interested only from a financial standpoint.

.....61 VIEWS—WITH LECTURE.....

FOR temperance work we consider this set to be one of the strongest and most attractive ever produced. The series illustrates the mode of life, habits, etc. of the lower strata of society, and the surroundings within which they dwell. There has been an oft repeated assertion that one-half the world does not know how the other half lives, and in this series we reproduce the unfortunate half whose lives are passed in wretched hovels, in the breeding spots of vice and crime.

Lantern Slides from Original Negatives Illustrating The Yellowstone
..... National Park

By common consent the term "Wonderland" has been applied to this marvelous region. This name is neither far-fetched nor exaggerated. One who could even approach the truth in vividness of description would lay himself open to the charge of wildest romancing, on the part of those who have never seen the park.

With its mammoth geysers, that send streams of boiling water and steam hundreds of feet in the air, its beautiful terraces presenting all the colors of the rainbow, and a thousand other wonders, it is not surprising one is unable to find words to express his opinion of it.

President Roosevelt says: "The Yellowstone Park is something absolutely unique in this world."

Rev. C. A. Payne, the well-known traveler and lecturer says: "It is simply the Almighty's masterpiece."

It must follow that with a set of magnificent colored views illustrating as they do the superlative beauty, the mighty grandeur, the splendid majesty of this wonderful creation, and with a suitable lecture to accompany them, a most unusual opportunity is offered for public entertainment that is both entertaining and educational.

Lantern Slides from Original Negatives Illustrating The Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona

No better description can be given than to quote Major Powell: "The whole scene is forever reminding you of mighty architectural phantasies and towers and balustrades and arches and columns with lattice work and delicate carving. All of these architectural features are sublime by titanic painting in various hues, pink, red, brown, lavender, gray, blue and black. In some lights the saffron prevails, in other lights vermillion, and yet in other lights the grays and blacks predominate."

No painter can convey the impression of titanic immensity; no photograph can give more than an idea of the reality, but in the series of views we have selected for our lecture sets, it is possible to give the best possible presentation on a scale larger than by any other method. A set of these views with the lecture or reading that accompanies them never fails to interest any audience.

The San Francisco Disaster The Greatest Calamity of Modern Times

Illustrated with Motion Pictures and Stereopticon Views.

Never in the history of this country has such a calamity occurred as that which in April, 1906, destroyed by earthquake and fire, the metropolis and pride of the Pacific Coast. The area destroyed was many times greater than that of either the Baltimore or Chicago fires, while twenty-five hundred people lost their lives, and many times that number were rendered homeless and destitute.

We have fifty stereopticon views, and a number of motion pictures that were taken about a year before the fire, and seventy stereopticon views, and a large number of motion picture views that were taken immediately after the catastrophe. The first series shows the magnificent city in all its splendor, while the second series shows the charred and twisted ruins, the great earthquake cracks, the improvised camps where both rich and poor are on an equal footing, feeding the refugees, etc.

Our stereopticon views are made from original negatives, and the slides are furnished colored only, which makes them more realistic and natural. These views have brought a sensation wherever shown, and should be made a part of every exhibitor's outfit.

Lantern Slides of San Francisco After Disaster, Supplementary List

The views in the following supplementary list, even though of the quality and possessing much interest of a character not found in the preceding list, were not included in the lectures for the reason that we were not fortunate enough to secure them until after the lectures were printed. A selection of views from this list would add much interest and value to either of the Frisco lecture sets.

Sights of Paris and the Exposition.

The Trocadero.

On rising ground and near the Pont de Jena, a handsome bridge built in the time of the First Napoleon and commemorating in its name his victory over the Prussians at the town of Jena, in 1806, is the Palace of the Trocadero, which derives its name from a Fort in Cadiz, taken by the French in 1823. The Palace is modeled after Oriental styles, and is occupied in part as a museum, contains reproductions of monumental sculpture in Europe since the Middle Ages, Chinese sculpture, curiosities and domestic objects illustrating the life and customs of various nations. It also contains a large concert hall capable of accommodating six thousand persons, and annually on July 14 (the great national holiday of France) the entire building is brilliantly illuminated, and then becomes a veritable palace of fire, every arch and column and pinnacle being marked out in dazzling lines of light.

No. 14—Column Vendome.

LOATED near the Place de l'Opera, which marks the junction of what bears the universal reputation of being the gayest and most brilliant thoroughfare in Europe is the Place Vendome, on which stands the mammoth Bronze Monument, Column Vendome, which is an imitation of Trojan's Column at Rome. This lofty shaft was erected by the First Napoleon to commemorate his victories over the Russians and Austrians in 1805. The bronze plates which form a spiral from base to top were made from cannon captured from the enemy and represent in bold relief the chief events of that campaign. Since its erection the column has more than once indicated political changes through which the country has passed. At first it was surmounted by a colossal statue of Napoleon the First, in the attire of a Roman Emperor, but in 1814 the Royalists replaced this by an immense Mar-de-lis. In 1831 Louis Philippe substituted that for a new statue of Napoleon the Third to a reproduction of the first statue. In 1871 the Communists overturned the column destroying many of the bronze plates, but the fragments were collected, new plates made for those which were broken, and the column erected in 1875.

No. 7—London Bridge.

THE most famous of all the bridges which cross the Thames within the city limits is called the London Bridge and was opened to traffic by King William the Fourth in 1831. It is constructed of granite and the lamp posts on its sides are said to have been cast from cannon captured from the French during the Spanish War. The cost was about eight millions of dollars. During twenty-four hours it is estimated that an average of twenty thousand vehicles and one hundred and twenty thousand pedestrians cross here from one side of London to the other. Standing on this connecting link between the two great sections of the world's metropolis one realizes the immensity of London. The city's population is nearly five millions, to which twenty-five hundred are added per week by birth and two thousand taken away by death. If the entire population of London were placed in single file eighteen inches apart they would extend a distance of twelve hundred miles, or further than from Chicago to Boston.

No. 10—Paris Panorama.

A TRIP to Europe would be very incomplete if it did not include a visit to Paris, the capital of what has been by turns the Empire, the Kingdom and the Republic of France. It is a most beautiful city and of it the French are justly proud. For many centuries the City of Paris changed but slowly and to no great extent, but under the Bourbons and the Bonapartes the changes have been great and rapid, until to-day the population numbers full two million souls and the appearance of the city has been entirely changed. In her wide, well-built, well-paved streets, her broad boulevards, her parks, fountains, arches, churches and bridges, she presents an appearance of extent and splendor and completeness unequalled by any city on the globe.

No. 21—Church of St. Basil, Moscow, Russia.

ONE of the most extraordinary buildings, not merely in Russia but of the world, is the Church of St. Basil. It was erected by Ivan the Terrible about three hundred years ago, and was placed over the grave of St. Basil, who was regarded as the prophet and miracle worker at that time. The architecture of St. Basil's is most wonderful. It has eleven beautiful towers of different forms, which are crowned with cupolas resembling the turbans of oriental giants. It is painted in all the colors of the rainbow, its cupolas being finished in gold or with brightly tinted tiles, and the effect of the variety of coloring can hardly be exaggerated. It shows almost every variety of architectural form and decoration, and so delighted Ivan the Terrible that he caused the architect's eyes to be put out in order that he might never erect a rival to it.

No. 27—Pisa.

LIKE Florence and Venice the City of Pisa also has been famous. It was founded by the Romans 180 years B. C., but beautified by the erection of many temples, theatres and triumphal arches. The celebrated "Leaning Tower" is close to the cathedral and was commenced in the year 1174. It consists of eight circular stories, the uppermost containing seven sonorous bells, the largest weighing upwards of 12,000 pounds. The total height of the tower is 180 feet, with an inclination from the perpendicular of 13 feet; it is ascended by an interior flight of 200 steps. Nothing can exceed the grace and lightness of the structure and nothing can be more remarkable than the general appearance. This wonderful piece of masonry together with others draw the lovers of art from every land to look on them.

No. 28—Castle of Chillon, Geneva, Switzerland.

GENEVA is most delightfully situated, lying as it does at the southern end of the lake, which is 55 miles in length, and commanding a charming view of the snow-clad chain of Mt. Blanc and is within a few hours' drive of Chamounix. It is the most beautiful, as well as the most popular of Swiss cities. Close to Montreux and only a rod or two from the shore is the Castle of Chillon. Count Peter of Savoy did much during the thirteenth century to enlarge and strengthen, as well as to beautify the castle, and it now remains much as he left it. A feature of special interest in the castle are the dungeons where prisoners of state were confined, and many good men who dared to assert their independence with reference to their faith. Among the many objects of special interest in Geneva are its historic souvenirs, stately hotels and elegant jewelry shops. In the manufacturing of watches Geneva holds a very prominent position, and its products are known the world over.

No. 44—Pyramids and Sphinx.

THAT which most prominently claims the attention of the tourist is the Pyramids, whence forty centuries look down upon us. The origin of these monstrous masses of stone was undoubtedly the desire of the Rulers of Egypt to perpetuate their memory. The Great Pyramid was the Mausoleum of Cheops, who ruled in Egypt more than three thousand years B. C. Its length on each side was 764 feet and it covered an area of more than thirteen acres. In the interior of the Pyramid is to be seen in the King's Chamber after a slippery, suffocating, descent of 320 feet a battered sarcophagus which is said to have served as a coffin of the Cheops. Near the Pyramid is the Sphinx, the huge image of one of the deities of the Ancient Egyptian.

No. 50—Roadside Tea House, Japan.

EVEN though it has been but a few years since the cities of Japan have been thrown open to foreign travel they have during these few years lost no time in assuming many European characteristics. In fact, so rapidly have these changes been brought about that the traveler who sees Japan of to-day sees but little of what it once was. The foreign dress and mode of arranging the hair have been very extensively adopted and numerous buildings are constructed on the European style. Electric lights, telephones and street cars no longer excite wonder. There is, however, an old custom, which probably will for many years be retained, and that is the use of the jinrikisha for the transportation of passengers. A man places himself between the shafts and plays the part of the horse for as many hours and as long a distance as the passenger cares to ride. In the foreground of this picture will be seen the jinrikisha, while in the background is the Roadside Tea House, where tea and other dainties are served as refreshments.

No. 77—Niagara Falls.

WHEN we consider that the Niagara River at the Falls has a normal width of nearly a mile, that it requires the drainage of half the continent to supply it, that its sources are some of them two thousand miles from here, and that eighty-five million tons of water are falling every hour a distance of 160 feet to the abyss below where it assumes a boiling, seething mass in its effort to pass through the narrow channel known as the Rapids, we have before us a subject which is too sublime, too grand, for minute description. The American Fall is about one thousand feet in width, which is about half the width of the Canadian Fall. The two are divided by Goat Island, which is reached from the American side by a bridge. As we stand on the edge of the precipice and view the mighty rush of water, the roar of which can be heard for many miles, we can scarcely realize that this wonderful spectacle existed before there were human eyes to see it.

China and the Chinese.

No. 16—Chinese Soldiers.

It is said that the Chinese Soldier never wears his full uniform except when he is upon particular duty. His uniform consists of a wide pair of drawers squeezed into his boots with stockings of quilted cotton, an under garment of blue or black cotton hangs loosely over them. The jacket is short, made of rankin cloth and bordered with red. In the center of the jacket immediately below the shoulder is a badge or patch of red cloth with black characters denoting his Company and Corps; a long que hangs down below the waist, and upon the head is worn a small cap covered with red hair. The weapons of the Chinese consist of bow and arrow, pikes, sabers, matchlocks, and muskets. Their arsenals at Foochow, Shanghai, Nankin and Tientsin, where warships, cannon, muskets, and all other war appliances are turned out under foreign superintendence. The army of China is magnificent "on paper" but in reality is exceedingly defective.

No. 21—Cat Sellers at their Work.

We may think it disgusting at the idea of having Pussy served up for dinner, but to the Chinese who do not even object to rats and mice for the flesh of monkeys and snakes, a tender kitten is not to be despised.

NOTE.—The above represents two sections taken from the Descriptive Reading on China, but we regret that for want of space we cannot give a better idea of the great treasure of knowledge contained in this set.

Japan and the Japanese.

.....70 VIEWS—WITH READING.....

THIS series deals with one of the most interesting countries of the world, and is of peculiar interest at the present time, due to the fact that the Japanese are rapidly acquiring a form of civilization such as exists in all modern and progressive countries. So rapidly is this change taking place that the traveler visiting their country is amazed to note how the picturesque quality of their architecture and their dress is disappearing. We have here preserved in a series of views all of the quaintness, picturesqueness and romance that is characteristic of the people and their world, before the march of progress had worked its changes.

54 VIEWS—BOOK FOR READING.

THIS SET is of a rather humorous character, illustrating Mark Twain's famous book of the same title. The series of pictures represents the great humorists' experience in Europe and Asia, and is described with his own pen. While of a humorous nature, the set is very instructive, and the reading contains much of interest regarding well-known places abroad.

...The Passing of the Indian....

No. 6—Pocahontas and John Smith.

IMPROBABLE as the romance may seem, we want to believe the story of Captain Smith and the lovely, dark-eyed Pocahontas. I would not give a snap of my finger for a man who had not any poetry or romance in his composition. Generations have been thrilled by the doubtful story of Pocahontas, and every Anglo-Saxon feels in his heart that if the story was not true it certainly should have been. The injustice that brought about the first sanguinary war between the white settlers and their Indian neighbors is a matter of history and need not be recalled. To-day there is scarcely a trace of the once powerful people who once called the Great Phillip their Sachem. It is a relief to turn from the New England Puritans and the Virginia Squash Indians and their career of extermination and study the different course pursued by William Penn in the province of Pennsylvania. His treaty with the Indians was inviolate during the seventy years that the Quakers controlled the province, and has been a model for statesmen ever since. He paid them for their lands, kept his word in all his agreements and this is almost the only instance of the kind in the early history of America.

No. 20—Sitting Bull. (On Advertising Poster.)

SITTING BULL has usually been considered the leader in the Custer massacre. This is an error. The real fighting leader at that time was Chief Gall, one of the bravest and most resourceful leaders that the Dakota Nation has produced. During the battle, Sitting Bull, who was a medicine man, was in his tepee making medicine—endeavoring to placate the Great Spirit and thus secure a victory for his people. After the battle Sitting Bull, with the remnant of his tribe, escaped across the line into Canada. A command headed by General Terry met Sitting Bull and his braves near Fort Walsh on the Canadian frontier. Full pardon for all past offenses was offered the old chief, and he was told that if he would peacefully return to the United States the Great Father at Washington would make a new treaty with the Sioux, which would be kept inviolate for all time. Sitting Bull had been crouching with the members of his family with his blanket drawn over his head. As General Terry caused speaking his blanket and slowly rose to his feet. "Why the old chief dropped the blanket and slowly rose to his feet. "Why should I go?" he asked. "Your government never keeps its promises with my people. If you can show me one single treaty ever made by the Great Father that was kept in good faith I and my people will go back with you," and General Terry in speaking of the matter afterwards said that he was compelled to confess with shame that he could not recall one such instance.

No. 13—Indian Mother and Pappoose.

BECOMING impatient at the government's delay in providing for them, the lower agency near Mankato, Minnesota, went on the war path. A force of United States troops was sent against them and after some of the Indians had been killed the others surrendered and were taken to Mankato as prisoners. At the subsequent trial thirty-eight were condemned to be hanged. The execution took place at one time and upon a single gallows at Mankato on December 26th, 1862. The punishment was just, but even at that time some of the white people failed to denounce those red murderers. While the Indian captives were being taken to Mankato with their women and children they were attacked and brutally beaten by citizens, and as a witness of the scene has said that one frantic white woman snatched the pappoose from the back of its Indian mother and raising it above her head dashed it to the ground so violently that it died in a few minutes.

Life Under a Circus Tent.

...Sets of 52 and 70...
Stereopticon Views with Reading, and Colored Advertising Posters

The author says "there is nothing in the amusement line that can so thoroughly stir the individual or that can turn a community topsy-turvy so successfully, but that a circus is something more than a huge entertainment joke." There's another side to it as told by one who for twelve years has acted in the capacity of advance agent for the World Renowned Ringling Brothers Circus. The story is exceedingly interesting, is humorous and pathetic and deals in such a masterly way with the inside features of a subject of general interest that it should draw good patronage wherever advertised.

The full set consists of seventy views, all colored but five, and the set of fifty-two is selected from the seventy.

The Advertising Posters in natural colors are very attractive and lend much to the successful advertising of the entertainments. See facsimile and prices on another page.

...Life Under a Circus Tent. ...

Part of the Introduction.

IT IS safe to say that nearly all the world loves a circus and there is nothing in the amusement line that can so thoroughly stir the individual man or that can turn a community topsy-turvy so successfully. Many are inclined, however, to look upon the Circus simply as an amusement, a kind of huge entertainment joke, but it is more than this. An institution that represents a capital of from one to three millions of dollars; employs nearly a thousand men, women and children; with average daily expenses of from three-to five thousand dollars; which spends $150,000.00 annually for advertising; which requires from forty to sixty double length railroad cars to carry it; which has upwards of three hundred high class horses and can comfortably seat from 8,000 to 12,000 persons—such an institution must be more than a mere amusement. It is a great industrial enterprise demanding study, patronage and respect.

No. 70—The Clowns.

THE Clowns are the hardest working people in the show. They are always at it and if it were not for them the Circus would be pretty flat. Nowadays there are no speaking clowns. The tents have grown so large people could not hear them. The clown has to depend on his actions for his work and not infrequently it happens that sev-

The Spanish-American and Filipino War.

52 VIEWS WITH READINGS.....
OF ALL the illustrated entertainment sets that have been produced, there probably never has been and may never be another of such universal merit as this one illustrating the Spanish-American and Filipino war. It appeals to the patriotism of the distant relative or near friend who was in the service, and they will gladly patronize anything that will freshen their memories and throw more light on the subject.

One of the strong elements in the success of a set of this kind is that the public seems never to tire of listening to war stories, but the story, for neither an internal rebellion or a war in or between foreign countries would appeal sufficiently to any very large portion of our country, for with the former the seat of trouble is so near home and brings so much devastation and suffering, that it's preferable to forget rather than to resurrect, and with the latter there's not enough personal interest in some other nations' troubles to afford the support that the exhibitor needs.

Not only has this set been our best in the past, but it continues to be in good demand and probably always will be popular. This set has the most earnest endorsement and should be included with the outfit of every traveling exhibitor.

The Spanish-American... and Filipino Wars.

ILLUSTRATED with 52 Transparent Photographic Views,
 10 of which are hand painted and show all the colors and tints of nature and 42 are shown in regular photographic tints.

(COLORED)

This view illustrates the unfair methods employed by the Spaniards in their warfare. Instead of fighting as other civilized nations they prefer to conceal themselves, oftentimes making overtures for peace in order to meet their opponents unawares. In the above illustration, which Spanish Treachery is the subject of the above illustration, which shows how the gallant Cuban General Maceo met his death.

Battle of Manila.

(COLORED)

ONE of the most thrilling and important events of the Spanish-American War is represented by the above picture. It shows the battleships in action in Manila Bay and how the Spanish squadron was destroyed in that most wonderful naval battle, heralded the world over as Admiral Dewey's Victory.

With a set of these most beautiful and valuable pictures together with the very interesting description of each, every entertainment should be a grand success and serve as an advertisement and a recommendation for future exhibitions.

416

225 DEARBORN ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
Devastation of Cuba.

THE awful sight presented by the above picture is but one of the many events of the kind which was reported from time to time during that long and most cruel war waged by Spain against the Cubans who were struggling to free themselves from the unbearable oppression.

Even the women, children and aged men were not exempt from

The Disgraceful Methods of Spanish Warfare.

So realistic are these views when shown with the mammoth high power Stereopticon which magnifies to life size or larger, and so faithful and interesting are the descriptions of the scenes that the audience will derive almost as much satisfaction as they would from a trip to the spot where the events happened.

The Japanese People, and The Russian-Japanese War

Set of Sixty Views, with Reading

Deals with a most interesting subject of the hour, and describes and illustrates one of the greatest of modern wars, which was waged by the weaker nation for the cause of justice. It pictures an interesting story of a brave, patriotic, honest, and extremely progressive people who have made the most rapid strides in the line of reform that stands to the credit of any nation.

This set is especially desirable for entertainments in churches, and in co-operation with missionary societies, as well as for general amusement work, owing to the fact that the awakening of this wonderful little nation is said to be due to the efforts of our foreign missionaries. The nature of this set is such that

IT APPEALS TO ALL CLASSES.

A Barrel of Money for You and A Barrel of Fun

For your patrons is what you may expect if you will equip yourself with an Enterprise Stereopticon outfit including the set of views and reading for same.

IT'S BRIMFUL OF HUMOR AND SIDE SPLITTING MERRIMENT From start to finish, and is equally appreciated by both old and young. A HUMOROUS STEREOTYPION SET of this kind has never before been offered for sale, so it's a BRAN NEW IDEA, but it's what the people want, and is MAKING A BIG HIT.

This new departure has been the means of putting New Life into this line of business, in fact it has worked a revelation, and exhibitors who are using it are showing to Crowded Houses Every Night at good prices and are Coaling Money. "Peck's Bad Boy" in book form, even though very sparingly illustrated, has been one of the best selling publications ever printed, is known everywhere and by nearly everybody, and when the large advertising posters are put up in conspicuous places, announcing that this funny story is to be superlative and profusely illustrated with the finest quality LIFE SIZE STEREOTYPION VIEWS representing every scene as natural as life.

THAT WILL BE ENOUGH AND THE HOUSE WILL BE CROWDED.

There's a big demand for Real Entertainment, especially for something humorous, and in the "Peck's Bad Boy" Set We've hit the Nail on the Head. It's full of sentiment, has a good moral effect, appeals to both adult and child, and affords them an opportunity to Laugh Off the Lines, and Forget all Their Troubles. In fact, it's brim full of fun from start to finish, one continuous round of pleasure. Think of the nearly Twenty Thousand small towns and villages in the United States, to say nothing of several times that number of country school houses, churches, etc., where people would come from miles around to see an entertainment of this kind.

THE LARGE SIZE ADVERTISING POSTERS arranged especially for this set, with attractive illustrations and excellent display are an important feature, and a great help to the exhibitor. Furthermore the views are not from drawings, but are made from Original Negative Photographs from LIFE MODELS, and everything is of the Best Throughout.

It's What the Public Wants, It's What You Want, It's the Acknowledged Leader, and is A WHIRLWIND AS A MONEY MAKER.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

The "Bad Boy" Series Motion Picture Films.

A selection from this series is especially valuable for use with the "Peck's Bad Boy and his Pal" set of stereoscopic views, but may be used to advantage with almost any set. They are full of action and as they are all humorous, they never fail to bring enthusiastic applause.

252 B-A CUBBY FOR "LOVE SICKNESS." A couple love-making in a picturesque garden. The youngster spoils it all by tying a bunch of firecrackers to the young man's coat tails, and setting them off. Very laughable results. Length 33 feet. Price.....$4.00

275 B-THE LAMP CHIMNEY LOADED. One of our most popular pictures. While the schoolmaster comes in to light the lamp. As he takes off the globe he is covered with flour. Length 33 feet. Price.....$4.00

327 B-THE BAD BOY INTERRUPTS THE MINISTER'S WEDDING. While the minister is courting the young lady of his choice, he is interrupted by the "Bad Boy" who dashes a spider in front of his nose. He jumps away in anger, much to his chagrin. The girl, thinking it intentional goes to the store. The minister is taken in front of a country grocery store. The grocerkeeper has put out a sign: "Nice Fresh Tomato Cakes for Sale." The "Bad Boy" by a quick change on the sign, causes it to read: "Nice Fresh Tomato Cakes for Sale," and hides behind a barrel. A country youth strolls in, stands and laughs at the sign, and the grocerkeeper comes out. He at once jumps to the conclusion that the country youth has made the change and proceeds to assault him, much to the amusement of the "Bad Boy." Length 28 feet. Price.....$3.40

408 B-A KIDNAP JOKES. ON HIS PA. A big hit. Scene in the kitchen with an old lady washing and old gentleman dozing by the fire. While his mother is outdoors hanging up clothes, the "Bad Boy" ties a cord to the back of his father's chair and attaches the other end to a towel in the wash tub. He pulls the old man's chair over, and as he falls with a crash he very amusing. Length 47 feet. Price.....$4.00

410 B-HIS PUTS A HEAD ON HIS PA. The "Bad Boy" paints a comic on his Pa's bald head while the old gentleman is sleeping in his chair. His sister comes in and is greatly startled at the sight. Seeing the boy sets the old man, and his sister falls over him, making an uproarious finish to a laughable scene. Length 40 feet. Price.....$4.00

420 B-A GOOD SHOT. The "Bad Boy" steals his father's old musket, and with his sister starts out to practice at a target. As luck would have it Mrs. Murphy, the washerwoman, was busy over her tubs on the opposite side of the fence, and received the charge in a very sensitive part of her anatomy. Length 28 feet. Price.....$3.40

492 B-THE "BAD BOY" TRIES A MECHANICAL EXPERIMENT. The "Bad Boy" finds his grandfather asleep in the rocking chair, and connects a swinging gold fish jar to the rocker with a cord. Grandpa wakes up, starts to rock, and tips the jar of water and gold fish upon his head, much to the boys' amusement. Length 33 feet. Price.....$4.00

76 B-THE OLD GENT AND THE NURSE IN TROUBLE. A young nurse is seated asleep on a bench with an infant in her lap, while opposite her is an old gentleman also snoozing. The "Bad Boy" and his chum enter upon the scene, one gets a small log about the size of a child and places it in the old gent's arms. In a few moments the old gent awakens and finds the baby, the nurse wakes up and misses her baby, and seeing the old gent's arms, seizes him and misses her baby, and seeing the old gent's arms, seizes him and misses her baby. A policeman marches them off to the station house. This picture is bound to provoke a great deal of mirth. Length 33 feet. Price.....$4.00

OUR NEW SET OF 42 VIEWS ILLUSTRATING Alice's Adventures
in Wonderland

Stands prominently AT THE HEAD OF THE LIST for the entertainment of children, and is far above the average for the amusement of the older folks.

A good set for the entertainment of children is always in great demand, owing to the greater numbers available, and also to the greater number that may be seated. Then too anything that will draw the children, bring the parents, Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, is a most delightful fairy story, and has without doubt had the largest sale of any book of the kind ever published. The views are all clear, sharp and comprehensive, while the story is superbly charming.

Complete Set of 22 plain and 20 Colored Views (42 in all) including our regular View Box.....$15.60
Book for Reading, large size, cloth bound extra.....1.00

The following is a list of the views. (For fac-simile of poster and further description see preceding page.)

- 1 The White Rabbit said to itself, "Oh, dear! I shall be too late!"
- 2 Alice looking for a means of escape.
- 3 She discovers a bottle containing a magic fluid.
- 4 She finds herself extended like a telescope.
- 5 Alice sadly grieved.
- 6 She swims in a pool of tears.
- 7 O mouse, do you know the way out of this?
- 8 The mouse tells its history.
- 9 "And who is Dinah?" asked the Lory.
- 10 Alice waits for Dinah.
- 11 A crash from broken glass.
- 12 She hears a queer scrambling in the chimney.
- 13 An enormous puppy was looking down at her.
- 14 Alice appeals to the caterpillar for advice.
- 15 Father William, "I fear it might injure your brain."
- 16 "Yet you turned a back somersault in at the door."
- 17 "In my youth," said the father, "I took to the law, and argued each case with my wife."
- 18 "Yet you balanced an eel on the end of your nose."
- 19 "Anything you like," said the Footman.
- 20 "There's certainly too much pepper in that soup."
- 21 "Don't grumt," said Alice, "that's not at all the proper way of expressing yourself."
- 22 "Would you tell me, please, which way I ought to go from here?"
- 23 But a grin without a cat.
- 24 A mad tea-party.
- 25 "Have you guessed the riddle yet?" the Hatter said.
- 26 And they put the Dormouse into the teapot.
- 27 Five and seven said nothing, but looked at Two.
- 28 Next came the grocer, mostly knives and queens.
- 29 The chief difficulty was in managing her Flamingo.
- 30 "Off with his head," said the queen, without even looking around.
- 31 "He what you would seem to be," said the Duchess.
- 32 They very soon came upon a Gryphon, lying fast asleep in the sun.
- 33 The Mock Turtle's story.
- 34 The Lobster Quadrille.
- 35 "You have baked me too brown, I must sugar my hair."
- 36 And the White Rabbit read:—
- 37 "The Queen of Hearts, she made some tarts all on a summer day."
- 38 In his confusion the Hatter bit a large piece out of his cup.
- 39 "You may go," said the king, and the Hatter hurriedly left the court.
- 40 Alice has grown to her natural size.
- 41 "Wait, there they are!" said the King, triumphantly, pointing to the tarts on the table.
- 42 At this the whole pack rose up in the air, Alice awoke, and said to her sister, "Ah, I've had such a curious dream."

Pose Slides.

These slides are known by the name of Poses, Plastique, Costume or Cloak slides. They get their name from the original method of projecting the slides, which was done by having a person pose before a black screen, usually a lady with a white dress and black cloak with a white lining. The cloak is made in the form of a kind of plain mantle, and along the front edges is provided with loops through which the arms are passed and by which the cloak is supported when the arms are spread out, in which position the cloak together with the white dress of the lady, forms a screen on which the picture from the lantern may be projected. The pictures blend with the costume in such a way, as to make it appear that it is either woven into or printed on the goods. The cloak should be closed, which will for this purpose having the background blacked out, shows only the picture from the slide.

Comic Stereopticon Slides.

A few Comic Slides will add much interest to a Stereopticon Lecture or Motion Picture Exhibition and the popularity and increasing demand for something new in this line has encouraged us to make up an entirely new list of comic slides in which we have combined originality, the best work and the most entertaining subjects.

We would suggest that the selection of comic slides be left to us, as it is impossible to give an accurate idea of slides of this kind from the title and abbreviated description. If the exhibitor will give us the subject of his lecture and what other features he is using in his entertainment, it will enable us to make a more satisfactory selection than probably he could do himself.

PRICES: Plain Comic Slides, each.....$0.35
Colored Comic Slides, each......50

Color adds much to the value of comics and they should always be ordered colored.

Best Motion Picture Machine on the Market.

EN ROUTE, SAGINAW, MICH., July 30, 1899.
GENTS:—Have been using your Optigraph Motion Picture Machine for nearly a year and have found it very satisfactory and believe it to be the best Motion Picture Machine now on the market. Have seen many so-called picture machines but none seem to enthrall an audience as the Optigraph, and your new model for 1899, with late improvements, is, in my judgment, the peer of all, and if it can be at late improvements. Please advise us the cost of same.
A waiting your prompt reply, I am, yours very truly,
J. W. H.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

Stereopticon Advertising.

A Profitable Business, to which you may devote all your time, or it may be conducted successfully after hours in your own town without interfering with regular daily employment or business.

While it is not generally known, a good income can be made by stereopticon advertising with a stereopticon alone, or in combination with a motion picture machine. Advertisers are ready to patronize gains, before the public, and this method, we believe, is not surpassed by any, but good as it is, it has been worked very little.

Arrangements can be easily made with from twenty to thirty merchants at a time, to show their advertisement from four to six times during the evening either a single slide or a series. The advertising regular comic list, scenic views, etc., to keep up the interest, and an occasional motion picture view will add much to the value, but is not imperative.

At great expense, we have prepared a large list of designs suitable for representing almost any kind of business. Each slide has an attractive design, comic drawing, cartoon or lettering in attractive form, with blank space for name and address. Each slide is colored to make them more natural and interesting. The name and address of the dealer or a list of special bargains may be written or printed in with a pen and India ink.

Price of Advertising Slides colored only, each,$0.50

We have several different kinds of slides for the different kinds of business, which affords an opportunity for selection, or to run a series for the same advertiser.

Special slides for advertising will be made to order when desired, where copy is furnished us. The expense will be the same as listed on price list when special slide work. If we are to make the copy, price will depend on the amount of work required to produce what is wanted.

Any further information desired with reference to the advertising slide business will be cheerfully furnished.

Illustrated Song Views, (COLORED ONLY) FOR THE STEREOPTICON.

Illustrated Songs have become one of the most popular means of entertaining the public. The views for illustrated songs consist of a series of pictures which represent the most important acts described in the song, and are projected by the Stereopticon, while the song is rendered by a vocalist or a Talking Machine. They are hand-painted by a specialist and are of life-size, and when they are shown with the showing all the colors of nature, and when they are shown with the Stereopticon enlarged to life-size they are very realistic.

If the exhibitor does not sing and does not care to engage a regular vocalist or use a talking machine, it is most always possible to secure the services of a local vocalist to assist in the entertainment, and as entertainments are usually given under the auspices of the church or some society, the services will usually be donated, and by reason of local talent being represented it creates much additional interest in the entertainment. The vocalist is usually pleased to have an opportunity to sing, as it increases his or her popularity.

THE TALKING MACHINE affords an excellent means of producing songs to accompany Stereopticon illustrations. The song producing songs to accompany Stereopticon illustrations are loud, clear and distinct, and the novelty of the all-mechanical entertainment, helps to charm the audience. When the talking machine is used for producing song slides, tenor or soprano slides will be sufficient. It is best records cannot be had for all the songs, and as the list of records are constantly changing and the forms and sizes differ, it is best to make selections of songs you like and write us for the information. We have marked these slides for which we are able at the time of compiling this catalogue to get Talking Machine Records. For disc records the mark is "(D)," for cylinder records "(C)" and for both disc and cylinder "(D.C.)"

MSIC will be furnished when desired, and with few exceptions the price is 35 cents. Orchestration when desired should be ordered of the publishers, names of whom will be furnished on application. $0.50

What Our Customers Say

Finds it a Very Profitable Business.

BOSCOBEL, WIS., NOV. 19.
CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.
GENTLEMEN—Have been using your combination moving picture and calcium gas machine for the past year and must say that I am meeting with grand success. By adding to my outfit now and then I am now in a position to give a high class entertainment and find the secret of my success in using my advertising matter liberally. I know of no business where the profits are so large and the returns so quick as this.
Yours for success,
W. W. B.

Quick and Large Returns.

SEDALIA, MO.
CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.
GENTLEMEN—If you remember I started out a short time ago with one of your combination outfits, and am now successfully working the street fairs, and opera house circuit. At first I was a bit skeptical as to the success of my venture, but am now thoroughly convinced there is no other business I know of that pays such quick and large returns as this. Wishing you the success that I am now enjoying, I remain,
E. S.

Nice, Clean and Easy Business.

KANSAS CITY, MO.
CHICAGO PROJECTING CO., Chicago, Ill.
GENTLEMEN—I have used one of your combination stereopticon and moving picture machines for the past two years, and have succeeded beyond my fondest hopes. I have confined my work to school houses and churches and have averaged from $20.00 to $50.00 per night. To anyone wishing to enter a nice, clean and easy business, on a small investment I would certainly advise them to get a combination outfit at once.
Yours for business,
T. F. N.

SONGS THAT NEVER GROW OLD.

Killarney. (D.C.)

- 1 By Killarney's Lakes and Fells.
- 2 Mountain Patis and Woodland Dells.
- 3 (Chorus) In that Eden of the West.
- 4 Every Rock that you pass by.
- 5 Bright-Hued Berries Daff the Snows.
- 6 (Chorus) Angels Often Pausing There.

Light of the World.

- 1 I Heard the Bells at midnight pealing.
- 2 I saw the Blessed Mother Kneeling.
- 3 And then I heard the sound of weeping
- 4 I saw an Angel shining clear.
- 5 And still the Ages tell the story
- 6 For us He lives and reigns in Heaven

Star of Bethlehem. (D.C.)

- 1 I sat beside my window.
- 2 There rose one radiant Star.
- 3 On many a garret Bare.
- 4 And many a homeless wanderer
- 5 I rose, as borne on wings.
- 6 And then the gates rolled backward.

The Holy City. (D.C.)

- 1 Last night I lay a sleeping.
- 2 I stood in old Jerusalem
- 3 He thought the voice of angels
- 4 The streets no longer rang.
- 5 Upon a lonely hill
- 6 I saw the Holy City.

Old Kentucky Home. (D.C.)

- 1 The sun shines bright in the Old Kentucky Home.
- 2 (Chorus) Weep no more, my lady, Weep no more to-day.
- 3 They sing no more by the glimmer of the moon.
- 4 The time has come when the darkies have to part.
- 5 A few more days and the trouble all will end.
- 6 A few more days till we todder on the road.

Star Spangled Banner. (D.C.)

- 1 Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light.
- 2 And the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air.
- 3 On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep.
- 4 And where is that band who so valiantly swore
- 5 Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
- 6 And this be our Motto, in God is our trust.

Marching Through Georgia. (D.C.)

- 1 Bring the good old bugle, boys
- 2 How the darkies shouted
- 3 Yes, and there were Union men
- 4 Sherman's dashing Yankee boys
- 5 So we made a thoroughfare
- 6 Hurrah! Hurrah! we bring the Jubilee.

Swanee River (D.C.)

- 1 Way down upon the Swanee River far far away;
- 2 Dere's where my heart is turning ebbin', Dere's where the old folks stay
- 3 All up and down the whole creation sadly I roam
- 4 (Chorus) All the world am sad and dreary everywhere I roam
- 5 All around de little farm I wandered when I was young
- 6 When I was playing wid my brudder happy was I
- 7 One little hut among de bushes one day I love
- 8 When will I see de bees a humming all around de comb

America (D.C.)

- 1 Land where my fathers died.
- 2 I love thy rocks and rills
- 3 Let a music swell the breeze and bring from all the trees
- 4 Long may our land be bright with Freedom's holy light

Home Sweet Home (D.C.)

- 1 Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home
- 2 An exile from home splendor dazzles in vain
- 3 How sweet 'tis to sit 'neath a fond father's smile
- 4 To thee I return overburdened with care.

$500.00 for Two Evenings.

CALUMET, MICH., February 1st, 1896.
DEAR SIRS:—The Optigraph came to hand in good order, and, while I have been somewhat skeptical, I must confess I am quite surprised in the operation of the machine. It works to perfection; have given two public exhibitions to nearly two thousand people and they are simply delighted. Words of compliments reached me on all sides. The machine is all you claim for it and is a little wonder.

Yours truly,
FRED. T. W.
Note:—From the above you will see that he says that he had an attendance of nearly 2,000 people at two entertainments. Figuring the average price of admission at 25 cents, his receipts would amount to $500.00 for the two evenings. Testimonials from most of the more successful exhibitors we cannot get as they advertise the machine under another name, believing it is best to give people the impression that they have something which no one else has, and for this reason they do not wish to make a contradictory statement in a letter. Most of the prominent exhibitors use the "Optigraph" while the audience believe it to be some other machine.

GOOD AMUSEMENT PAYS BIG RETURNS.

With a Stereopticon and Motion Picture Outfit illustrating some interesting subject, your services are always in demand and when the merit of your entertainment is known, the engagements WILL COME TO YOU.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

Outfits.

With a view to assisting the prospective purchaser in the selection of his outfit and figuring cost on the same we submit a number of combinations that are suited to various requirements. They are all complete with the exception of films in the outfits that include Motion Picture Machines. It is best to include ten or more Motion Picture Films where the means available will permit, but in cases where it will not, we advise including as many as possible and adding more from the profits of the business.

Outfits Nos. 50 to 68† inclusive are suited to the requirements of the Traveling Exhibitor. Those from 80 to 86 inclusive are for Nickel Theatres, and those from 90 to 94 inclusive are adapted to the requirements of those who wish to do Street Advertising.

Great Successes are the result of things "well done." To do your work well you must have a good outfit. We have only that kind, and can start you right.

On the Side. Mr. E. of Elmhurst, Ill., a traveling salesman, gives about 100 shows per season. Average receipts $25.00 to $30.00. Gives one-fourth for use of church or hall. Makes all dates by correspondence.

$2,500 a Year on the Side. Mr. Campbell, superintendent of a school in this state, says he averages about six entertainments a month with Stereopticon and Motion Pictures, and clears about $2,500.00 per year besides his school income.

Think of It. The average attendance in this city at the Holmes lectures (Stereopticon and Motion Picture Views) for this season was about 3,500 each evening. Eight evenings and five afternoons. Admission averaged about seventy-five cents each.

CHICAGO PROJECTING CO.,

Motion Picture Exhibition Tents.

The black canvas tent with black cotton flannel lining, has been designed especially to meet the requirements of motion picture and stereoscopic exhibitors, who wish, during the summer time, to be entirely free from the renting of halls, etc., and especially for those who wish to give exhibitions at street fairs, picnics, county and state fairs, summer parks, etc. Being of double thickness and made of black material, it can be used for either day or evening entertainments. The outside of the tent is made of heavy black cotton duck or drill, and will shed the rain.

With a tent of this kind the exhibitor can stop for several days or weeks in the same town with the minimum of expense. He has no rent to pay, the tent always attracts attention, and is cooler than a building. The customary method when using a tent at fairs, etc., is to give short exhibitions of one-half hour each, making the admission appropriate to the locality. All of these tents are made up and roped in the regular showman's style, and nothing but good material and the best workmanship is used.

The banners and flags as shown above are not included at prices quoted on following page. We make to order any style or size of banner that may be desired. Prices on banners and flags will be furnished on application. In writing for prices on banners please state as clearly as possible what is wanted, or that you would like to have our opinion or advice in the matter.

We list both an A and a B grade, the difference being in the quality of the material. Some dealers list only one grade, which is the same quality as our B grade, but we recommend the A grade as being worth far more than the difference in price.

As tents are made only to order, customers must send the full amount of cash. We cannot send them O.O.D., but we guarantee them to be exactly as represented. About a week will be required to fill orders.

The above cut gives a good general idea of the outside of the tent. On the following page will be found the ground plan, sizes and prices.

Special Tent 10 ft. Sidewall in front and 14 ft. Sidewall in back.

22 x 30 " 10 " 158.00

The above quotations are for the "B GRADE" tents. For the "A GRADE" tents add 10 per cent to the body price only. Lining and poles is the same price in either case. The "A GRADE" includes the finest grade material, the greatest care in making up and will warrant the additional expense. We also make a "C Grade" tent in black only but do not recommend it. Prices will be quoted on application.

These prices are for tents with 15 inch curtain, scalloped, bound with scarlet braid on outside. Tents with same curtain on outside and plain 2 1/2 inch cloth at bottom of wall will cost 10 per cent extra on above prices.

We solicit inquiries from any who are interested, and shall be pleased to furnish any further information regarding tents, outfits, etc., that may be desired.

...The Talking Machine... FOR PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT.

There is no question but that the up to date Talking Machine has a permanent place in the field of Public Entertainment, and recent improvements have still further enhanced its value by making it possible to reproduce perfectly the productions of the world's most famous vocalists, to say nothing of its wonderful rendition of Band, Orchestra and Talking selections, which never fail to please the most critical audience.

The talking machine has recently entertained Kings, Queens and Emperors, besides the world's most exclusive society, hence, there is no reason why it should not become a part of every entertainment outfit. Its usefulness is not alone in the general production of Vocal, Band, Orchestra and Talking Songs with Stereopticon Views, a feature that never fails to charm the audience.

While we recommend the talking machine outfit as an auxiliary or addition to our Stereopticon and Motion Picture Outfits, it is possible to do a profitable business with the talking machine outfit alone. Then too, where an outfit is desired principally for home amusement it may very quickly return its cost by giving one or more public entertainments, after which an endless amount of pleasure may be derived from it without cost.

The selection of a Talking Machine for Public Entertainment work is, however, a question of the most vital importance, as nothing but the very best and latest improved machine and records will produce satisfactory results, before a large audience and sustain the pride of the exhibitor, without which he is liable to soon become discouraged and give up a golden opportunity.

For Public Entertainment we recommend and urge the use of the Improved Disc Machine and the Improved 10 Inch Disc Records. The improved Disc Machine and the Improved 10 Inch Disc Records are very loud, clear, distinct and natural, and can be distinctly heard in the most remote parts of large halls, churches and theaters. The Disc Records are not only far superior to the wax cylinder records in quality and quantity of tone, but they may be carried in very small space—without fear of breakage, and a feature of even greater importance to the exhibitor is that one Disc Record will outwear three wax records.

Talking Machines and Records are being improved from month to month, in fact the changes and improvements are so numerous that its development is a constant evolution, with nothing short of phenomenal results in quality and volume of tone. Jean De Rizek, one of the world's most famous singers says: "It reproduces the human voice to perfection." In fact its productions have often been taken for that of the living performer.

In consideration of the numerous and important improvements, it is of the utmost importance that you place your order where the sales are large, hence the stock always new, fresh and up-to-date.

We make a specialty of Talking Machines for Public Entertainment purposes and handle nothing but the latest improved especially best goods. Our Machines and Records are manufactured especially for us by the largest and best equipped factory in the world and every detail of their construction has been given the most careful attention, thus making them especially adapted to this class of work.

Our line is very complete and includes a number of novel specialties.

If you want the best in this line, as in any other line, you must go to those who make a specialty of the business.

WE FULLY GUARANTEE all machines sold by us and will cheerfully refund money if not found as represented.

New Process Improved Disc Records.

So much has been said and so many claims made as to the superiority and quality of various forms and types of records that every known adjective of praise has been used over and over again, but we want you to know that the development of recent New Process Disc Records of the factory has placed our sound records, and that in the laboratories of the factory far in advance of all other sound records.

We are constantly adding new selections to our catalogue, and we are selling the FINEST DISC RECORDS ever produced, records that are in a class by themselves.

A trial will convince you that for volume, musical quality and absence of annoying scratch, these records are not approached; and that are in a class by themselves.

Another most important feature in which our disc records excel is in the laboratory of the factory far in advance of all other sound records.

Send for one of our Improved Disc Records, compare it with any other style of record, and if you are not convinced of the great superiority of these records, return them to us and get your money back.

All selections listed herein are furnished in BOTH 7-INCH and 10-INCH RECORDS except when otherwise specified. The 10-inch Record is much longer, and has greater volume and roundness of tone.

10-INCH DISC RECORDS, Price Each 35c

7-INCH DISC RECORDS, Price Each 60c

10-INCH DISC RECORDS, Price Each 60c

Disc Records will be Sent by Mail at Purchasers' Risk for 15 Cents in Addition to the Price of each Record.

.....HOW TO ORDER.....

Always specify whether 7-inch or 10-inch records are desired. Designate the selections by their numbers only.

State whether you wish us to ship by express or freight. If this is not done we use our judgment as to method of shipping.

The nature of the record-making business is such that it is impossible to avoid occasionally running out of some selections. We recommend customers to make a double list, giving first and second choice, the second choice of which we are out, we will substitute other choice, the second choice of which we are out, to the preferred selections of which we are out of stock, to the records of our own choice for any which may be out of stock, to the extent necessary to send the full quantity of records ordered.

14-inch Records, each $2.00

Just on the Market. Not LOUDER than the 10-inch, but LONGER.

IF INTERESTED, SEND FOR LIST.

We can furnish anything in the Talking Machine line. If you don't find what you want listed in this catalogue, write us about it. Our Records can be used on ANY MAKE of Disc Talking Machine.

$18.50 Public Exhibition $18.50 TALKING MACHINE OUTFIT

This outfit is complete in every detail and is furnished with everything that is necessary to give a Public Entertainment and should in almost any locality pay back its cost from the proceeds of one or two entertainments. The large horn is 35 inches in length, 12 inches in diameter, is made of steel and has japanned finish. This horn will give excellent results but must not be compared with our Mammoth Aluminum Ampliphone, the name of which has been limited by some other houses.

The Records and other accessories in this outfit are of the very best quality and we most heartily recommend it to those who do not feel able on the start to purchase a more expensive outfit. When so defectable and also very popular for home amusement. $15.75

Terms---How to Order, Etc.

Our Guarantee. We Guarantee Every Instrument sold by us to be exactly as represented, to work perfectly and give satisfaction. Should any error occur or any goods not give satisfaction from defective material or workmanship, it will be gladly corrected by us.

Our Very Liberal Terms. We will send any one of our complete Exhibition Outfits, either the Stereopticon Lecture, or Motion Pictures, to any Express Office, C. O. D., and subject to a thorough examination, on receipt of $5.00 with order as a guarantee of good faith. After the Outfit is examined if it is found exactly as represented, perfectly satisfactory and a wonderful opportunity to make money, the express agent may be paid the balance and the express charges, but if not found as represented by us the outfit can be returned to us at our expense and we will refund the $5.00 deposited. Where two outfits are desired we will require a deposit of $5.00. Stereopticons, or Motion Picture Machines will be shipped on receipt of $5.00 with order, and miscellaneous goods, supplies, etc., will be shipped upon receipt of 10 per cent. of the amount of the order. Orders amounting to less than $2.00 should be accompanied by cash in full.

We cannot under any circumstances send goods C. O. D. to foreign countries.

The prices listed in this catalogue are strictly net.

Cash with Order. When cash in full accompanies the order the customer saves not only the express company's charges for collection and return of money, but also the trouble of unpacking and examining the machine and outfit at the express office is avoided. The outfit can be thoroughly examined at your own home, and if everything is not found to be exactly as represented and a big money making opportunity, it can be returned to us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Our Reliability. As to our reliability, we refer to any bank, any of the express companies, or any old reliable business house in this city. We are well known in the mail order business, and if you have not already had dealings with us, and there is any doubt in your mind as to our reliability, it will be an easy matter for you to learn of our reputation for fair and honorable dealing. If you would like to know more about us, and you have any friends living in or near this city, we would be very glad to have them call on us and report to you the result of their visit.

How to Send Money. Remit by postoffice money order, express money order, bank draft or cash in registered letter. If you send your individual check on a local bank your order will be delayed until we have made collection (except that you have it certified) and the expense of collecting will be deducted. Postage stamps will be accepted in any amount as an accommodation to our customers. We recommend sending an express or post office money order, as they are inexpensive, less trouble and perfectly safe. If they should get lost or be miscarried your loss would be made good. Do not send money or stamps to the amount of more than $1.00 without registering your letter.
